SCHOOL PROBE TO BE STARTED

Chairman Delaney Tells Teachers Committee is to Make an Investigation

Informers Instructors They Must Expect to be Asked Pointed Questions

Chairman Thomas B. Delaney of the school committee told the members of the Lowell Teachers' organization at a dinner in Normal school hall last night that the committee is soon to start a vigorous investigation into school conditions of the city, that the instructors are to be summoned into conference to help solve troublesome problems and that they may expect to be asked pointed questions that some of them may consider "impertinent." Mr. Delaney said that the schools are now living on the traditions of the past. "Massachusetts once led in educational matters," the speaker said. "Now we hear much about what is being done in Cleveland and other places."

THOMAS B. DELANEY

BOSTON COLLEGE DRIVE EXTENDED

Total Is Within Half Million of Two Million Dollar Mark

Lowell People Give Generously — Donation From Pres. Lowell of Harvard

The total sum donated for the Boston college campaign fund of two million dollars is nearing the $1,500,000 mark. The executive committee of the campaign organization has voted to extend the drive until Monday next. Included in the list of special contributions yesterday was one of $500 from President Lowell of Harvard college, and the opinion was generally expressed among friends of Boston college today that while the donation was a very generous one the broad spirit manifest is more to be appreciated.

AUTO ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED TODAY

Today, at the Colonial restaurant, the Automobile Merchants' association of the city of Lowell was duly organized.

The officers elected were Geo. R. Dana, president; George F. White, first vice president; Arthur J. Cummings, second vice president; Fred Emerson, treasurer; L. E. Studley, secretary.

The purposes for which this association has been formed, as stated in the by-laws, are as follows: To promote good fellowship and co-operation among the dealers. To combat any legislation detrimental to and work for any legislation beneficial to the automobile industry. To elevate the standards of the business to a higher level. To work for the elimination of trade evils and promote clean competition. To promote any and all projects which may be put forth from time to time of benefit to the trade. To protect the general public in the purchase of automobiles, new or used.

It will be noted that the objects of this association are such that with the membership, which to start with numbers about 18, they should accomplish a great deal of good in general.

FIND BLOOD-STAINED BELT IN CLOSET

Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith is still awaiting a conference with District Attorney Tufis relative to the death of Mrs. John Kalapotharakos, whose bruised body was found in her home, 57 Cheever street, Tuesday evening. The police have found a blood-stained belt in the closet of the dead woman's home. Her husband, who disappeared a short time before her death, has not been apprehended.

GOVERNOR SIGNS NEW CHARTER BILL

PRITCHARD REFUSES TO TAKE STRIKERS BACK

Another unsuccessful attempt to bring about a settlement of the differences existing between the executives of the Lowell Gas Light Co. and a number of its employees who formerly worked at the School street plant of the company, was made today when Mayor Perry D. Thompson and several of the municipal commissioners visited C. R. Pritchard, general manager of the plant, at his office.

The members of the city government stated that they were requested by representatives of the strikers yesterday to bring to the attention of the company management some of the features of the disagreement which has arisen between the company and its employees and to ask that the strikers be taken back, if possible.

Manager Pritchard, however, maintained the stand he had taken on previous occasions, saying that the company had hired in the place of the strikers many men with families and that they had been brought here with a promise of permanent employment. He did not feel that he could discharge these men.

It is understood that the company has served notice on a number of its former employees who have occupied houses owned by the company to vacate within 30 days.

ASQUITH FLAYS IRISH POLICY

Says Claim of Military Considerations Preventing Recognition Exaggerated

LONDON, May 12.—Former Premier Asquith, long a champion of home rule for Ireland, took occasion in a public speech last evening to remind his hearers that just a year ago he had been an advocate of the plan of giving Ireland the same status as that enjoyed by the self-governing dominions. "If England were arraigned at the bar of history there is only one indictment that we would be afraid to face, and that would be in connection with our policy in Ireland," he said.

In regard to the argument that Great Britain is prevented from recognizing the claim of Ireland by military considerations, he said that in his opinion the difficulties supposed to be involved in this question of strategic safety were grossly exaggerated. "If the validity of this argument were acknowledged it would be obligatory," he said, "to recognize the right of the United States to establish a political domination of Canada in order to protect its frontiers."

KILLED IN CAMBRIDGE

Clarence Boothby Victim of Automobile Accident in Massachusetts Avenue

Clarence Boothby, 18, living at 105 School street, this city, was killed almost instantly as the result of an automobile accident in Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, about 12.30 this afternoon. His body is now at Litchfield's undertaking rooms in Cambridge, awaiting an investigation by the Cambridge medical examiner.

According to the story told by the police of Division 2 of Cambridge, Boothby was coming down Massachusetts avenue at the time of the accident, and directly behind him was a seven and a half ton truck owned by Louis Soverinsky of Portland street, Cambridge, and driven by Arthur Myott of Cambridge. The driver of the truck, in endeavoring to turn from Massachusetts avenue into Blanch street, Cambridge, failed to see the motorcyclist and a collision occurred in which Boothby was thrown from his machine. The ambulance was summoned but the Lowell youth was dead before he reached the hospital.

Boothby lived in School street with Arno L. Kinney and was employed as a pajamaker. He was 15 years old last September. His body will be forwarded to Lowell after the medical examiner in Cambridge has completed his investigation.

Head of British Secret Service in Russia Describes Conditions There

Sir Paul Dukes, former head of the secret service of the English government in Russia, in his second appearance before a Lowell audience addressed members of the Highland club in the club hall last evening on his experiences in Russia and gave a most graphic portrayal of present day conditions in that land.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the club of which Orrin A. Webster is chairman. There was a very large attendance of members and the affair was successful in every respect. Sir Paul was introduced by Chairman Webster, who referred in a laudatory tone to the lecturer's ability to bring first-hand information to his listeners and to tell his story as one who has been "on the inside" of governmental affairs.

Sir Paul supplemented his remarks with stereopticon slides that helped to bring vividly before the minds of those

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING

The local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company has just returned from a three days' conference held in Boston, and brings home the good word of a decidedly reflected improvement in the general business conditions of the country. The meeting was called by Supl. C. F. Ames of the territory comprising Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, conducted by Mr. T. W. Carroll, general manager, and Mr. A. C. Kaufman, general commercial agent of the company of New York.

Mr. Dunn advises that the information received at the meeting strongly brought out the fact of vastly improved general conditions throughout the country as reflected by the telegraph which is a safe barometer of business conditions. The business reaction so far registered throughout the country is of a very healthy nature and business concerns all over the country that are really bidding and pressing for business are being rewarded with growing orders; that reports emanating from well established and authenticated commercial sources point out unerringly that the tide is now turning. This quickening of the general business pulse is reflected in the fact that the American people are spending as much with city retail shops as they did at this time last year, and the prevailing prices are such that the buyers are getting more for their money. Stabilization has grown to the extent that the markets are apparently unresponsive to bad news and are quite susceptible to good news. The obligation of the telegraph company during the adjustment period was fully and forcibly reviewed with the attending managers, and great stress was laid upon the personal responsibility each employee sustains at this important time when the telegraph is playing so large a part as a first aid to business reconstruction.

BISMARCK, N. D., May 12.—The people of North Dakota have won their fight against the business interests fighting the Non-Partisan league program," says William Lemke, attorney general. Lemke has returned from a tour of the leading cities in the United States, where he explained the North Dakota financial situation and arranged for sales to the people direct of parts of the state's $5,000,000 bond issue. The bonds were authorized by the 1919 legislative session here controlled by the Non-Partisan league. Since then the state has been unable to dispose of them, with the result no money has been available to carry out the league's industrial program enacted into law. Lemke predicts that the entire issue of $5,000,000 will be sold within ninety days, and that enough money will be on hand to resume work within a month on the state mill and elevator project at Grand Forks. He says the mill and elevator will be completed by Oct. 1, in time to handle the fall crop. "The interests combined against the league had us scared for a while last winter," says Lemke. "But now things are going differently and the shoe is pinching on the other foot. "The campaign I have carried on throughout the country has been educational in its nature and highly successful. I have gone directly to the people and told them the truth about North Dakota finances. "The bank of North Dakota is the state itself, and therefore cannot be wrecked. It is as strong as the state itself with $3,000,000,000 resources back of it. The bank made a net profit of $309,000 the first 18 months of its existence. "More than 25,000,000 people in the United States are solidly behind the industrial and labor program of North Dakota. Among those interested and who have subscribed for our bonds are leading statesmen and educators of the nation. "Our bonds are the best security in America. "The total indebtedness of North Dakota, outside this bond issue, is 40 cents per capita, compared to $15 in New York. "North Dakota is assured of success in its new day industrial program." A DISPUTE: Lace and mat crepe are about to dispute for first place in the dress vogue. Undenbably, the latter is gaining in popularity. The forests of Western Siberia are stated to be 200,000,000 acres in extent.

U. S. HEIRESS BECOMES VICOMTE'S BRIDE

Miss Violet Selfridge, daughter of the American merchant prince of London, is shown with her husband, Vicomte Jacques de Sibour, of an old French family. They were married in London a few days ago.

The bride's father, H. Gordon Selfridge, formerly of Chicago, introduced the American department store to London. The picture was taken at Highcliffe Castle, Hampshire, where the ex-kaiser stayed on his last visit to England. It is now the Selfridge country estate. Selfridge insisted his daughter wed a man who worked, so the vicomte took a job, for a while, in the Selfridge store.

GOV. MILLER'S AID WOULD FREE MRS. O'DELL

NEW YORK, May 12.—In the coffin containing the body of James O'Dell, executed at Sing Sing, April 25, is the picture of his baby girl, Mildred Naomi O'Dell.

Placed to a piece of cardboard and stained with his tears, the picture of the little one whom he had never seen, is pressed over his heart.

The mother of Mildred, and little Mildred herself, are locked in a cell at Auburn prison. The baby had been named Gloria, but just before her father went to the electric chair he asked that she be named Naomi, and his wife, complying with the request, gave her the name of Mildred Naomi.

That had been the name of James O'Dell's mother.

On the desk of Governor Miller is a formal request from more than 10,000 persons, asking him to commute the sentence of Mrs. O'Dell so that she may take baby Mildred and start life anew.

The governor has given no indication of what he will do. But his chief adviser, Owen Potter, delegated to ascertain all the facts in the case and submit them with recommendations, has announced that he is strongly in favor of executive clemency.

James O'Dell and his wife were convicted of slaying Edward Kneip in Rochester, after Kneip had brazenly confessed to wrecking the life of Mrs. O'Dell.

O'Dell was arrested, charged with murder, convicted and sentenced to death. His wife, likewise convicted of complicity, was sentenced to Auburn prison for 20 years. Two weeks after she arrived there baby Mildred was born.

Just before his execution O'Dell wrote a tender note to his wife and a note to his little girl, which is to be held for her until she is able to read. Warden Lawrence says that when these notes were read by veteran prison

ARRAIGNMENT OF LOUD POSTPONED

BOSTON, May 12.—The arraignment of Clarence W. Loud, who is charged with the murder of Policeman James A. Preston of Wakefield on the night of April 9, will not take place today because of motions filed yesterday afternoon in the superior criminal court at East Cambridge by Judge Malcolm E. Sturtevant, counsel for Loud.

Three motions were filed by Judge Sturtevant, the first two asking that the indictment against Loud be quashed and the third asking that Loud's attorneys be allowed to examine all papers in connection with the case.

The first motion to quash the indictment alleges that the indictment was returned by the grand jury did not contain the necessary legal verbiage and did not contain the words "with malice aforethought." In connection with the crime, and that the indictment does not fully set forth any crime known to law.

The second motion to quash was in the form of a plea in abatement, and it alleges that the indictment does not state whether the crime was in the first or second degree. It also alleges that when the evidence was presented to the grand jury statements and declarations were made by the district attorney which were irrelevant.

The last motion says that the defense wants a transcript of all evidence presented to the grand jury, the names of all witnesses and a list of all exhibits; also the right to inspect and examine the transcript of the evidence and all exhibits.

HAVE WAR EXPERIENCE OFF GOLDEN GATE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The war has been over for several years, but these two young aviators recently had a taste of warfare that was never equalled even in France.

Sergeant Thomas J. Fowler and

SGT. THOMAS J. FOWLER
PVT. KENNETH H. LAWRENCE

Private Kenneth H. Lawrence were aerial observers during a recent target practice held off the golden gate.

Motor trouble began at an altitude of about 2000 feet. Their engine stopped dead, and Sergeant Fowler started to vibrate.

They were headed directly for the floating target at which the huge guns from the land forts were firing, thirteen miles away.

While falling they frantically wrestled the fort to "cease firing," but without success. For just as the plane struck the water a shot ricocheted directly under the wings of their plane.

During the time they were in the water, shells continued to fall about them. They finally managed, however, to get out of range. A tug later picked them up, uninjured. Their plane sank and was lost.

TAFT URGES SUPPORT OF B. C. DRIVE
BOSTON, May 12.—Ex-President William Howard Taft was unable to speak at the Boston college fund meeting held in Faneuil hall yesterday, as he was obliged to leave on the 11 p. m. train. He regretted that he had not the time to make the address on behalf of the drive and gave the following statement to Hon. John F. Fitzgerald:

"Boston college is doing wonderful work and is a credit to New England. Its drive is deserving of great success. The influence an institution of this kind has upon American life cannot be estimated in dollars. I earnestly hope the business interests will show a proper appreciation by giving the drive the support it deserves."

Healthy Young Womanhood

THE tendency to constipation begins with girls as they approach maturity, and that is the very time the mothers should watch that the important function of daily elimination is regular and normal.

Many thousands of mothers who have daughters afflicted with constipation only Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A teaspoonful is sufficient to relieve constipation and its commoner symptoms such as headache, bad breath, biliousness, loss of appetite and restlessness.

Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatic, and a sixty-cent bottle is enough for many months. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale of the kind in the world.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market thirty years and there must be genuine merit behind it to develop so large and steady a sale. Buy a bottle today and you will quickly see why it is so popular.

IF JOURNEYING ALONE

Put Your Faith in the Pullman Porter and—Forget!

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING
Vacation days are near. And are you, little high school girl, looking forward to your first long trip—your initiation into the mysteries of the Pullman by night—with a generous portion of fear and trembling mixed with your pleasure?

For approached for the first time in the dark hours, down an aisle, whence curtained areas emit sigh and snore, a Pullman berth is a fearsome thing!

But from the moment your bag is hauled up the car steps and put into the hands of the porter—regard him as your best friend until your journeying days are over.

First, if you are travelling with trunk and are to be on the train only one night, travel light; that is, take as little in your bag as possible. Your toilet accessories, a fresh blouse, if you are wearing a suit, fresh lingerie—that is all you will need.

If you board the train any time after 9:30, your berth will be made up. You will go immediately to the dressing room and prepare for sleeping. Possibly you could get only an upper berth and you're staggered at the thought of wandering into the fastnesses of the gloomy aisle and seeking out your own little bed.

But there again put yourself in the care of the porter. Before you leave the dressing room, push the little button you'll find there by the mirror, usually it is labeled "porter" and by the time you have gathered up your clothes and bag and opened the door that individual will be there, saying "Yes 'm, yes 'm," and grinning joyously as he takes your precious burdens.

You are wearing your pumps when you walk down the aisle. Then, after the ceremonious person has assisted you to your perch on high, slip off your pumps and give them to him and if your travelling bag is a trifle bulky give him that and forget it until the next morning.

Your clothing which he will have laid on your berth, hang on the little persers you find at the foot wall, usually there will be a large one for your hat and a hanger for your coat you'll find at the opening of the curtains—perhaps your thoughtful attendant has already put it there for you. There is a shelf also on which to put things which will not hang. Your pumps you might have put there if you could not soil your lighter clothing.

Then pull up the covers and push the little button just above your head, which will turn out your light.

In the morning, don't attempt, as so many women do, to dress in the berth, and run the risk of coming out looking as if you had slept in your clothes. Slip a dressing gown over your nightgown, slide into your stockings, gather your clothes on your arm, and touch the magic button again.

The dusky gentleman will appear with his smile and his ladder and your shoes and bag. As your feet venture over the edge of the berth to find his ladder he will slip the pumps on and then will journey behind you, carrying your bag, to the dressing room.

There you can dress in comfort—for most Pullman dressing rooms are equipped with four complete sets of bowls and mirrors—and will look when you step off the train to meet your waiting friends as if you had just come from the freshness of your own bedroom.

FATHER OF THREE CHILDREN WRITES FROM CANAL ZONE
Balboa, Canal Zone. A father of three children writes: "Will you kindly send me by mail two bottles of your Dr. True's Elixir. I cannot buy it here in Panama. I have three children, and the Elixir is the best family remedy I ever used. When one of the children isn't feeling right, I give him a dose of Dr. True's Elixir and he comes out hale and hearty in the morning. Our children have showed no signs of worms since they have taken the Elixir." P. H. Burlington.

USE BORAX

If you would wash your brushes and have the bristles stiff, put a handful of borax in the water.

The borax will remove grease, but not soften the bristles as a strong soap or ammonia solution would. Use lukewarm water for washing. Rinse in cold water.

Menu For Tomorrow
Breakfast—Baked rhubarb, broiled bacon, hashed brown potatoes, whole wheat muffins, coffee.
Luncheon—Fish and macaroni, toasted muffins, radishes, tea.
Dinner—Breaded veal cutlets, potato marbles, kale, tomato sauce, steaming island, coffee.

My Own Recipe
Instead of buying chops for the breaded veal get steak. There is less waste in this cut for there is only one small bone and no fat. Cut the steak in convenient pieces for serving, dip in crumbs, then egg and crumbs again. Brown quickly on both sides, and then cook slowly till tender.

Fish and Macaroni
Two cups cold cooked fish, 1 cup macaroni, 1 tablespoon grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, salt and pepper, 1 cup white sauce.
Remove skin and bones from fish and break in small pieces. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for half an hour. Make white sauce, add 2 tablespoons of the cheese, all the fish and macaroni, season with salt and pepper and turn into a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining cheese, dot with bits of butter and put in a hot oven to brown.

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Drop Sealed Envelope Addressed to Dr. J. C. Allen, 1400 Broadway, New York City, to Leave the System Whole Twenty-four Hours

Every druggist in this country is authorized to give every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allen's sure cure of rheumatism does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the worst twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Dr. J. C. Allen has been tried and tested for years, and truly marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allen's, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, declares and suffers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allen's decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Dr. J. C. Allen to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

TWO KILLED IN GALWAY BY DISGUISED PARTIES

DUBLIN, May 12.—A small party of armed and disguised men yesterday entered a laborer's house at Galway seeking one of the laborer's sons who was released from jail Tuesday after having served a court-martial sentence.

Failing to find the desired man the armed men shot and killed one of his brothers, Christopher Dolan, and wounded another brother.

Later another band of men, whose faces were blackened, raided a second house and shot and killed Herbert Cully, an employee of the railway. The occupant of still another house escaped from miscreants by running out of a back door dressed only in his night-shirt.

Special Harbor Constable Craig was shot dead yesterday while performing his duties in Belfast.

Eight civilians were surprised by crown forces near Ballinacree, Limerick. One of them was killed, one wounded and one captured, and a former soldier who was held prisoner was rescued.

Two Sinn Féiners yesterday fled from a lorry in Dublin, jumped on the pilot of an engine and the engineer to drive away under full steam and escaped.

Mannix Denounces British Rule
LONDON, May 12.—Archbishop Mannix of Australia, who will leave for home in a few days, was tendered a farewell luncheon yesterday at which he received a eulogistic address from the bishops and priests of Ireland and also valuable gifts.

The archbishop in replying to the address said he never would be proud of being an Irishman than on the day he was returning to tell the Australians that nothing stood in the way of peace between Great Britain and Ireland "but British crime and British aggression."

The Irish people should be granted the right to rule themselves, he declared. If Ireland wanted a republic that was her business, and until that right was acknowledged there would be no peace between England and Ireland.

The Irish people, he said, stood heart and soul behind Eamon DeValera. He was the only man capable of talking for all the Irish people, and the British government should negotiate with him if it really wanted peace.

DRY AGENTS LOSE "ILLEGAL STILL" CASE

BOSTON, May 12.—Because Attorney William R. Scharton produced evidence to prove that dry agents had forced their way illegally into the house of H. E. Leatherman of Westwood, United States Commissioner Hayes discharged both defendants as a result of a hearing yesterday afternoon.

The officers who prosecuted the case are Louis Paplin and Samuel Beresnak. They charged the illegal possession of a still.

The commissioner stated that, he found that the agents had exceeded their authority and advised them to follow the law in the future.

Attorney Scharton stated that Kaplan was under indictment for running a still and when asked the question point blank by the attorney for the defense the witness and agents stated that he did not know.

Scharton then told him that an indictment was pending against him. The indictments referred to has been recently nol prosequi.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT

The young people of the First Presbyterian church choir repeated the pleasing cantata, "Sherwood's Queen," before a large and appreciative audience in the church vestry last evening. The cantata, which was presented twice before, was repeated last evening at the request of a large number of church members.

WAS TOLD TO QUIT, SAYS DAVENPORT

But Thanks to Tanlac I'm Still on Job Feeling Fine, Says Lawrence Man.

"My health was so bad they told me I better quit my work and go to the country, but here I am on the job every day and feeling fine," said W. E. Davenport, Reading road, Lawrence, in relating his experience with Tanlac, recently.

"I am now 52 years of age, and for the past 20 years I have had no end of trouble with my stomach. For five years I was continuously under medical treatment, but failed to get any relief. I worked in a machine shop, painting machinery, and although I never did quit work, there were many times when I was so sick I felt like giving up work and everything else. At times my stomach was so disordered that I couldn't keep anything down and the way I suffered from indigestion was simply terrible.

"Finally I moved out into the country, but went ahead working at the shop and trying everything I thought might improve my health. I got worse right on, however, and, some four months before I got Tanlac, was discouraged I left off taking any medicine of any kind. Then I began hearing about Tanlac and I finally bought a bottle to try. This helped me so much that I got another supply, and kept on taking it until now I feel better than I have in a long time. My appetite is much better, and I have gained nearly 10 pounds in weight. After supper I work in my garden some before going to bed, then sleep like a top until morning and get up ready for a hearty breakfast and a big day's work. Tanlac is simply wonderful, and I gladly praise it to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative; by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; Shaw's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.

APPROVE STAND AGAINST CONTRACT LABOR

At a regular meeting of the Trades & Labor council held last evening with President Timothy F. O'Rourke presiding, a vote of confidence was extended Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy on his stand against contract labor on the paving of Chelmsford street. The organization expressed itself as strongly opposed to the plan presented by the chamber of commerce, as it feels that all such work should be done by the municipality. The strike at the gas works was discussed and the grievance committee was instructed to confer with the executive committee of the joint session of strikers. Routine business was transacted.

MOCK TRIAL IN COLONIAL HALL

Lowell Post, 87, of the American Legion presented an amusing mock trial in Colonial hall last evening before a small but thoroughly appreciative audience. The trial had all the outward indications of a regular superior court case and there was fun galore as the "testimony" was being heard.

The case was one of breach of promise brought by "Jerusha Rugg Perkins," played by Mrs. Paul Kiltredge, against Joseph P. Donahue, who played the role of the faithless one. The witnesses included Misses Esther and Madeline Conney, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Edward W. Gallagher and Dr. Clarence H. Livingston. The judge was James C. Reilly and the attorneys William A. Newton of Worcester and William J. White, Jr., of Lowell.

John J. McCardle was the court officer and Edmund Kelley, the clerk. The seven jurors in the case were Carroll Hewitt, John McCardle, Miss Helen Haggerty, Mrs. Edward McDermott, Margaret O'Shea, Mrs. Sarah Thimmesly and William C. Kirk. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of guilty and awarded damages in the sum of $348, of which $3 was to go to the jury and 45 cents to the judge.

THREATENING FIRE IN HOWARD'S AVENUE

Fire originating in the cellar of the two-story building at 8-10 Howard's avenue off Devotion street, shortly before 11:30 last night drove nine people into the street in scanty attire. The prompt arrival of the firemen confined the flames to the first floor of the building. The damage was not very great. The occupants of the building were Mrs. Mary Fisher and her three children and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drozd and their three children. When they heard a crackling sound in the cellar and saw smoke coming through the floor, they rushed into the street and found refuge in the home of Mrs. Victoria Swistak, next door. Patrolman Thomas Melony had an alarm sent in from Box 8 and went through the house to rouse any other occupants who might have been there. The alarm was sounded at midnight. The J. A. Nesmith estate owned the building.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

Members of Dorcas temple, Christian Sisters, observed the 25th anniversary of the founding of their organization in Pythian hall last evening. There was a large attendance and the program was most enjoyable. As a token of appreciation for services rendered the temple a past chief's jewel was presented Mrs. Cora Gilman, while past chief's pins were given to the following: Mrs. Alice Wainmaker, Miss Florence Gilman, Mrs. Mary Gilman, Mrs. Alice Jenkins, Mrs. Patience Young, Mrs. Lizzie Griffin, Miss Evelyn E. Foster and Alice Schofield. The presentations being made by Deputy Anna Smith of St. Louis Gale temple of Lawrence. The toastmaster of the evening was Frank Whipple of Wamsit lodge, while the presiding officer was Most Excellent Chief F. George. The program was as follows: Song, "Blanche Alexander," accompanied by Celia Williams; piano solo, Harry Virtue; remarks, Deputy Anna Smith; dancing specialties, the DeWitt sisters; song, Mrs. Elizabeth Young and a sketch, "A Lady to Call," by Alice Joy, Lillian Starkey and Mabel Bumps. Refreshments were served by the social committee under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Bumps, chairman.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL

The Epworth league of the Highland Union church conducted a successful social in the church vestry last evening. There was a large attendance and the program was very pleasing. This organization, which is now planning a box party and entertainment for the near future, was formed four years ago and its officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Sturtevant; president, Misses Ireland, Henderson, Helen Kenneston, Laura Desrosiers and Mollie Washburn, vice presidents; Harry Henderson, treasurer; Donald Hilton, secretary.

TO INCREASE AUTO FEES

House Refers Bill to Next Session After Extended Debate

BOSTON, May 12.—The bill to increase the fees for registration of motor vehicles was referred to the next annual session by a standing vote of 103 to 64 by the Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday afternoon. The defeat of the measure came at the end of an extended debate.

Mr. Hayes of Brighton, later in the session, offered a motion to reconsider. He afterwards withdrew it but gave notice he would offer it today. The house will hold a morning session today, beginning at 11, and motions to reconsider are always the first matters to be taken up.

During the discussion, information prepared by the commissioner of public works, division of motor vehicle registration, was offered. Figures and facts compiled by the Automobile Legal association were also read showing that in the opinion of the association there was no need of an increase and suggesting it was not a proper time "to embark upon an extravagant scheme of road construction at the expense of the automobilists."

Would Exempt Pleasure Cars
 Mr. Sawyer of Ware, the first speaker, moved an amendment to strike out everything relating to pleasure vehicles.

Mr. Lyman of Northampton, house chairman of the ways and means committee, urged the passage of the bill and said it was a question of finance. There are, he contended, thousands of automobile owners who do not own real estate, but who should be compelled to pay the tax which was proposed by the bill.

Mr. Rice of Newton moved to cut down from $15 to $12.50 the fee for vehicles of less than 30 horsepower. Mr. Chase of Lynn spoke for the truck owners, saying their burdens are heavy and ought not to be increased.

Mr. Clark of Brockton moved to substitute a new scale for larger trucks and pleasure cars. Mr. Hayes of Brighton offered a substitute resolve to provide for the appointment of a special commission to consider the subject.

Mr. Harrison of Gardner favored the bill. Mr. Hawthorne of Lynn urged that it be referred to the next annual session. Expense Very Little, He Says

 Mr. Draper of Hopkinton supported the bill. He said that last year there were 100,000 automobiles under 30 horsepower. The bill, he continued, increases their expenses only one cent a day and the expenses of trucks less than two cents.

Mr. Smith of Provincetown charged that automobile owners were trying to put their legitimate expenses upon other people.

Mr. Evans of Saugus opposed the bill. Mr. Bartlett of Brockton hoped it would be referred to the next annual session.

Mr. Harrington of Fall River, democratic floor leader, opposed the bill, saying the people are now overtaxed. He declared the bill to be "unreasonable."

Mr. Eaton of Brockton said there should be more economy in the public works department. Any increase on trucks, he added, would increase the cost of living.

Mr. Lyman closed for the bill. He told of the great increase in the cost of road construction and the demand for more state highways. He contended it was only fair for the automobilists to pay the bill.

All amendments were rejected, including the resolve for a special commission on the subject. The house then voted to refer the bill to the next annual session.

Hyde Park Bill Advanced
 The bill to provide for the operation by the city of Boston of street railway lines in Hyde Park was ordered to a third reading by a voice vote. Mr. Phelan of Hyde Park, during the extended debate, said the measure was drawn by the law department of the city "for the sole purpose of making the operation of the line less expensive."

Mr. Adlow of Boston condemned the road as "junk," and said "there is no limit to the sum the city will have to pay." He charged the bill "ignores the city council" and "does not regard public interests."

Mr. Lomasney of Boston said the city paid $50,000 required by the original public control act and the company accepted it. Later the company, he declared, "had the bill changed at the recent special session and never has constructed the new street railway required by the law." He said the proposition "is to pay $500,000 for the property and there is nothing to show how much the property is worth." He asserted "the mortgagees, the bondholders and the city are not protected."

TO PORTO RICO

E. Montgomery Kelly, Kansas City, is the newly appointed governor of Porto Rico.

Mr. Gilman of Boston, for the bill, said that the city promised Hyde Park it should have one fare to Boston if the town would become part of the city. He said Hyde Park was annexed, but that the city had not kept its contract.

Mr. Adlow replied that he "did not see why anybody should pay attention to a promise made by John F. Fitzgerald." He declared no one would buy the road from the city at the end of the period of public control.

Mr. Hamburger of Boston said the bill offered the only way of giving relief to Hyde Park. Mr. Clark of Brockton favored the bill.

The bill was advanced by a voice

vote and Mr. Lomasney was unable to secure a roll call.

Hours for Newshy

The house concurred, 74 to 27, with the senate amendment to the bill to regulate the sale and delivery of newspapers by boys of 12 years and over. As the bill now stands, the delivery and sale may begin at 6 a. m. and continue until 5 p. m.

Representative Coleman E. Kelley of Boston presented his petition that the state make contributions toward the expense of military funerals for deceased members of the American Legion. It was referred to the committee on rules.

In India nearly every private house has a tennis court.

$10,000 LOSS

Sawmill at West Fairlee, Vt., Destroyed

WEST FAIRLEE, Vt., May 12.—Sparks from the Sibley Bros' sawmill here, blown across a brook by the high wind, set fire to the Southworth Company's sawmill yesterday and burning brands in turn were blown back and fired the Sibley mill. Both were destroyed, together with the dwelling of Arthur Dushan and a large quantity of lumber. The loss is estimated at about $10,000.

Movies Are Shown In Twenty Thousand Theatres In the United States

ANITA STEWART, HER NEXT RELEASE IS "PLAYTHINGS OF DESTINY" AND SHE HAS ABOUT COMPLETED "THE INVISIBLE FEAR."

BY JAMES W. DEAN
Fourth place in the industries of the nation is generally conceded to the film industry. But do you know what this means? Do you know to what extent other businesses are affected by the movies?

Before June there will be more than 20,000 theatres in the United States exhibiting photoplays. At present Ohio leads with 1773 theatres, Pennsylvania has 1749 and New York 1715.

For two months motion picture theatres have been completely at the rate of ten a week. More people go to movies than to any other two amusements combined.

Almost every contemporary author of note is writing directly for the screen or supervising the pictorialization of published works.

The number of successful stage actors and actresses who have not appeared in the films can be counted on the fingers.

Wall street—the houses of Morgan and du Pont—is investing American money in developing movie interests in China and India, South America, England and all countries of continental Europe except Russia.

Griffith spent $350,000 to make one picture, "Way Down East," and Von Stroheim is now in the ninth month of filming "Foolish Wives," which will cost a million, it is reported.

Fortunes are invested yearly in photographic equipment and films.

Many inventors are devoting their entire attention to improvements in film projection. Four inventions of importance have been perfected in the past two weeks.

It. J. Yates has perfected a machine that finishes a million feet of printed film a week. None of the film is touched by hand in the process.

O. E. Kellum has perfected a machine that synchronizes talking machine and projection camera. It is now being used with "Dream Street."

Another invention is a machine for the screening of pictures at home. Small pictures are arranged in concentric circles on a photograph record. As the disc revolves the pictures are lighted and projected through a lens.

The other invention is the screening of pictures in relief. This is done by taking pictures of the actors at close range. The background is taken at longer range. The first film is superimposed on the other and the characters have an appearance of possessing three dimensions.

Almost every producer and photographer is trying to perfect color photography. Maude Adams is experimenting along these lines.

These developments show that the film industry is progressing faster than any other industry and probably offers

Kirkwood is Busy
James Kirkwood is appearing often as featured player or leading man than any other film actor. He leads in "Bob Hampton of Placer," a recent release. He has completed his work as lead in "A Wise Fool" and is now working in "The Great Impersonation."

CLOSE-UPS
"The Defective Detective" Title of Eddie Boland's new comedy. Camera work on "Rip Van Winkle" has been completed.

Pat O'Malley's daughter, Eileen, three, appears with him in "The Lying Truth."

In the old days Lubin made pictures on the roof of a Philadelphia department store.

Husband and wife: Fred Nible and Edith Bennett; Harry Benmont and Hazel Daly; Charles Matles and Claire McDowell; Tully Marshall and Marion Fairfax; Paul Scardon and Betty Blythe.

When Clara Kimball Young first started in movies she had difficulty in acting within the camera limits.

ANOTHER PRODIGY
BERKELEY, Cal., May 12.—Six years old and a psychologist, a natural orator and a born leader.

This prodigy is John Hamilton of this city. He recently delivered a lecture before a local school on "How a boy should behave."

So unusual was his clear, concise exposition that scientists became interested in him and declared him to be possessed of abnormal mentality.

Judge Martin Hawkins

JUDGE'S DOUBLE IS BAD CHECK ARTIST

PORTLAND, Ore., May 12.—District Judge Martin Hawkins, of this city, was under arrest for five minutes.

Here's how it happened: Judge Hawkins has a double. The double, a forger, hiding from eastern police, fled to Portland.

A sleuth hurried out to Portland to catch the bad check artist. He saw the Judge in a restaurant and proceeded to arrest him.

THE MOVIE FEED-BACK
Now comes the season of the air-dromes.

"Christine of the Young Heart," Gladys Walton's next.

Marjorie Daw plays mother and daughter in "The Lying Truth."

Screen rights to Gene Stratton Porter's novels have been purchased.

Mahlon Hamilton and John Rowers are to support Louise Glum in "Daughters of Joy."

A studio accommodating ten companies is to be erected in Tampa, Fla.

Leo Moran is making a celluloid version of H. C. Witwer's "Robinson's Troubadour."

Tony Sarg, puppeteer and cartoonist, is making a screen comic called Tony Sarg's Almanac.

Bill Hart plays a triple role in his next release, "Three Word Brand"—father and twin sons.

It was to be expected. A scenario is being written for Bebe Daniels in which the heroine goes to jail.

Mary Philbin, who won a Chicago beauty contest, is to be featured by Universal in "The Harbor Road."

Tom Meighan and his cast in "Cappy Ricks" will make many scenes along the coast in the vicinity of Boston.

"Mother o' Mine," produced by Thos. H. Ince, is an argument against capital punishment. It will be released in June.

Sixes Welch, 28, Minister's son, Educated at Columbia and Yale. Tennis wizard. Married. Lives in bungalow at Hollywood.

"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" will be shown at Buckingham palace before public release in England.

THEY HAVE SAME HUSBAND

Bigamy Wave Hits New York—Manhattan Stirred by Citizens' Proclivity To Take Two Wives or More

For the sin ye do, by two and two,
—Ye must pay for, one by one.

—KIPLING

BY R. H. WHITNEY.

NEW YORK, May 12.—New York has suffered from crime waves, holdup waves, and suicide waves. Now comes the so-called bigamy wave.

John William Murray, a publisher of 23, is the central figure in the latest plural marriage case. He is being sued by Wife No. 3 for separation. She charges him with "cruel and inhuman treatment." It develops, as a consequence of this action, that he has two other wives—all married within seven years—though he says he didn't believe two of the marriages are legal.

Manhattan Jack, still in possession of the airy manners which distinguished his meteoric Broadway career, rushed from New York to Los Angeles, where dwells Yvonne Pavis Murray, Wife No. 1, a motion picture actress. He announced there that they had effected a reconciliation and that he is ready to return to New York and "face the music."

Wife No. 2 was Marie Dougherty Murray, war worker, whom he married when he enlisted in the Marine Corps. Wife No. 3 was lovely Ann Warwick Murray, actress and daughter of an Illinois merchant.

The story of Murray is the story of others. Recently Herbert Thornton Andrews, wealthy young stock broker and bon vivant, tired of Maud Augusta Haynes, whom he married in Portland, Me., on April 2, 1911.

Without divorcing her, he hurried to Pittsburgh, bundled pretty little Esther Marie Hattall, a stenographer, into his automobile and fled to Greenwich, Conn., where the laws on bigamy are too loose.

There he made her his bride and returned with her to his home, where he introduced her to Wife No. 1. He compelled both women to live together in the same house until the scandal caused Esther to flee and Maud to commence a divorce action.

Just before Andrews caused a sensation New York was stirred by the news that Vice Chancellor Joseph Merritt Lane of New Jersey had found the Connecticut law favorable to his polygamous purposes.

On Jan. 30, 1919, he married Gertrude Garrison-Kerr, daughter of Supreme Court Justice Garrison and a niece of Landley M. Garrison, former secretary of war.

On April 4, just 64 days later, spring fever caused him to hurry to Stamford, Conn., where he was united in wedlock to Grace Hercht.

Bringing her back, he installed her in a palatial home in northern New York.

Wife No. 1 brought no legal action and the laws of New York and Connecticut were inadequate to prosecute him for bigamy.

He resigned, however, as vice chancellor of New Jersey, a few days later when wife No. 2 entered his court and publicly horsewhipped him.

Then there is Arthur David Stevens, of Brooklyn, the Bronx, and points west. Said of New York, testified she married him in 1920, believing he was a bachelor.

and testified that he had married her in 1911.

Stevens is the manager of a chain of rapid-fire restaurants. Though that fact was given no significance in court. Both wives protested extreme friendship for him. He was sweet and nice, they agreed, as they left court arm in arm, refusing to go ahead with prosecution.

Another charge of real bigamy where three wives are concerned came following a kiss. Harry A. Newton, a handsome actor, was put in the Tombs prison because he kissed his wife. He did this in Grand Central station, where his three wives had gone to meet him!

And he was promptly nabbed by directies.

The loves of Newton, so far as they are recorded by the court, began 14 years ago in Monticello, Ill., where he married Florence Madera, an actress. She was at the time playing in "Fair and Warner" and "My in Mabel's Room" productions of a stock company.

For seven years they lived happily, then Harry, after a whirlwind courtship, won for his helpmate Glenn Argoe, of vaudeville fame. She it was who gave him the betrayal kiss.

Not only is she wife No. 2, but Harry married her twice. They married in Rochester, Minn., came to New York, and promptly lost the certificate, hence the second wedding as he sailed away to a soldier.

Happiness blessed the match until September, 1919, when Harry passed out of Glenn's life. Two days later in Port Huron, Mich., he married Iva Edmonson, the youngest of all, who was playing ingenue parts in "regular attractions."

Recently all three wives met in a theatrical office, compared notes, sent for Harry, and then placed him in jail.

Manhattan Jack Murray's case is slightly different in that he made no attempt to conceal from his wives after marriage the facts of his marriages to others.

Murray's wooings were of the rapid-fire type, as is he himself. In 1914, Murray was 26. He was of medium height, sandy-haired, blue-eyed, fluent of speech.

He was then a commercial photographer, a lavish spender, "dressed to kill" and all in all was thought much of.

So, on Feb. 23, 1914, he engaged in a love-tete in a Broadway theatre box with a girl he had never before seen. Within an hour they went to Brooklyn where Assistant City Clerk Maher made them husband and wife.

In 1917, Murray sued his actress bride for divorce, but dropped the case when she counter-sued in Los Angeles, charging him with cruelty. The California courts, however, refused her a decree.

In 1918, Murray came east again. He entered the Liberty Loan organization and there met pretty and winsome Marie Elizabeth Dougherty, a worker for the National Service league.

Following their meeting he enlisted in the Marine Corps, and two days later, on July 15, both hurried to the Hall of Records, New York, where the Rev. D. H. Lox made them man and wife. In his marriage license he swore that he was a bachelor.

Two Former Dry Agents and Ex-Chicago Policeman Said to Have Confessed

Will Be Tried On Charges of Representing Themselves as Federal Officers

CHICAGO, May 12.—More than $200,000 was exacted from Chicago druggists by two former agents of the prohibition enforcement office and a former Chicago policeman, according to Col. A. C. Barshaw, of the Federal Special Intelligence Service.

Victor J. Peterson, Joseph Morris and Leo C. Powers, the latter the ex-policeman, are involved. All are said to have confessed. They will be tried on charges of representing themselves as federal officers.

PAUL CROCKER DIES IN SALEM HOSPITAL

SALEM, May 12.—Paul Crocker of Fitchburg, who maintained a summer home at Marblehead Neck, died today at the Salem hospital. He was taken there a week ago suffering with heart trouble.

Mr. Crocker was 45 years of age. He had been a cripple many years. In 1919 he married his nurse, Mary Curran, and the following year instituted divorce proceedings which were still pending when he died.

FITCHBURG, May 12.—Paul Crocker was a son of the late Charles T. Crocker, a Fitchburg paper manufacturer and member of a prominent Fitchburg family. He was graduated from Harvard college in 1895. He was a train master for the old Fitchburg and the B. & M. railroad for several years and when he retired 10 years ago, he was train dispatcher at the North station in Boston. He is survived by four brothers, Rev. William T. Crocker of New York, Alvin Crocker, Fitchburg manufacturer and famous carman at Harvard in the 70s, Charles T. and Kendall Crocker, both of Fitchburg; a sister, Mrs. Emma Smith, wife of Rev. E. W. Smith of Cambridge, a half-brother, Barlow Crocker of this city, and a half sister, Mrs. Edith Sanger of New York.

PHYSICIANS PROTEST

Object to Being Classified as Business Men and Paying Increase in Tel. Rates

BOSTON, May 12.—Physicians from all parts of the metropolitan district registered a protest against being classified as business men and paying a 50 per cent increase in telephone rates at a hearing held today under the direction of the state department of public utilities. William A. Morse, who appeared as counsel for the physicians, said the medical profession had never been treated as a business and should not be treated so now. He charged that agents of the telephone company had threatened physicians with the removal of their telephone unless they agreed to transfer their service from the residential to the business classification.

JUDGE LINDSEY AGREES TO PAY $500 FINE

DENVER, Colo., May 12.—Sen R. Lindsey, judge of Denver's juvenile court, announced today that he would pay a fine of $500 and $33 costs for contempt of court, thus ending a six-year controversy.

He was adjudged in contempt by Judge John Perry of the district court in 1916. Judge Lindsey had refused to divulge what Neal Wright, a 14-year-old juvenile court ward, had told him about murder of the lad's father. The boy's mother was tried for the murder and acquitted.

Judge Lindsey refused to obey the court's order because he said if he testified he would be betraying the confidence of a child.

In deciding to pay out of his own funds he declined aid proffered by bar associations, boys' clubs, civic and other organizations and individuals.

"I have no regrets," he said. "I believe the fight we made was right. No court again will ask a juvenile court judge to betray what a child has told him."

LONDON, May 12.—Shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. at a meeting today ratified the agreement between the management and the Canadian government providing for the transfer of the control of the railway to the government this month.

DOLLAR WORTH 20,000 RUBLES

RIGA, May 12.—The Russian government in fixing a tariff for foreign telegrams sent from Moscow estimated that 1000 rubles were worth one gold franc, and that this should be the basis for international cable payments. This decision fixes the exchange rate at 20,000 soviet rubles to the dollar.

Experts' Tests Not Reliable

commenced their arguments to the jury. It is expected that arguments will be made by three attorneys for the defendants and that District Attorney Tufts will make the final summing up of the prosecution. This will be followed by the charge of Judge Louis S. Cox. It is anticipated that the fate of the three defendants will be placed in the hands of the jury sometime before tomorrow noon.

Doctor From Quebec

The first witness was Dr. Albert Marois of St. Louis street, Quebec city, Quebec, who was brought here by the state after being visited by Mr. Bourdieu of the district attorney's office. The doctor told of being for 38 years a practicing physician and a graduate of Laval university, and of being assistant superintendent of asylums in Quebec. He testified that Josephine de St. Pierre, an aunt of Fortier, who has been at the Quebec General hospital since Aug. 24, 1907, is not insane and has no disease of the mind. She is not a public charge, he said, as this hospital is conducted by an order of the Superior court. She has had the rickets which has stunted her physical growth, but she is sound mentally.

The witness told of examining her in the hospital in company with Mr. Bourdieu.

"Not an Imbecile"

The next witness called to the stand was Dr. George L. Watson, a years old, of Boston, a specialist in nervous and mental diseases. He testified that he had been connected with the department of nervous diseases of the Massachusetts general hospital since his graduation from medical school. He said that from his observations of Fortier he had reached the opinion that he is not insane and is not an imbecile.

Dr. Watson testified that District Attorney Tufts, the witness said, had been such as had been testified to, his opinion was that the defendant knew what he was doing at the time he committed the alleged crime, and that he knew what he was doing, was wrong. He also said that he thought the prisoner had the power to refrain from his acts.

Questioned by Tufts

Questioned by Mr. Tufts about the Stanford university modification of the Binet-Simon test for mental development, the witness said that even intelligent people are apt to fall short when subjected to such tests, especially if they are adults who have been away from the books for a considerable time.

The witness said that the Binet-Simon test is not the most important factor in determining mental ability, and he gave a list of a number of tests to determine a person's mental condition.

He said the first thing to do was to look at a subject's physical appearance, to see if he had badly shaped or deformed face, eyes, etc. "If he said, one should inquire into the family history of the subject; also the history of the subject's development as a child and his progress in school studies."

Ability to Earn Living

The economic efficiency, or in other words, ability to earn a living, is another important point to consider in examining a subject, the witness stated. He mentioned, as being very important, the subject's social position and his ability to associate on equal terms with others of his own age and social condition. He said that he had seen no evidence that Fortier could not associate on equal terms with those witnesses asserted that the Binet-Simon test, even though a patient co-operates when it is made, is not the most important test to be considered. He said the test becomes considered, but of little importance, when one is not sure the patient is co-operating.

Enumerates "Fluent Answers"

Dr. Watson said he did not think that Fortier's answers were reliable. The first reason, he said, was the fundamental contradiction. He declared that the prisoner answered some questions very slowly and sometimes incorrectly. But other questions were answered, according to the witness, very fluently as answers were given.

The witness then described Fortier's inability to count from 1 to either in French or in English. This test, he said, was a four-year-old test. Fortier left out the number 4 when counting from 1 to 5 in either language. Another reason, said the witness, why he thought Fortier's answers unreliable, was because of the prisoner's "profoundly defective" mind. This, he explained, meant that as the trial progressed, the defendant seemed to become less and less able to answer questions correctly.

Questioning Halted

An objection at this point halted this line of questions. Witness then said that another reason why he doubted the reliability of Fortier's answers with which he answered certain questions wrong. He told of Fortier putting puzzle pictures together and getting them all completely wrong. The witness view was that Fortier tried to put the pieces of the puzzle picture in wrong places.

Cross-examination in wrong place, he said, that he holds himself out to the world as a neurologist. He said he has not been in active practice for some years. He said that he did not believe Dubuque would have used Fortier, if the latter was a "tool and a fool," to take an important part in a hold-up unless he was a fool himself. He agreed that he was a fool himself in an inferior capacity. He directly questioned by District Attorney Tufts he said that characteristics found in imbeciles are also found in perfectly normal people.

Dr. John F. Krasny, a defense expert witness, was called by the state to the stand in rebuttal.

Government Rests Case

Dr. Edward R. Utley, jail physician at East Cambridge, was the final witness in the government's case. As he was called, he was an expert in mental diseases, he did not give a professional opinion relative to the sanity of the defendant, Fortier. He told of talking to the prisoner concerning the latter's experiences while serving as an enlisted man in the army during the world war. Fortier, declared the witness, declared that his relative to his brother, who was in the German army.

When Dr. Utley left the witness stand, District Attorney Tufts arose and said: "The commonwealth rests." This was shortly after mid-day.

Atty. Tufts now stated that the defense rests its case in rebuttal. Atty. O'Neill rose and stated that the defendant, Lionel Theberge, rested. His statement was followed by that of Attorney Donahue to the effect that the defendant, Emma Theberge, also rested.

After a conference in connection with some of the evidence, Atty. O'Neill opened his argument for the

SENATE PROBE OF RAILROADS

Increase in Freight Rates Did Not Bring Drop in R. R. Freight Business

Julius Kruttschnitt Cross-examined by Senators at Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Under cross-examination today before the senate investigating committee, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific Co., insisted that the recent increase in freight rates had not operated to bring about a drop in railroad freight business. The only trouble is, he said, that the increase in rates came simultaneously with the depression in general business.

Remarking that lower rates stimulated transportation, Senator Townsend, republican, Michigan, said there was doubt that anything justified an overcharge by the railroads.

"I don't believe there is any overcharge by the railroads," said Mr. Kruttschnitt. "There is a limit below which you cannot go. For 15 years, the roads have been going down hill under a policy of rate starvation."

"Don't you believe the roads, as a matter of equity, would have been in a better position to ask decreased rates had they not first asked this last increase in rates?" asked Senator Townsend.

"I do believe this," Mr. Kruttschnitt responded. "That if this business depression had not come, we should not have been obliged to ask so specifically for a reduction in wages."

"You have answered directly," Senator Townsend retorted. "Haven't you seen the risk of inflation, public opinion by that policy of increasing rates before reducing wages?"

"The roads were in a desperate situation," was the reply.

Senator Pomerene, democrat, Ohio, asked if rate increases were not some times harmful, to which Mr. Kruttschnitt agreed that there was a point where rate increases would be unwise because of their reduction tendency upon traffic.

"Wouldn't it be sound business policy to reduce rates on road materials?" Senator Pomerene asked. "It seems to me you would help the whole business situation in the country if we could get these charges down."

"When the roads apply rates for the last increase," Mr. Kruttschnitt replied, "it was distinctly understood that if any rates were so hard upon any groups and industries the cases could be taken up on their merits before the inter-railroad commission and reductions brought about."

"All these claims for reduction bear the earmarks of a well planned propaganda on the present rate structure. The fact is that commodities for which the producers now receive very little are lashed to the higher prices quoted by men and retailers that consumers must pay altogether disproportionate prices, while the transportation charges are very small parts of the increases."

Senator Pomerene said he had no doubt that the retailer's profit and the consumer's loss were the result of the fact that there should be no reduction in wages had most to do with the situation.

"It is all the intermediate profit-takers," Mr. Kruttschnitt said. "Before coming into the question of freight rates, Senator Townsend questioned the witness about government control."

"You think one factor in bringing the roads to their present condition was neglect of maintenance during the period of federal control?" he asked.

"No," Mr. Kruttschnitt replied. "Was there any action on the part of railroad employees to retard or injure operations under federal control?"

"No action, though there was a great fall in their interest in the work when the workers began to transfer their attention to the general authority in Washington and away from their local officers and local lines."

RAILWAY LABOR FAILS TO PROVE CHARGE

CHICAGO, May 12.—Railway labor today formally admitted before the railroad labor board that it had failed in its efforts to prove authenticity of a letter alleged to have been written by a Pennsylvania railroad official ordering "defamation" of labor organizations, if necessary, in obtaining desired information, and requested permission to withdraw the letter from the board's records.

GOOD CEREAL CROP IN ITALY

ROME, May 12.—Indications are that this year's cereal crops will be satisfactory, the international institute of agriculture announced today.

"The world stocks of wheat and rye," the bulletin declared, "are sufficient for all requirements until next year's leaving a margin of 1,400,000 metric tons at least."

defendant, Lionel Theberge. He referred to the fourth man in the case as "a mysterious master mind." "The mysterious stranger."

He scouted the commonwealth's contention relative to the culpability of the Theberge brothers. He spoke of the bankbook as evidence that the brothers did not need money on the night of Jan. 25.

When the noon recess was taken, Atty. O'Neill had progressed through the first part of his argument, which was resumed when the afternoon session opened.

YESTERDAY'S LATE SESSION

A few moments after 2 o'clock, the afternoon session opened. The rail-cot of jurors and defendants was taken by the clerk of court, and then Dr. Krasny resumed the stand for further cross-examination by the district attorney. This related to the notes taken by the witness during his examination of the defendant, and was brief. Witness was, however, asked by the state to appear at the next session with these notes.

Dr. W. A. Thom, a specialist in nervous and mental diseases, and connected with the Boston Psychopathic hospital, off and on, he said, since 1913.

To Declare National Emergency Exists

NEW YORK, May 12.—Winthrop L. Marvin, secretary of the American Steamship Owners' association, announced today that Pacific coast operators had telegraphed Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Admiral Benson of the shipping board urging them to request President Harding to declare that a national emergency existed in the nation-wide shipping strike. The telegram recommended that the government take over the manning of vessels if the strikers refused to return to work within 48 hours.

Clara Hamon Relinquishes Claim

LOS ANGELES, May 12.—A settlement was effected today by which Clara Hamon relinquished all claim to the estate of Jake L. Hamon, of whose murder she was recently acquitted by an Oklahoma jury, it was announced by her attorney, J. B. Champion.

STOCK MARKET

The following is a complete report, giving high, low and closing quotations:

NEW YORK, May 12.—Virtually every division of the list except copper and utilities contributed to the generally lower range of prices at the opening to today's stock market. Steels again were most vulnerable, with the foreign oils, Motors and kindred shares also yielding. Further pressure with some of the tobacco and food specialties. American Writing Paper Co. and International Paper Co. drifted lower in that industry. Flats were dull but reactionary under lead of the coolers. Re-mittances to the leading foreign centers were variable.

An opening rate of 7 per cent. for call money, the highest initial quotation since last week, associated additional selling and further impairment of prices during the morning. Among high grade oils, especially Standard and American Petroleum, Royal Dutch and Houston, declines ran from 2 to 4 points. Motors and related issues, such as Studebaker, United States Rubber and Bosch, declined one or two points. Steel, equipments, shippings and a score of unclassified stocks yielded one to almost two points. Pacifacs hardened on the higher prices quoted for the refined product and gas shares were comparatively active and strong. Investment and secondary rails declined one or two points. Midway on announcement that the Southern Railway directors had failed to take action on the semi-annual preferred dividend, the stock of the company declined one point. The stock of the company declined one point.

Rails extended their declines in the last hour, Reading, Southern Railway and Canadian Pacific all dropping more or Ohio showing especial pressure. The closing was heavy.

Adventures of The Twins

ZIPPY ZEBRA

"SAY, MRS. OSTRICH, IS MY EAR BLUSHING?"

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
Now then, Zippy Zebra, who lived
"way off in the Land-That-Was-Far-the-Away-Of-All, was kicking up his heels and cavorting around in a carefree manner at the very minute he was being talked about.

On one side of him was Mr. Ostrich and on the other was Mrs. Ostrich busily eating stones. Suddenly Zippy stopped with a worried look and began flapping his right ear.

"Say, Mrs. Ostrich, is my ear blushing?" he asked anxiously.

Mrs. Ostrich stopped eating stones and squinted sideways. "Mercy me on us! How can I tell when it's as striped as an awning? What are you asking for?"

"It's burning hot," Zippy explained.

"And they used to say in the circus that when your ear burned like a hot coal somebody was saying something about you. My ear is as hot as a whole kitchen stove, so I feel sure that my name must be being mentioned somewhere. Now whatta you s'poset?"

"Oh, shucks!" answered Mrs. Ostrich, disgustedly. "Don't be so suspicious!"
Mr. Ostrich snorted, at least he made as nearly that kind of a noise as a bird can, and he said, "My dear, your English is shocking. You don't mean suspicious, you mean superstitious.
Believing in signs is called superstitious, and anyway it's very silly."

"That's what I'm trying to tell him," answered Mrs. Ostrich, "and I think my word sounds quite as well as yours.
Do tell us, Zippy, won't you, why you left the circus?"

"The gnomes untied my ropes and I bolted," nodded Zippy. "When I got out of my tent, you couldn't see me going for dust. I simply beat it."

"My, my!" said Mrs. Ostrich. "Talking about grammar, I think it is time you were getting among refined folks and learning to speak something besides slang."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

RIALTO THEATRE

"Jim the Penman," the feature story of the Rialto theatre for the last three days of the week, is the greatest screen triumph in which Lionel Barrymore has yet appeared. That well-known character of the screen, who outdoes himself in the role offered.
The production is the fourth of a series in which the well known actor has appeared for distribution by the Associated First National Pictures.
"Jim the Penman" is entirely different from any picture in which Mr. Barrymore has appeared to date. The program also carries Gene Daniels in trying to pronounce the name of his girl, "Beatrice" with his four front
teeth missing, is as funny as can be.

OPERA HOUSE

The funny antics of Milton Byron in the role of "Billy" in the comedy
by the same name, which the Lowell Players are presenting this week at the Opera House, are unusually amusing and mischievous. To hear him trying to pronounce the name of his
girl, "Beatrice" with his four front
teeth missing, is as funny as can be.

His tongue is uncontrollable and his efforts are wonderfully amusing. Don't miss it. Next week is farrower week for the players and their production will be the merry musical comedy, "The Circus Girl." Some novelties are promised.

THE STRAND

The story of "A Message from Mars," in which Bert Lytell appears in the stellar role, which is to appear for the first time locally on The Strand screen today, is brilliant and flecked with the fantastic in sufficient measure to insure the attention of all audiences without a pause. The mixture of romance and reality go to make it a really exceptional picture. Briefly, it concerns Horace Parker, a wealthy young Englishman, who is so wrapped up in himself that he imagines the world revolves around him and that he is a minor god. A series of lessons at the hands of a messenger from Mars, despatched to haunt the most selfish man on earth and condemned to remain with him until regeneration is effected, soon takes the self-esteem out of him,
and he re-wins the love of the girl he lost. Lytell is wonderfully interesting in the principal role, and the support accorded him by the engaging

ALL HIS AILMENTS
DISAPPEAREDWhen He Tried "Fruit-a-lives" or Fruit Liver TabletsMOUNT BELKNAP HOTEL, LAKEPORT, N.J.

"At 70 years of age, chronic Constipation was causing me to suffer with distressing Headaches, Dizziness and Indigestion.

I believe I have taken more medicine than any half-dozen people in town; but nothing did me good until I tried 'Fruit-a-lives'.

Right away I could see their good effects. After taking them for three months, my bowels were regular, and the other ailments disappeared."

Edith Roberts in "The Fire Cat" is the other feature on the bill and this too, richly deserves favorable consideration from the patrons, for it is a big grade, photoplay and presented in a most artistic and finished manner. It's the story of a girl who frequents a vile dance hall section of a South American city and there meets a young American engineer whom she at first turns aside, but who later wins her love and steers through a queer and interesting series of adventures. To indicate just what caused the change and detail the happenings would be depriving a deal of pleasure for those who plan to see it. Don't miss seeing both pictures.

The usual comedy and Weekly, as well as new musical features help to make the bill exceptionally good.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Oh, but there's speed and likableness to the present week's bill at the B. F.
Keith theatre. Ask anybody who has been there, and if he doesn't admit that it is a peppy bill then he's grouchy. Take the delightful little comedy called "Shoes." As played by Hudson & Whipple, it is delicately done. Then there is Tom Patricola with a dancing bit that's a corker.

Jerome Delroy, who assists him, gets into the picture a lot. Denny and Barry offer very classy comedy and some good dancing, and Vincent O'Donnell, the "Kid McCormack," can put over a song in a manner beyond reproach.
The dancing of Cooper and Leach, with the limitations of the latter, makes 15 minutes of real speedy entertainment, while the acrobatics of Sankur and Sylvan, who do their work while fox trotting, are in a class by themselves. Suiter & Dell, cyclists, are different from the usual run.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Betty Compton, the pretty star, who electrified all who saw her in the part of "Rose" in "The Miracle Man," has an even more appealing role in "Missioners of Love," the feature production of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. Miss Compton plays the role of a girl whose beauty and physical magnetism sweep her beyond the brink of life's deepest pitfall. The other big feature for the second part of the week is "One Man in a Million," a corking story of modern life, starring George Beban, who has been hailed as the greatest interpreter of foreign characters on the American stage of screen today. A comedy and the International News round out the bill. Don't forget the anniversary week cake contest this evening and the souvenir to be given the ladies attending tomorrow's matinee.

LOWELL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Silas R. Coburn of Braintree read an interesting paper on the history of that town at the quarterly meeting of the Lowell Historical society last evening at the society's rooms in the Memorial building. The reading of the paper was followed by an informal discussion of general historical matters. The committee appointed on the project to preserve the old Durkee house of Varnum avenue asked for more time. It is hoped that sufficient public interest will be aroused to project to save the house from going into complete decay.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK

BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of calo-nite powder from your drugstore—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge —rub over the blackheads heavily for a few seconds—and wash off.
You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The calonite powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out.
While the simple action of calo-nite powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.
You can get calonite powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

ESCAPE OF BERGDOLL

Sergt. O'Hare Declares He Was Not Told of Buried
Pot of Gold

WASHINGTON, May 12.—In giving a first-hand account of the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the Philadelphia draft dodger, Sergt. John O'Hare, who was in command of the escort which started out with Berg-doll from Governor's Island for the mountains of Maryland told the house investigating committee yesterday that he had never heard a word about the buried pot of gold until long after the prisoner had fled.

O'Hare was positive in the assertion that when he started out for the mountains the only instructions he received from Col. John E. Hunt, his superior officer, was to proceed with the prisoner to Hagerstown, Md., get some money from a bank, take it to another bank at Philadelphia and return to the barracks.

There were no written orders except that when he started out for the mountains the only instructions he received from Col. John E. Hunt, his superior
officer, was to proceed with the prisoner to Hagerstown, Md., get some money from a bank, take it to another
bank at Philadelphia and return to
the barracks.

The sergeant told how Bergdoll, who had evaded the draft for a couple of years, was sent from the island in the full uniform of an enlisted man, with a hat cord indicating that he belonged to the infantry branch of the service.
How he had sat in the train from New York to Philadelphia without uttering a word and chewing tobacco all the while.

Step by step he told of various moves up to the moment when Berg-doll walked into the bathroom to answer the telephone. He was never seen after that and to this day the sergeant said, he does not know how he got out. Except for that single moment, he declared, the prisoner was never out of his sight.

No amount of cross-examination could budge the witness from his statement that he was in entire ignorance of any plan to go out and dig up the buried gold, the object for which the prisoner was released in midst of O'Hare and York, another sergeant.

Farmer money, called "flying money,"

FRATERNAL NEWS

Lowell lodge, 518, Loyal Order of Moose, met last evening at its quarters in Odd Fellows building with Dictator Edward St. Leger in the chair.
The anniversary committee reported that plans were completed for the concert and dance to be held this evening in Associate hall. The auditor's report for the last quarters showed the lodge to be in good financial condition. A class initiation will be held at the next meeting on May 25.

"HOSPITAL DAY"

Birthday of Florence Night-

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The birthday of Florence Nightingale, pioneer in modern nursing, was celebrated today for the first time as a "national hospital day" in nearly 8000 hospitals throughout the United States. The public health service issued instructions that every institution under its supervision keep "open house" and explain to visitors the work of an up-to-date health factory. Those who cannot visit their disabled soldier relatives or friends in these hospitals today might "say it with flowers or smokes," the service bulletin suggested.

LAWRENCE WINS DEBATE

A team representing the Greenhalgo

Lawrence city hall last evening. The Lowell team upheld the affirmative side of the question: Resolved: That all labor disputes between labor organizations and employers should be submitted to a federal compulsory board of arbitration." The judges voted 2 to 1 in favor of the negative. The Lowell teams was composed of David Connors, William Thompson and Myer Arnold. The Lawrence team included Lewis B. Carey, Thomas McCarthy and Ernest J. Simmes. The judges were Prof. G. F. French and Prof. F. W. H.

RAIL RATES MAY BE CUT FOR TEST

By H. N. RICKEY

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The railway problem is no nearer solution today than at any time during the many months that it has been recognized by all of official Washington as the most vital and perplexing of all national problems.

This is admitted by practically every man whose knowledge of the situation qualifies him to discuss it.

There is no doubt that from the standpoint of the owners and managers, the plight of the railways is becoming more desperate each day. Neither is there any doubt that from the standpoint of the shippers and travelers, the situation is equally desperate.

That failure to find a constructive answer to the problem, and break the vicious circle of high rates to the public and diminishing returns to the railway stockholders, retarding the return of the country to industrial and financial health, is another point on which Washington officials agree.

Working on Problem

It is not that the railway problem is being neglected by those responsible for finding an answer to it. Far from it.

If work and thought and worry would have straightened out the railway tangle it would have been straightened out long ago.

But the right formula has not yet been found.

If one of President Harding's advisers would walk into the White House tomorrow and present a plan which gave even reasonable promise of heading the railways toward normalcy, the president would be happier than at any time since he was inaugurated.

Eventually there must be great modifications of the Esch-Cummins law, which is the medium through which the government exercises railway control. It is generally admitted that this law has proven inadequate even under normal conditions.

But there are so many divergent ideas in congress as to what these changes should be that relief cannot be expected for months.

What is being sought so earnestly is some plan that will afford immediate relief but temporary relief.

Plan Considered

The suggestion recently made that the interstate commerce commission and the railways agree to a drastic reduction in the rates of basic commodities, for a trial period of 30 days, is being seriously considered.

The theory is that the movement of freight affected by the cut would be so stimulated that the railways would gain more through volume of freight movement than they would lose by the cut and that the stimulation would accelerate the whole industrial machine.

In the meantime the railway managers are vigorously pressing their campaign for wage reductions of railway employees, claiming that this is the key to the situation.

That there will be reductions goes without saying. There already have been many.

But nobody seems to agree with the railway managers that there is enough margin between present wages and living wages, below which the workers cannot be pushed, to reestablish the financial integrity of the American transportation system.

REDUCE THOSE DANGEROUS SWOLLEN VEINS

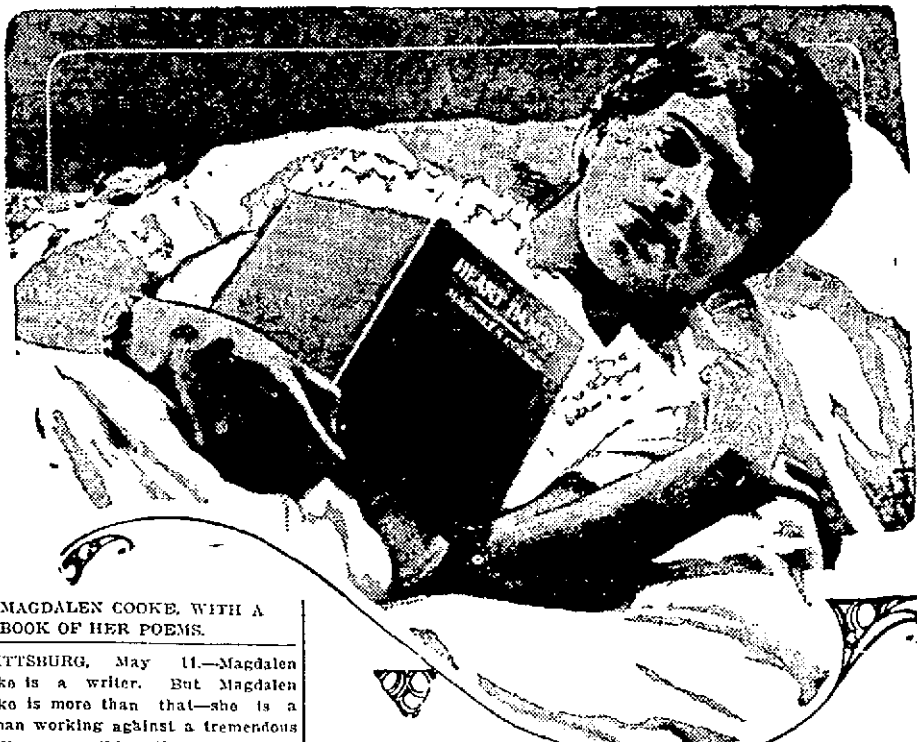

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and blemishes to become normal, but also reduces galled, enlarged glands and veins.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything less. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directed and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist or Fred Howard can supply you.

HELPLESS—SUPPORTS SELF AND SON

MAGDALEN COOKE, WITH A BOOK OF HER POEMS.

PITTSBURGH, May 11.—Magdalen Cooke is a writer. But Magdalen Cooke is more than that—she is a woman working against a tremendous handicap—something that would probably flounder her, if somewhere she had not caught the gleam of a divine inspiration and harnessed to her will to be, in spite of everything, mother and father to her son.

Magdalen was seventeen years old when her son was born. And for that new life was exacted her own health and her sight—it left her a body paralyzed, with the exception of her arms. A year later Magdalen's husband died. She was alone, blind and helpless with a child one year old.

"But you know," say Magdalen, "I believe that if you think things hard enough they eventually become realities—we can make them so, and that is what I did with my eyes. Why, I couldn't go through the rest of my life blind."

Three years passed and Mrs. Cooke's blindness was at an end. Her sight returned.

"Just how Orville (her son) and I put through those first few years, I don't know—have you ever noticed how time erases the hard things from your memory?—but I read everything I could get my hands on. My education had been limited and I knew I must make Orville's and my living with my brain.

"And I have; anyone can do the things they have to do," said Mrs. Cooke. "I began to write, to write with a purpose—a definite knowledge

Orville is now in high school. Mrs. Cooke is 32. She lives in a little home, which she has paid for herself.

$750,000 Fire at Youngstown, Ohio

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 12.—Fire early today, caused a loss estimated at $750,000. The old Mahoning Valley power house, a lumber yard, 10 houses and a garage, were destroyed and the plant of the Smith Brewery Co., was damaged. Firemen say the blaze, which started in the Parish Brothers' lumber yard, was incendiary, and that gasoline or oil had been sprinkled over the lumber. Traffic on the Erie railroad was tied up more than four hours.

Norway to Get Loan in New York

COPENHAGEN, May 12.—Norway has received assurances of obtaining a government loan of 150,000,000 kroner in New York, it is understood in Danish financial circles. Despite the serious strike situation in that country, Norwegian currency has been steadily rising since last Friday, this being due, it is said, to the promised loan.

TO CONTINUE EDUCATION

Over 100 High School Students Plan to Enter College Next Fall

Sixty-three boys and 49 girls, members of this year's graduating class at the Lowell high school, are planning to attend institutions of higher education next fall, according to records available at the school office.

Headmaster Henry H. Harris has forwarded to the college entrance examination board transcripts of the records of 35 boys and eight girls who intend to take the examination to be conducted by this board in June for those wishing to enter any of the colleges which come under its jurisdiction. Many of the larger colleges of the country have united in their entrance examination requirements and have turned the details of one general examination over to the college entrance examination board.

With the transcripts of the students' records at the high school, Mr. Harris has also sent a check for $253 cover-

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Glogged Up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do, don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777, known as Jarsbrock, is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease. Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with un-failing certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to kidney disease, don't lose a single day for Fred Howard, 137 Central street and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles, to all who state they have received no benefit.—Adv.

A number of other colleges require no entrance examination providing the student's record shows that he or she has done the proper grade of work during the high school course. Boston college and Amherst are among the colleges that accept students on certification. Principal Harris has certified the names of 13 boys and 15 girls as eligible for entrance to college without examination. The names of 25 girls have been forwarded to the Normal school as those of young women intending to enter that institution next fall. Fifteen boys and one girl intend to enter the Lowell Textile school.

JEWELLED COLLARS
Jewelled collars have again become an important part of dress apparel. They probably came from the fact that Mrs. Harding has been wearing one her husband gave her.

Yank Polo Ponies Superior

(Special to The Sun)
LONDON, May 12.—Superiority in speed and training of American polo ponies makes the invading Yankees favorites to win the international cup in the matches at Hurlingham next June.

The term "pony" does not fit the horses which the Americans have in training at Sunbury.

The ponies are thoroughbreds with as blue blood in their veins as those which run in the famous Epsom and Kentucky derbies of this country and America.

Often some of them show as much speed for a distance of a quarter or half as derby runners.

In polo playing it is seldom necessary for them to sprint far.

All polo ponies are measured and weighed. Some of them grow after being measured, but after once registered they are eligible.

The 50 ponies which America has sent here are getting quite as much attention as the players themselves.

The value of these ponies is estimated at close to $100,000.

The coming international races will be the seventh in a series of matches that have been played for the historic polo cup.

The polo cup was won by the English club which won it in 1914. First matches date back to 1858. Soldiers made up the first American team.

America lifted the cup in 1903. England contested for it in 1911 and 1915 unsuccessfully, but won it the next year.

The American team will be selected from Devereaux Milburn, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., Louis E. Stoddard, C. C. Runney, Robert L. Strawbridge, Earl W. Hopping and J. Watson Webb.

THE INSIDER

Champion Johnny Wilson is still waiting for Mike Gibbons to "go out and make a reputation."

More athletes will probably go in for chess now since Jose Capablanca has been honored by a pension from Cuba.

A microscopic study of George Kelly's home run style reveals the painful fact that he is flat-footed.

Carpenter's statement that he is "confident of doing his best" doesn't leave any room for criticism.

George Kelly made his first home run in the major leagues on September 1, 1919.

Robert E. Strawbridge (left) riding beside Thomas Hitchcock, Jr. after the FAIRBANKS NATIONAL POLO CUP THEY HOPE TO LIFT FROM THE BRITONS.

Amateur "Big Three" After Golf Title!

BOBBY JONES

Hopes to win the British amateur golf championship are pinned in the "Big Three" of the American team—Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet and Bobby Jones.

They represent the strongest layout of talent ever sent in quest of a cup on foreign links.

Evans and Ouimet went to England in 1914 and lost.

Jones will be the only member of the trio to be handicapped by strange surroundings. Yet he is much further developed in his game than either Evans or Ouimet were when they first played abroad.

The trio represents the golf strength of east, west and south.

FRANCIS OUIMET

Ouimet played hockey from school when he was a kid to rattle over the links. He had the bug so bad he often got up in the middle of the night to practice new swings.

Jones grew up with the golf links as his playground.

Ted Ray, during his visit here last summer, saw the Atlanta boy-wonder play and remarked that he could beat any amateur in England.

The other members of the invading team are J. H. Wadsworth, Fredrick Wright, Paul Hunter and William C. Fownes, all strong golfers.

In the American team the Britons will be called on to face a national champion, two former national champions, two state title holders, a southern champion and a former finalist and a district finalist, who reached the national semi-finals in 1919.

Four Killed In Airplane Accidents

ARCADIA, Fla., May 12.—Lieut. George R. Bloom, and Sergeant Harry J. Kelting, army fliers attached to Carlstrom field, were killed yesterday in a crash of their plane and the subsequent explosion of the gasoline tank. A stalled motor was responsible for the crash. Bloom's home was in Mayssville, Mo., and Kelting's in Bloomington, Ill.

LAWTON, Okla., May 12.—Sergeant Algotti Bloomquist and C. E. McCullough, a cotton broker of Oklahoma City, were killed and Sergeant B. Grogan, Atlanta, Ga., were seriously injured in an airplane accident near the military reservation at Fort Sill, Okla., yesterday. A tailspin caused the accident.

Yield to Demands of Port Workers

BUENOS AIRES, May 12.—Virtually all the demands made by port workers here were granted in an agreement reached yesterday by the United States embassy and Argentine authorities for the solution of difficulties which caused the boycott of the Munson liner Martha Washington, which has been tied up in this harbor since March 29.

Chas. H. Morse Left Estate of $6,000,000

CHICAGO, May 12.—An estate of $6,000,000, was left by Charles H. Morse, scale and machinery manufacturer, who died May 5 at Winter Park, Fla., according to the will. The two sons of Mr. Morse, Charles H., Jr., and Robert, divided control of the Fairbanks Morse Companies between them.

Applause Creators Want to Unionize

BUENOS AIRES, May 12.—Claguers, boys and men, whose vocation is to create applause in the Buenos Aires theatres, have demanded the right to be unionized as a regular part of the theatrical profession. Their assertion of rights is causing considerable confusion and debate among the organizers of a union which is to include scene shifters, dressmakers and others who live behind the scenes of the world of make-believe. Authors, who are accused of owing a deep debt of gratitude to their humble supporters are said to oppose their claims.

To Proclaim Croatian Republic

VIENNA, May 12.—A peasant's congress, called for the purpose of proclaiming a Croatian republic, will meet at Agram next Monday, says a Belgrade despatch. Stefan Radich, leader of the peasants' party in Croatia, has issued the call. The Jingo-Slav government, upon learning of the proposed meeting, ordered that measures be taken to prevent it.

Why You Must Have Iron to Make Your Body Strong and Your Brain Keen

Alert and Powerful—Value of Spinach and Organic Iron to Help Make Rich Red Blood and Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

WITH PLENTY OF BLOOD AND IRON, YOUR BRAIN is the most wonderful thing in all creation but without these it is nothing. IRON TAKES OXYGEN from your lungs and carries it to your brain. Without iron your brain gets no oxygen; and without plenty of rich red blood and oxygen your brain becomes dull and heavy. YOUR INTELLECT POOR, your memory fails, YOU DO FOOLISH THINGS, make bad decisions and you really amount to nothing, so far as accomplishing anything of importance is concerned.

Also without iron YOUR BLOOD BECOMES THIN AND WATERY and loses its power to change food into living cells and tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOUR BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

When, as a result of iron starvation, you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset; when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but get more spinach and other iron-containing vegetables and take organic iron with them to help enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out, exhausted nerves. But be sure that the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Organic iron may be had from your druggist under the name of NUXATED IRON. Nuxated iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating half a quart of spinach or one quart of green vegetables. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

Milwaukee Produces a New "Dicky Kerr"

MILWAUKEE, May 12.—Manager Jack Eagan of the Milwaukee club has a new Dicky Kerr. His name is Denny (Kewpie) Gearin. In every detail he is a dead ringer for the star Chicago White Sox southpaw.

Kerr played on the Milwaukee club in 1917 and 1918. He was sold up to

GEARIN AND KERR

Denny Gearin is writing his start with Milwaukee. That's also where Dicky Kerr started. Gearin is a southpaw. So is Kerr.

Gearin is 5 feet tall. Kerr is 5 feet, 7 inches.

Gearin weighs 145 pounds. Kerr 152.

Gearin has a pitching heart. So has Kerr.

Gearin is a star lefty in the Association. So is Kerr in the American league.

And they even look alike and act alike in the box.

the Sox where he is rated as one of the best left-handers in baseball.

Gearin's home is in Providence. R. I. Manager Eagan saw him playing there and noticed the striking similarity between the kid southpaw southpaw and the star he had traded to the Sox in 1918.

He signed him up, then sold him to the Oakland, Cal. club.

When he reported at Oakland Manager Del Howard thought Eagan had sold him his hat boy.

Gearin is now back at Milwaukee and a star lefty.

Seven of the other American Association clubs have tried to get him. But the new Dicky Kerr isn't for sale.

When Milwaukee sells him it will be to some big league club.

"The kid will live to see the day when he can beat Kerr in a pitchers' duel," says Manager Eagan.

Man, Sheriff Forgot to Hang, Transferred

SHREVEPORT, La., May 12.—Lonnie Eaton, negro murderer, whom a sheriff forgot to hang, was taken from the Caddo Parish jail today and delivered to the state penitentiary at Baton Rouge, to begin a life sentence.

Sheriff Grant of Ouachita parish forgot to hang Eaton on the date set, and his sentence later was commuted by Governor Parker to a life term. He was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a white man more than a year ago.

Mrs. Werner Acquitted of Murder

HERKIMER, N. Y., May 12.—Mrs. Jennie Werner was acquitted today of murder in the first degree. The jury was out all night. She had been on trial since April 18 for complicity in the killing of her husband, Henry Werner, an Ikon farmer. Rutgers B. Warder, confessed slayer of Werner, who was brought back from the death house at Sing Sing prison to testify against the widow, was returned to prison today. Mrs. Werner's mother, Minnie Woodbridge, is under indictment of charge of plotting the crime; but it is expected that she will not be brought to trial.

Return to Work at Reduced Wages

CINCINNATI, May 12.—Structural iron workers and rodmen, who have been on strike here since last November, have agreed to become members of the Cincinnati Wage Adjustment board and return to work at reduced wages. The Cincinnati plan was indorsed last week by the executive council of the building trade department of the American Federation of Labor as a model for other cities. Under this new scale the rodmen will receive 80 cents an hour, and the ironworkers 90 cents. When the wage adjustment board was formed it reduced the scale of these workers from $1.25 to 90 cents. A strike followed.

Sold League of Nations Stock

CHICAGO, May 12.—Stock in the League of Nations at $10 a share is the latest bargain to be offered to the Chicago investing public. Department of justice agents today began searching for the men who have victimized numerous persons by selling the stock, collecting 25 per cent of the price in advance of delivery. The League of Nations was represented as the greatest organization in the world, and prospective purchasers were told dividends would be large because of the great value of the league to humanity.

Heavy Damage Caused By Frost

SPRINGFIELD, May 12.—With the mercury close to the freezing point, heavy frost damage was reported in this vicinity today. Early estimates hereabouts set the loss to the young plants in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Reply From Netherlands To U. S.

THE HAGUE, May 12.—Belief exists that the answer of The Netherlands government to proposals advanced by the American state department relative to the Djambi oil fields in the East Indies, will be that the American note arrived too late for the government to take any action regarding it. The text of the government's answer to Washington has not been published as yet.

Worn Out at 50--- Now Young Again

Worcester Man, Rundown at 50, Reports Splendid Results After Taking Gland Tablets

"After suffering for some time with general run-down condition, today, thanks to Glandex Compound, I feel like a new man. All my distressing symptoms having left me," said Mr. George E. Marks, of 11 1/2 Charlton St., Worcester, Mass.

"I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism and headaches. Sometimes I had such headaches that I could hardly see. My rheumatic pains would almost take my breath away. And no matter how much sleep I had I felt tired-out all the time."

"Since taking Glandex, however, my rheumatism and headaches have left me, and I no longer shiver that tired feeling. I feel just full of ambition and am ready for hard work all the time. I once more feel as young as any man in his prime."

Mr. Marks' experience with Glandex is typical of the experiences of hundreds of others who have derived decided benefits from this great medicine. From everywhere are reported the same remarkable results.

The reason Glandex brings such amazing results in so many cases is because it helps build up run-down glands—which science now says is the cause of many run-down conditions. Glandex feeds run-down human glands with extracts taken from the glands of vigorous sheep and cattle. Practically on the same principle as recharging a storage battery. Also contains iron and other well known health builders.

If weak, pale, thin or generally run-down try this remarkable tonic. Brings results—or your money back. Has helped thousands to regain health and strength. Try a bottle! Sold at good druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Speed and Accuracy Bring

Success, Says $10,000 a Year Woman

LOS ANGELES, May 12.—She sells her brains to the business world for $10,000 a year.

Her name is Caroline E. Smith, and she is financial secretary to W. A. Clark, Jr., multi-millionaire mining man and patron of art and music.

Miss Smith is the door through which all important business with the Philharmonic Auditorium theatre of this city is conducted.

Back of her ready smile and silvery laugh reposes one of the most active brains belonging to any woman in the west; she thinks like lightning and renders decisions with the snap of a steel trap; and she has the reputation of seldom rescinding an order once given.

Caroline Smith has one motto which she claims brought her success: "Speed combined with accuracy compel recognition."

BREEDING SEASON FOR WILD BIRDS

The breeding season for wild birds is at hand and Lowell people are asked by William C. Adams, director of the division of fisheries and game of the state department of conservation, to co-operate with the department in keeping the mortality of birds at a minimum during the next few months. From the middle of May to the middle of August is a time of great destruction to bird life, the mother birds being confined to the nests and the nestlings being unable to care for themselves.

While some of the mortality is due to injurious birds and animals and exposure to unfavorable weather conditions, the greatest single living agency in the destruction is the roaming, unrestrained house cat. The owner of every cat in Lowell and surrounding towns is asked to keep it under such control that it will be impossible for it to catch ground nesting birds or the young birds leaving the nests.

"I WILL CONTINUE FIGHT FOR LABOR"—MOONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—When I am free, I will continue to fight for labor."

This was the declaration of Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of participation in the Preparedness Day bombings of 1916, when he was brought here recently from San Quentin for a hearing on a writ of Audita Quereita. He is now serving a life sentence.

But—and this was the point Mooney seemed most anxious to have reach his friends—nothing else will be attempted by him until Warren K. Billings, convicted in the case, is released. "Certain persons," said Mooney, "are encouraging rumors that the fight we are waging will be forgotten. It is not so. The facts in my case are clear, and the case more easily fought. If I am freed—and every indication now points that way—a precedent will be established and the release of Billings made easy. That is the only reason the fight is being centered on my own release first."

Mooney's trip to San Francisco was his first release from prison in three years. One of the first things he did was to confer with the labor leaders who have been carrying on the fight for his release.

Imprisonment appears to have shaped into a more conventional mould the man who, a few years ago, was considered one of the most radical and aggressive of agitators. He beams with good health, and his skin has lost its pallor and had taken on a ruddy tan, suggestive of vigorous outdoor exercise. He has lost some weight and his brown hair has grayed, but he still retains the virility of the prime of life. As he stepped into the courtroom he might easily have been taken for a prosperous business man—prosperous by reason of his aggressiveness and determination.

Not too proud to stand. And it's no wonder. If you were the luckiest man in Europe you'd probably strut, too. This is Livio Catenazzi, formerly a bricklayer, now a man of independent means. He won $60,000 at par rate of exchange, in the big Italian lottery.

Lowell Murder Case

Next look the stand. He told of being one of the two state examiners of insane persons. While in the army, said witness, he was sent to England in his capacity as an officer to study cases of shell shock. He was also, he stated, connected with the department of mental hygiene, formed by the government, working side by side with the United States public health service. Witness narrated sundry additional experiences as a specialist.

He characterized Fortier as "mentally deficient," and stated that he would put him "in the group of imbeciles." He described the division made of imbecility into three grades, high, middle and low, and he declared that Fortier might be catalogued as of high grade, and of 5-year-old intelligence level.

Judge Cox here asked for his own information whether witness would place an imbecile as higher in grade than an idiot. The doctor replied that he would.

Imbecility is due to a retardation of the brain, explained witness. "You wouldn't expect to find any function of the mind perfect in an imbecile," he said. It would be correct to say that imbecility falsified the emotions, witness said. As regards motive of conduct, the doctor said that an imbecile would be liable to over-estimate or under-estimate. This affliction weakens the will, declared Dr. Thom.

Witness said he took a himbar puncture of Fortier, and had a Wasserman test made on the spinal fluid, together with the so-called Gold test.

District Attorney Questioning

Witness said he examined Fortier, making notes of some of the prisoner's answers, but not all.

Witness told of questioning Fortier as to his various stations in France. The prisoner answered "pretty fully," remarking that he was at the Argonne, at Chateau-Thierry, and at other points in the zone of contact. The prisoner gave some foolish answers to queries, said the witness.

Fortier told the witness, he testified, of entering a drug store at Nashua, N. H. Witness could not say, he declared, why he had not used the term "robbing" instead of "entering" when answering the previous question. Witness could not recall the details of what Fortier said with reference to his companion at this time.

Witness believed that Fortier had mentioned the name of the person who was with him when the drug store was robbed. But he could not recall that name. He could not say that the name of "Therger" as that of his companion. Witness failed to recall if the prisoner mentioned the name of another person with him on that occasion as "Therger." The doctor could not remember whether Fortier spoke of a person who he said had given him a revolver at the afternoon of the fallen shooting, as being by name "Therger."

Witness told of asking Fortier about the events of Jan. 25, and remembered the prisoner responding that he got some liquor at the same time he got the revolver. To the district attorney's queries, the doctor said that Fortier's actions prior to, during, and following the shooting were not, objectively taken, peculiar to imbecility. However, cross-questioned by Attorney Tierney, the doctor declared that all these acts were not inconsistent with the imbecility of the persons performing them.

Dr. Thom was here dismissed from the stand, while his notes, after being read to the jury by Attorney Tierney, were put in evidence.

These notes included a statement that Fortier was apparently not conscious of the seriousness of his crime. They were marked "Exhibit 32."

At this point, Mr. Tierney addressed the court, saying, "The defendant Fortier rests."

A discussion here ensued as to whether the government's rebuttal in the case of Fortier should go forward at once, or be postponed until the defence of the Therger has been offered. The district attorney stated the commonwealth's desire that all three rebuttals be given after the defence has rested in each instance. Attorney Donahue mentioned that although the defendants are being tried together, each case is a separate one. The court, he ruled, that the state's rebuttal in the Fortier case should be made at once and Dist. Atty. Tufts accordingly called Dr. Harry H. Colburn as the first expert called by the state in rebuttal of the Fortier case.

Was for five years the neurologist for the Boston dispensary, he said, and he narrated further experience some of it while engaged under the direction of the war department.

Having heard the evidence, having examined the prisoner, and having observed him, the witness said, he believed Fortier not to be an imbecile, but to be insane. Fortier's witness opinion, is able to distinguish the difference between right and wrong.

Queried as to his examination of the prisoner yesterday, witness said that Fortier was very slow in answering his questions. Witness said that he has an opinion relative to Fortier's effort to reply truthfully to his queries. Dr. Colburn said that the psychological tests, such as Fortier took, are valueless unless the subject co-operates. He told of noting that the prisoner was abnormally slow in giving answers to his queries. Sometimes, he

Very Good Idea—Justine Would Depict Women As They Are In Life

JUSTINE JOHNSTONE, SHE'S GOING TO PRODUCE MOVIES TO SHOW WOMEN AS THEY ARE IN EVERYDAY LIFE. SHE HAS STARRED IN FILMS AND ON THE STAGE.

BY JAMES W. DEAN
False impressions of women are gained through movies, says Justine Johnston. And so she's going to produce films that will depict womanhood as she things it is.

"I think pictures today show women in rather a bad light," says Justine. "They are either pictured as too noble and unworshipful for words, or they are made to appear frivolous, selfish creatures given to ridiculous gowns and even more ridiculous manners."

"I shall try to show women as they are—real people who are doing real work in the world."

She's on the way to Europe. She will consult with Ellen Key, famous feminist. She will also ask Gabriel d'Annunzio, famous Italian soldier-poet to write screen stories for her.

Her first picture will be called "Fifth Avenue" and will note the progress of woman in the last 25 years as exemplified in the growth of New York's "Boulevard de Femmes."

Undoubtedly Miss Johnston is right in her contention that the movies do not represent the every day girl. But does the everyday girl who by the way, is the screen's greatest patron, want to see herself depicted on the screen?

The presumption of producers and authors of "best sellers" has always been that most of us ordinary humans like to read in print or on screen of those whose lives are unlike our own.

"Peter Pan"

John S. Robertson has gone to London to confer with Sir James M. Barrie and Adolph Zukor on the filming of "Peter Pan." Josephine Lovett (Mrs. Robertson) will write the scenario. She wrote the scenario for Barrie's said, as much as 35 seconds elapsed between question and answer.

A lengthy recess was taken at this time, and the session was not resumed until 4 o'clock.

Atty. Tierney was cross-examining when the witness again took the stand. The doctor agreed that the Stanford test is a standard psychological test. The witness described imbecility as being a lack of mental development.

"Were all Fortier's answers slow?" "Most of them were slow."

"There is in medical science what is known as expansive ideas, isn't there?" "Yes." Witness said that expansive ideas indicate an exhilarated, or diseased state of mind.

There is no absolute way of telling whether mental patients are telling the truth or not, said witness.

"What are some of the characteristic signs of imbecility?"

"Physical appearance of head and facial expression." Witness said he would expect an imbecile's expression to be of the "town fool" type. The doc-

"Sentimental Tommy," which Robertson directed for Paramount.

"Why Censor Art?"

Abel Gance, French author and producer, is in this country to see the premiere of his film, "J'accuse." He is a member of the French board of censors, yet says he is against censorship. He says, "The motion picture is an art. Art is truth. Truth cannot be censored."

The Cinemascope

"Freckles" Barry is to be starred in "School Days." William Farnum, now in Europe, declares he is to retire from the screen. Gloria Swanson is to have the leading part in "The Shulamite," Edward Knoblock's play.

When is a kiss in time? Wanda Hawley's newest is titled "A Kiss in Time."

"Who Pays My Wife's Bill?" That's the stupid title of Max Linder's new comedy.

"Deception" shows to 150,000 in three weeks at one theatre in New York.

"No good American is afraid of the German picture," says William Fox. "American films beat 'em to a frazzle." Wallace Reid and Elsie Ferguson begin work on the screen version of "Peter Ibbetson," May 16. George Fitzmaurice will direct.

Another title changed: "The Promised Land," new name for Ethel Clayton's picture made from Henry Arthur Jones' "The Lifted Veil."

Carl Gantvoort, Claire Adams and Robert McKim are the leading players in "The Man of the Forest," pictureization of a Zane Gray novel soon to be released by Hodkinson.

for said one would wish to find out an imbecile's personal and social history, and his moral reactions, in examining him. Witness said he would be influenced by the Stanford test, in conjunction with other tests, when coming to a decision as to a subject's mentality.

Attorney Tierney asked witness if anything could be done in examining Fortier, which has not been done. Nothing occurred to the witness.

"Would indifference to circumstances or surroundings be characteristic of an imbecile 26 years of age and graded as an imbecile, 6 to 9 years of age mentally?"

In the case of a man very calm or indifferent in the presence of police officers at the station house after being arrested in connection with a shooting, the indifference to surroundings might indicate imbecility, but more moral imbecility than any other sort.

Witness was excused from the stand just prior to the adjournment of court.

Sure Relief

Why Dread Old Age?

It don't make much difference how old you are if you only keep in good health and are active. Many people appear older at 60 than others do at 70, to keep looking young you have got to enjoy good health, and do as little worrying as possible. Backaches, swollen joints and legs, disturbed sleep by being compelled to arise one or more times during the night are sure symptoms of kidney trouble, and should have immediate attention to avoid serious consequences. SEVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs, is one of the best remedies to take not only for affected kidneys, but for liver, stomach and heart troubles.

Middle-aged people realize that they cannot perform their work or move around as fast as formerly. The internal organs feel the effect of age and do not perform their work properly. The heart palpitates on the slightest exertion and the back aches after a day's work. The muscles and flesh get flabby, and the blood thinner than formerly. It is then you need a good tonic and bowel regulator—you cannot find a more reliable and efficient remedy for these conditions than SEVEN BARKS.

If you want to enjoy life, recover some of your youthful vigor and have the glow of health, get SEVEN BARKS of your druggist. Do not accept a substitute—ADV.

INGROWN TOE NAIL
TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduce inflammation and pain and so tend to the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions—ADV.

Writes His Thanks From Washington
Only men and women who have suffered from kidney trouble can realize how grateful one feels when relief from suffering is achieved. Nathan Harner, 422 N. St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for years, but got no relief until I took Foley Kidney Pills." Burdette Drug Co., 415 Middlesex St., New York—ADV.

Woman Struck as She Lay Asleep—Pocketbook Taken —Robber Escapes

BOSTON, May 12.—While policemen were investigating an attack early today on Mrs. Rose E. Goldstein by a man who, after thrusting his head in the window of her bedroom, struck her over the head and then ran away with a pocketbook from under her pillow, they were called to another house a short distance away and exchanged several shots with a negro.

The man had awakened James J.
Nolan by ringing his doorbell and when officers arrived in answer to a telephone call, he drew a revolver and opened fire. The officers returned the shots but the man escaped after a chase through backyards and fences. When last seen by the police, he was headed toward the Goldstein house and it was thought he might have been responsible for the attack on the woman.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 12.—Thirty-five extra policemen were on duty along the wharves today, as the result of an affray aboard the shipping board vessel Lordship Manor, in which three members of the crew were beaten.

More than a hundred men were in the party that invaded the vessel.
Mayor Sappington appealed to the governor to detail three Texas Rangers to take charge of the situation.

MANY INQUIRIES ON TRADE RESTRICTIONS

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Germany's acceptance of the allied reparations demands has promptly stimulated interest of American business in German trade possibilities. There has been a marked increase in the number of inquiries reaching the state department concerning trade restrictions. Secretary Hughes has replied in effect that with the exception of a few articles and a few restrictions, Americans may carry on trade with Germany as freely as with any other country.

DR. FISHER OFF FOR PALESTINE

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—Dr. Charles Fisher, a physician of Philadelphia, is leaving today for Palestine to undertake what he described as one of the most important excursions ever made in the Holy Land and the first since the beginning of the world war. He expects to find many other things some of the iron clad fortifications in the hills, which prevented the children of Israel from conquering the land, and which city some of the greatest battles of early history were fought.

COUNTS AGAINST I. W. W.

MEMBERS SET ASIDE

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 12.—The United States circuit court of appeals today set aside the first of the four counts in the indictment on which 25 members of the Industrial Workers of the World were convicted and sentenced to varying terms in Leavenworth penitentiary by the Federal district court of Kansas.

The three other counts were held valid. The first count, which was found faulty, charged conspiracy to hinder the execution of six different acts of congress and presidential proclamations intended for the carrying out of the government's war program.

CALL J. H. THOMAS JUDAS OF LABOR

NEW YORK, May 12.—J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen of Great Britain, faced a hostile demonstration on his arrival here yesterday on the Olympic.
Men and women, who styled themselves as representatives of the Irish-American Labor league, assembled at the pier bearing banners criticizing Thomas for his action in the settlement of the threatened strike of the railwaymen in England last month when he urged the miners to accept a resumption of negotiations with Premier Lloyd George. The withdrawal of the railwaymen was the first break of one banner read, "Judas hanged himself after his betrayal—Will Thomas do the same?" Another asserted British workmen had driven Thomas out of England.

PRES. HARDING'S SISTER CENSURED

WASHINGTON, May 12.—A letter written by Mrs. Caroline Colver, President Harding's sister, created a stir in the district supreme court yesterday, when Justice Stafford, to whom it was addressed, filed it with papers connected with divorce proceedings between Dr. G. R. Lee Cole and his wife, Maudie E. Cole. Counsel for Mrs. Cole asserted Mrs. Colver had asked the justice merely to give dis-consideration to testimony in behalf of the wife, but opposing lawyers insisted it was an outrageous effort to influence the judge and Justice Stafford said he had called the letter to the attention of the President's secretary. The wife letter asserted, he said, that the wife had been wronged by the husband, Justice Stafford stopped the discussion by no finding words of such terms that they must expect to have counsel on both sides examine them.

70 DESTROYERS ANCHOR IN HUDSON RIVER

NEW YORK, May 12.—Seventy destroyers attached to the Atlantic fleet —one of the greatest assemblages of craft of this type ever seen in an American port—today dropped anchor in the Hudson river.

Headed by the cruiser Rochester, flagship of Rear Admiral A. H. Robertson and accompanied by four repair and supply vessels, the six squadrons passed here on their way to their winter port of Charleston, S. C., to give officers and men shore leave.
They will depart for Newport May 25.
The anchorage line stretched from a point opposite 72nd street to another almost opposite Yonkers. The vessels no sooner were swinging on their lines than boats filled with blue-clad officers and sailors were darting toward landing places.

SAFETY DEVICES FOR ONE-MAN CARS

All the one-man cars in the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. have been equipped recently with safety devices whereby any passenger can stop the car at any time and open the rear door by simply pulling a cord. The cord hangs from the side of the car about half-way from the entrance and near it is a conspicuous card, telling of its purpose.

These devices were installed in all the one-man cars in accordance with a second ruling of the public utilities commission. The railroad contended at the time that the operator of the car could do anything that the person pulling the cord could accomplish, but nevertheless, it was ordered that the devices be installed. The safety device is on the same principle as the cord running through the coaches of a railroad train whereby a passenger is able to apply the air brakes and bring the train to a stop.

GOLDWIN REINSTATED
BENSWICK, Mo., May 12.—George R. Goldwin, Bowdoin's star runner, who was dismissed from the training squad for alleged insubordination to Coach Mager, will compete in the Maine Intercollegiate track and field meet here Saturday, it became known today. He was reinstated after making apology to the coach for his refractory attitude and the Bowdoin executive of State a hard run in the distance contests.

NO COMPULSORY VOTING

BOSTON, May 12.—A bill providing for compulsory voting at all regular elections was killed today when the house accepted a committee report providing for further investigation of the subject.

MORE NOMINATIONS BY PRES. HARDING

WASHINGTON, May 12.—William W.
Hopple of New York was nominated today by President Harding to be assistant attorney general in charge of customs cases. John J. Tigert of Kentucky was nominated to be commissioner of education and William E.
Lamb of Illinois to be solicitor of the department of commerce.

NO TRACE OF MISSING CONVICT

BOSTON, May 12.—Victor F. Nelson, the state prison convict who escaped under fire of a guard last night, had apparently made good his flight today.
Warden Elmer Shattuck said he had only a few unlikely clues to help in trying to run the fugitive down. One of these indicated that he had taken a freight train to Portsmouth, N. H.
Nelson's feat was remarkable, the warden said today, both for its daring of conception, the agility of execution and the coolness with which it was accomplished under fire. It involved a break under the eyes of an armed guard from a line of convicts, a dash for a wall, a climb with the aid of a window grating to a coping 30 feet above and from there, with scanty foothold, a leap of eight feet through the air to another wall, from which he dropped to a nearby roof.

TO REORGANIZE GOODYEAR TIRE CO.

COLUMBUS, O., May 12.—Articles providing for incorporation of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. under the reorganization plan with $150,000,000 of preferred capital stock, and 1,500,- 000 shares of non-par common stock were filed today with the secretary of state. The fee was $250,000, the large-est ever received by the state for this purpose.

BAVARIA TO NEGOTIATE DIRECT WITH FRANCE

PARIS, May 12.—Bavaria will initiate negotiations direct from France regarding the question of civilian guards, which adds that this step will be undertaken with the consent of the federal government of Germany. It is asserted that Bavaria would give guarantees by placing militia forces there under the control of French authorities.

NEUTRALITY PROCLAIMED ALLIES Put Constantinople, Bosphorus and Dardanelles In Neutral Zone

PARIS, May 12.—The allied high commissioners, generals and admirals, have decided to proclaim the neutrality of Constantinople, the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles, while the warfare between Turkey and Greece continues.
despatches say from the Turkish capital. As a consequence, Greece will be unable to use Constantinople as a base any longer, and will be invited to reduce her effective there as a minimum which will be fixed by the allies. She will also be asked to send her warships outside of territorial waters.

As a result of this step, Greece will be able to supply her troops on the Istanbul and Bursa fronts only by way of Rodos.

DRIVEN INTO STREET BY EARLY MORNING FIRE

A fire at 617 Westford street early this morning drove the families of Dr.
Marshall L. Ailing and Dr. Harold L.
Leland into the street in their night clothes. The fire started in the cellar from some unknown cause and worked its way to the upper floor. It was discovered shortly after 1.30 o'clock when an alarm was sent in from Box 66. The interior of the building was badly damaged as the firemen were forced to tear down partitions on two floors in order to combat the blaze. The damage is estimated at about $2000.

MUST PAY BILL AND COST OF COURT

City Solicitor William D. Regan today received from the superior court of Suffolk county an execution in the case of the Richard L. Kimball Co. vs.
the city of Lowell, in relation to a bill presented by the high school building commission for payment, in the sum of $2000, the amount sued for, plus $169.13, representing court costs and interest from the day of issuance of writ.

SCHOONER ASHORE

VINEYARD HAVEN, May 12.—The schooner John A. Beckerman, bound from Shelburne, N. S. for New York, ran ashore at East Chop early today, in a light wind and strong tide. No appreciable damage was sustained. The coast guard cutter Manhattan with local tugs attempted to pull her on her at high tide.

DRYS HIT BEER RULING

"Beer is Not a Tonic, But is Teutonic," Declares W. B.
Wheeler

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Wets and drys lined up today before the house judiciary committee in a fight over Chairman Volstead's bill designed to turn off the beer spigot which dries claim has been piled open by the ruling of Attorney General Palmer permitting use of beer as a medicine.

The dries had the first innings, Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon league, opening the discussion. He declared beer could be described in no other way than by calling it "booze." And as such, he added, it must go the way of its near relative, whisky.

"Beer is not a tonic," he shouted at one point. "It is a Teutonic."

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

That they only lived together six weeks after their marriage was the testimony offered in police court this morning by a woman, who said her husband has not contributed towards her support since the first of last January. She said that she and her husband separated because of trouble between the two mothers-in-law. "We were keeping house at that time," she said, "despite the fact that my husband was not working. One day he hired an expressman, packed my goods into the wagon and then ordered me out. I have not lived with him since."

RE-ELECT ALL-WOMEN GOVERNMENT

JACKSON, Wyo., May 12.—The all-women government of this city has been re-elected by a good sized majority. Mrs. Grace G. Miller was re-elected mayor. Mrs. Pearl Killama will be re-elected town marshal.
Mayores Miller announced, and no man will have any hand in the affairs of the local government for at least another year.

WERE HELD FOR BOARD BILL

SEATTLE, Wash., May 12.—Tommy Bradford, 3, and his sister Margie, 5, were prisoners of a landlady here for several weeks. She held them because their parents hadn't paid a board bill.

SISTER MARY SAYS "DON'T CRUSH"

If strawberries are pulled and put into a colander to be washed there is no danger of crushing them. Fill a big, deep pan half full of water and set the colander of berries into it. The berries will be lifted up by the water and float. Even very ripe berries may be washed this way and not be crushed. When clean skim them out of the water and drain.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Fresh pineapple, salt codfish cakes with bacon, corn muffins, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Crispy fritters, white sauce, lettuce sandwiches, tea.
DINNER—Veal birds, twice baked potatoes, new beets with orange sauce, marshmallow pudding, devil's food cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes
After there are a few leaves of lettuce that are too severely to use in salad. These leaves, carefully washed and picked over, may be shredded and used in sandwiches to take the place of a salad for luncheon.

CORN MUFFINS
Two cups cornmeal, 2-3 cup white flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon lard, 2 eggs, 1/2 cups milk. Mix dry ingredients and rub in lard. Add eggs well beaten and milk. Bake in gem pans in a hot oven.

CARROT FRITTERS
Two tablespoons melted butter, 1 cup water, 2 eggs, 1 cup flour, 4 teaspoon salt. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add milk slowly, beating to keep a smooth batter. Add yolks of eggs beaten till thick and lemon colored. Add melted

SCARF LINE

One of the newest ideas in the scarf line is that which attaches this useful accessory to the neck line or the shoulder. It is reminiscent of the classman's costume.

FLANNEL BLOUSES
Flannel blouses of the overblouse type are being worn much and they strike a utilitarian note. They may be quite gay with sticheries of silk or yarn.

CANTON CREPE
Canton crepe suits are coming much to the fore and quite often in their trimming is found the note of heavy fringe. Gray is a favorite color and often self-tone blouses are worn with them.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

To Annie I. Young of Lowell, Mass. By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Annie I. Young to Katherine Edna Brady dated the fourteenth day of December, A. D. 1917, and recorded with Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 613, Page 205, and for breach of the conditions of said deed, the sixteenth day of June, A. CHINA SEEKS SUPPORT HEARING ON BEER BILL

Move to Prevent the Renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty

NEW YORK, May 12.—China is seeking the support of public opinion in the United States and the British Dominions to prevent the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, according to a statement made public here.

The statement was made by the Chinese government, declared in a statement made public here.

It said the government is official spokesman in regard to the treaty but was instructed to use his discretion in seeking to create public sentiment against the treaty's renewal on the ground that it tended to give moral support to Japan for further encroachments on China.

China has been confidentially informed, he declared, that the phrase "regional understandings" under Article 21 of the covenant of the League of Nations was selected by British and Japanese statesmen with the purpose of later contending that the Anglo-Japanese treaty was such a "regional understanding," with respect to China. If this article remains in the covenant, he said, it means that the understanding of Japan and England becomes the acknowledged law of the Orient.

He declared that China has sent a special delegate to Paris and Geneva to protest against the inclusion of such a clause in the revised covenant.

He said he was not making an appeal to the people at large for support of the Chinese policy. His instructions were to present China's case to officials of the British colonies and he added that he had a letter to Secretary of State Hughes.

JUDGE'S WILL CANCELS $40,000 BEQUEST

Under a clause in the will of the late Charles S. Lilley, filed in the probate court in East Cambridge, an original bequest of $40,000 to Philip R. Dunbar, son-in-law of the deceased, is cancelled in a codicil and no substitute clause is contained in the document.

To the proprietors of the Lowell cemetery, Judge Lilley leaves $30,000. The sum of $20,000 is mentioned in the original will and this is increased by $10,000 in the codicil. Louisa M. Best, designated as housekeeper, is given $500 in recognition of long and faithful service. Gertrude Stine Binn is bequeathed $500 in appreciation of her services as a nurse. To Harold A. Nickerson is given $500 "as a token of my regard for him and for his father, the late Dr. Franklin Nickerson." Requests to relatives and persons in his service range from $100 to $1000.

The cause in the will requests that the judge's dog "Rob Roy" shall be given a comfortable home and be well cared for.

The residuary legatee of the estate is Bonney L. Dunbar, daughter of the deceased, who is also named as executrix.

RETURN TO WORK Marine Engineers and Firemen Back at Posts

BOSTON, May 12.—Engineers and firemen employed on harbor towboats who quit work last week in support of the seamen's strike returned to their posts today. George H. Willey, business manager of the local branch of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, speaking for the engineers, said the men were satisfied that their return would not affect the main strike. The companies announced that hereafter they would operate their boats on an open shop basis.

The firemen quit work last Friday without union sanction, according to Mr. Willey. The engineers walked out the following day when attempts were made to fill the places of the firemen. Complaints were immediately filed with the United States steamboat inspectors against two of the engineers on the ground that they had not complied with the law by giving reasonable notice of intention to resign.

The companies were able to keep afloat in operation during the strike and shipping was not seriously delayed.

FOR FIELD DAY Further Preparations By High School Students

Further preparations for the annual field day exercises of the Lowell high school will be held tomorrow afternoon when the members of the boys' regiment and the freshmen boys will proceed to the South common for drill. The third and fourth battalions of girls will hold their drill in the Palace street annex at the same time.

The second hour will be omitted tomorrow. Freshman hour, first hour and third hour will come before recess and fourth and fifth hours after recess.

NAVY RECRUITING AT POSTOFFICE

Beginning next Monday, May 16, the local office of the United States recruiting service will be in the postoffice in Gorham street. It was announced today.

The following Lowell men have been forwarded to Boston for enlistment within the past few days: Peter Thynne, David E. Blocker, Martin E. Pearson, James C. Taylor, Fred Simpson, Leon B. Smith, Ernest O. Simmons, Thomas B. White, Maxwell A. Lockhart.

Ex-navy men may re-enlist for two, three or four-year terms of service.

SCHOOL HEADS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The seventh annual conference of the Massachusetts superintendents of schools opened at the State Normal school in Framingham today with a luncheon at noon. Payson Smith, commissioner of education, opened the session. The first speaker was Herbert S. Wood, superintendent of schools in Rochester, N. Y., who spoke on "Some Problems of School Administration." Other speakers included Miss Lucy Wheelock, principal of the Wheelock school, Boston; Clayton L. Lent, secretary of the Massachusetts teachers' conference; and Miss Rose A. Carrigan, assistant director of the department of practice and training of the Boston schools.

Volstead Would Prohibit Sale of Beer to Sick on Doctor's Prescription

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Hearings were set for today before the house Judiciary committee on the bill introduced by Chairman Volstead to prohibit the sale of beer to the sick on a doctor's prescription. Aimed at the situation created by the opinion of former Attorney General Palmer that beer and wine under the Volstead act could be prescribed for the ailing, the measure would not prohibit use of wine for medicinal purposes, but would make more specific and stringent the regulations on this subject.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, was one of the first to be called by the committee in support of the bill. Other leaders of the movement, including a number of the clergy, are to present their views. The opposition forces were headed by Oliver T. Remmers, attorney for the Anheuser-Busch Co. of St. Louis. In connection with his appearance today an open statement to Mr. Volstead was made public from August A. Busch, president of the company.

This statement declared for "beer for all or beer for none." It contended that the rights of the great mass of men are the great common rights. These men, it said, are at their daily tasks and have no lawyers to appear for them in Washington, and to make it possible for only the rich few to purchase is against the greater right of the greatest number.

EVERETT WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

EVERETT, May 12.—Mrs. Margaret A. Kelley, 54, of 31 Oakland avenue, Everett, was burned to death shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday when her clothing caught fire from an oil heater which exploded in the front room of her home.

Mrs. Catherine Hayes, Mrs. Kelley's daughter, and the former's three-year-old daughter, of 21 Wedgewood street, were visiting Mrs. Kelley yesterday afternoon. Thinking the house cold, Mrs. Kelley lighted an oil heater in the front room. Later she returned to the room to look at the heater.

A scream from the room brought Mrs. Hayes to her mother's assistance. She found her a mass of flames. Calling "mice," the daughter ran from the house and faintly away as she reached the yard.

Harry J. Sherman of 25 Oakland avenue, heard the cries and ran into the house. The front room was in flames and Mrs. Kelley was lying on the floor of the dining-room with her clothes completely burned off her. She was carried to the piazza and there died before help could be summoned.

The blaze in the front room was extinguished with little loss. Medical Examiner McCaffrey said death was due to asphyxiation.

Mrs. Kelley is survived by her husband, Cornelius A. Kelley, an employee of the Boston Post; a son, Arthur L. Kelley, and her daughter.

SALVATION ARMY FUND CAMPAIGN

The Salvation Army campaign to raise $15,000 for the support of the local corps continued to make progress today as a result of the enthusiastic meeting of the campaign workers yesterday noon. While there is yet no idea available of the amount actually raised, nevertheless the various teams have started to buckle down to work and at the next meeting of the general committee, which will probably be held tomorrow or Saturday, it is expected that the reports of the various workers will show that the quota is being nearly met.

The work of forming an Elks' team began last night and was going on today. As yet the complete organization of the team has not been decided upon, but the personnel will be announced this evening or tomorrow. This team did excellent work in the Salvation Army campaign here a year ago and expects to repeat its success this year. It is urged that those who have not yet made any donations to send their contributions to the campaign headquarters at 7 Merrimack square or to Julian B. Keres, treasurer, at the Mechanics Savings bank.

115 PER CENT INCREASE IN LABOR COSTS

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Labor costs to class 1 roads were greater by 115 per cent in 1920 than they were in 1917, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific, declared in a statement submitted today to the Senate Interstate Commerce committee. During the same period, he added, gross revenues of the carriers increased less than 51 per cent.

Statistics on labor costs were given by the witness, who was cross-examined after his direct testimony of the past two days by members of the committee which is inquiring into the whole railroad situation. Since the Adamson law was enacted, he said, labor costs had been increased by government action by $2,229,639,357. The total for 1920, he added, was $3,625,216,351.

ROAD BUILDING DONE BY CONTRACT

Contract labor predominates in highway construction in the states of Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan and Minnesota, according to figures which have been obtained by the chamber of commerce covering 129 counties of those states. Of 145 highway jobs under way in 1920, 80 were let out by contract while 65 were done by employees of cities, counties or states. To far this year, 130 jobs have been let out in those same counties and of this number 100 have been done by contract.

This War Orphan Is Featured In Film of Kipling Story

By JAMES W. DEAN

A babe was born in Nancy as the Germans were bombing the city. Edith de Lacey, an American nurse, found him at the side of his dead mother. She adopted him, called him Philippe de Lacey and brought him to America. Possessed of unusual charm, the youngster was soon recognized as screen material by producers.

He will have an important part in "Without Benefit of Clergy" which will be released the latter part of May.

This is the first in a series of photographs made by Pathe from books of Kipling and the first of Kipling's works to be produced with the cooperation of the famous author in editing the scenario.

Those European Films

Much dust was kicked up in the movie circles over the importation of foreign films. Some alleged that they were propaganda against France and England, friendly allies. Others said they would hurt American industry.

Then William Fox, producer, who so far has released no foreign films, spoke up. "Let 'em come," he said, "America has nothing to fear."

Samuel Goldwyn, another producer, has just returned from Europe. He says, "Less than 2 per cent of the German films will be fit for presentation here. If Europe is to produce great photoplays, America wants to see them and benefit by them."

Italy is the leading producer in Europe. If there is to be any great contribution to the photoplay in the next year it is to come from the nation that gave us "Quo Vadis" and "Cabiria."

U. S. AND GERMAN ENVOYS?

Belgian Dockworkers Refuse to Yield

BRUSSELS, May 12.—The Belgian dockworkers have decided to oppose by all means the loading of coal for England, it was announced today, in order to show their solidarity with the striking British coal miners.

SCOTCH PRODUCTION TOMORROW EVENING

The Scottish Musical Comedy Co., which comes to Colonial hall tomorrow evening, brings with it an enviable reputation for being able to draw from Scotch themes and Scotch poetry all that is tuneful and charming. Their production here tomorrow evening, based on Robert Burns' poem, "A Cotter's Saturday Night," should be genuinely pleasing and satisfying. The Notre Dame Alumnae association is responsible for bringing this high grade company to Lowell. Tickets are on sale at Steiner's or may be secured from any member of the alumnae.

Seven Women Officials Are Doing Housecleaning Job in Kansas Town

MAYOR ABBY H. FOREST OF THAYER, KAS., AND HER PRINCIPAL PROMISE IN HER OWN HANDWRITING

THAYER, Kas., May 11.—The whole world is peeping, as it were, through the curtained windows of Thayer's city hall.

The curtains were bought with the second appropriation passed by the second city government in the United States composed entirely of women. The first women's government rules in Jackson, Wyo., and is now seeking reelection.

The first appropriation in Thayer was for hauling trash away. Thus city government in Thayer means municipal housekeeping.

Suffrage leaders and politicians throughout the nation are watching to see how the job is done.

"We're going to do the little things first and do them well," says Mrs. Abby H. Forest, the mayor.

"We shall do our level best, and if we are not beheaded by irate citizens, there may be results!"

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Albert Fleury and Miss Lauretta Caroline Barry were married yesterday at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. L. A. Nolin. The best man was Mr. R. P. Albert Fleury, while the bridesmaid was Miss Eveline Marguerite Barry.

Marchand-Jasmin

The marriage of Mr. Joseph Armand Marchand and Miss Marie D. A. Jasmin took place May 9 at St. Joseph's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I. The couple were attended by Messrs. Joseph P. Marchand and J. E. Lamoureux.

Mailhot-Rainville

Mr. Angeline Mailhot and Miss Marie B. Rainville were married at St. Joseph's rectory May 4 by Very Rev. E. J. Turcotte, O.M.I. The witnesses were Messrs. Alme Turcotte and Octavo Gagnon.

Proulx-Bilodeau

At St. Joseph's rectory May 1, Mr. Louis Elphège Proulx and Miss Marie Imelda Bilodeau were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I. The witnesses were Messrs. Frederick Proulx and Joseph Bilodeau.

Permits to build were granted today by the city buildings department, to Albert Beauchene, for a one-story building of eight rooms at 27 Jordan street, cost $2500, and James Adams, for a wooden building to be used as a work shop at 43 Tolman street, cost $500.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson today received an invitation to attend the $1000-a-plate dinner, to be held at the Hotel Astor, New York city, on the evening of May 26, as a climax to the campaign for funds for relief in Ireland. The plans for the dinner call for 2000 guests at $100 a plate, and with many distinguished speakers, including Hon.

night that the committee is soon to start a vigorous investigation into school conditions of the city, that the instructors are to be summoned into conference to help solve troublesome problems and that they may expect to be asked pointed questions that some of them may consider "impertinent." Mr. Delaney said that the schools are now living on the traditions of the past. "Massachusetts once lead in educational matters," the speaker said. "Now we hear much about what is being done in Cleveland and other places."

BOSTON COLLEGE DRIVE EXTENDED

Total Is Within Half Million of Two Million Dollar Mark

The total sum donated for the Boston college campaign fund of two million dollars is nearing the $1,500,000 mark. The executive committee of the campaign organization has voted to extend the drive until Monday next. Included in the list of special contributions yesterday was one of $500 from President Lowell of Harvard college, and the opinion was generally expressed among friends of Boston college today that while the donation was a very generous one the broad spirit made manifest is more to be appreciated.

RAILWAY LABOR FAILS TO PROVE CHARGE

CHICAGO, May 12.—Railway labor today formally admitted before the railroad labor board that it had failed in its efforts to prove authenticity of a letter alleged to have been written by a Pennsylvania railroad official ordering "defamation of labor organizations, if necessary" in obtaining desired information, and requested permission to withdraw the letter from the board's records.

MUST PAY BILL AND COST OF COURT

City Solicitor William D. Regan today received from the superior court of Suffolk county an execution in the case of the Richard D. Kimball Co. vs. the city of Lowell, in relation to a bill presented by the high school building commission for payment, in the sum of $6000, the amount sued for, plus $163.19, representing court costs and interest from the day of issuance of writ.

The execution has been sent to the city solicitor by Devine & York of Boston, attorneys, representing the Kimball Co., with a letter stating that unless the execution is promptly paid, it shall be returned to them, and subsequently given over to a sheriff to serve.

EXPERTS' TESTS NOT RELIABLE

Persons of Average Mentality Fail Under Them, Says Physician

Asserted That Fortier is Not Insane and is Not an Imbecile

Doctor Says Defendant Was Not Tool of Mysterious Fourth Man

Testimony was introduced in the trial of the Tallen murder case in East Cambridge today that an aunt of Alfred Fortier, confined in a hospital in Quebec, is not insane, as had been asserted by Fortier's mother, as part of an effort to prove that the principal defendant in the case is not mentally responsible for his acts. It was asserted by a witness for the prosecution that the aunt is of normal mentality, although physically stunted and weak, as the result of a childhood disease, and that she is not being supported as a public charge as the hospital where she is being treated is conducted by a church sisterhood. Testimony was also offered that the Binet-Simons tests, which had been applied to Fortier, and asserted by witnesses for the defense to prove that he is of imbecile intelligence, are not reliable and that persons of average intellectual development often fall down when subjected to them. Dr. George L. Walton, an expert in nervous diseases, also testified that he did not believe Dubuque would have used Fortier in an important holdup. He said as this hospital is conducted by an order of nuns, it is a fool himself.

Doctor From Quebec
The first witness was Dr. Albert Maréchal of St. Louis street, Quebec city, Quebec, who was brought here by the state after being visited by Mr. Houdreau of the district attorney's office. The doctor told of being for 38 years a practicing physician and a graduate of Laval university, and of being assistant superintendent of asylums in Quebec. He said that Josephine de Sestiers, an aunt of Fortier, who has been at the Quebec General hospital since Aug. 24, 1907, is not insane and has no disease of the mind. She is not a public charge, he said, as this hospital is conducted by an order of nuns.

Encountered While Police Were Investigating Attack on Boston Woman

Woman Struck as She Lay Asleep—Pocketbook Taken—Robber Escapes

BOSTON, May 12.—While policemen were investigating an attack early today on Mrs. Rose E. Goldstein by a man who, after thrusting his head in the window of her bedroom, struck her over the head and then ran away with a pocketbook from under her pillow, they were called to another house a short distance away and exchanged several shots with a negro.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

That they only lived together six weeks after their marriage, was the testimony offered in police court this morning by a woman, who said her husband has not contributed towards her support since the first of last January. She said that she and her husband separated because of trouble between the two mothers-in-law. "We were keeping house at that time," she said, "despite the fact that my husband was not working. One day he hired an expressman, packed my goods into the wagon and then ordered me out. I have not lived with him since."

The man in the case claimed his wife deserted him and said that on many occasions he offered to sit up a home for her, but she refused to go back with him. The court after hearing the evidence ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $100. An appeal was entered. There were three other cases called at this morning's session of the court, but all were continued to a later date. They were as follows: John Lawrence, non-support of wife; Napoleon Katan, assault on wife; Napoleon Katan, assault on wife; Napoleon Katan, assault on wife.

ASQUITH FLAYS IRISH POLICY

Says Claim of Military Considerations Preventing Recognition Exaggerated

LONDON, May 12.—Former Premier Asquith, long a champion of home rule for Ireland, took occasion in a public speech last evening to remind his hearers that just a year ago he had been an advocate of the plan of giving Ireland the same status as that enjoyed by the self-governing dominions. "If England were arraigned at the bar of history there is only one indictment that we would be afraid to face, and that would be in connection with our policy in Ireland," he said. In regard to the argument that Great Britain is prevented from recognizing the claims of Ireland by military considerations, he said that in his opinion the difficulties supposed to be involved in this question of strategic safety were grossly exaggerated. If the validity of this argument were acknowledged it would be obligatory, he said, to recognize the right of the United States to establish a political domination of Canada in order to protect its frontiers.

dressed members of the Highland club in the club hall last evening on his experiences in Russia and gave a most graphic portrayal of present day conditions in that land.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the club of which Sir Paul Dukes is chairman. There was a very large attendance of members and the affair was successful in every respect. Sir Paul was introduced by Chairman Webster, who referred in a laudatory tone to the lecturer's ability to bring first-hand information to his listeners and to tell his story as one who has been "on the inside" of governmental affairs.

Sir Paul supplemented his remarks with stereopticon slides that helped to bring vividly before the minds of those

A fire at 617 Westford street early this morning drove the families of Dr. Marshall L. Alling and Dr. Harold L. Leland into the street in their night clothes. The fire started in the cellar from some unknown cause and worked its way to the upper floor. It was discovered shortly after 4:30 o'clock when an alarm was sent in from Box 56. The interior of the building was badly damaged as the firemen were forced to tear down partitions on two floors in order to combat the blaze. The damage is estimated at about $2000.

BAVARIA TO NEGOTIATE DIRECT WITH FRANCE

PARIS, May 12.—Bavaria will initiate negotiations direct from France regarding the question of civilian disarmament, says a Berlin despatch to the Journal, which adds that this step will be undertaken with the consent of the federal government of Germany. It is asserted that Bavaria would give guarantees by placing militia forces there under the control of French authorities.

26 Attacks On Crown Forces In Week

DUBLIN, May 12.—There were 26 attacks on the crown forces in Ireland during the last week, resulting in 28 casualties, of which 18 were mortal, says the official weekly summary of conditions. The report chronicles four assassinations, three murders of civilians attributed to Sinn Feiners and 58 raids on the mails. There were 73 court martials, resulting in 58 convictions. Prisoners to the number of 2876 are now under internment.

Ambassador Harvey Received By King

LONDON, May 12.—Col. George Harvey, the New American ambassador, was received today at Buckingham Palace by King George, to whom he presented his credentials. He was accompanied to the palace by Sir John Haubury-Williams, marshal of the diplomatic corps; J. Butler Wright, counsellor of the embassy, and the members of the embassy secretariat. The party drove to the palace in royal carriages.

The local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company has just returned from a three days' conference held in Boston, and brings home the good word of a decisively reflected improvement in the general business conditions of the country. The meeting was called by Supt. C. F. Ames of the territory comprising Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, conducted by Mr. T. W. Carroll, general manager, and Mr. A. C. Kaufman, general commercial agent of the company of New York.

Mr. Dunn advises that the information received at the meeting strongly brought out the fact of vastly improved general conditions throughout the country as reflected by the telegraph which is a safe barometer of business conditions. The business reaction so far registered throughout the country is of a very healthy nature and business concerns all over the country that are really bidding and pressing for business are being rewarded with growing orders; that reports emanating from well established and authenticated commercial sources point out unerringly that the tide is now turning. This quickening of the general business pulse is reflected in the fact that the American people are spending as much with city retail shops as they did at this time last year, and the prevailing prices are such that the buyers are getting more for their money. Stabilization has grown to the extent that the markets are apparently unresponsive to bad news and are quite susceptible to good news. The obligation of the telegraph company during the adjustment period was fully and forcibly reviewed with the attending managers, and great stress was laid upon the personal responsibility each employee sustains at this important time when the telegraph is playing so large a part as a first aid to business reconstruction.

BISMARCK, N. D., May 12.—"The people of North Dakota have won their fight against the business interests fighting the Non-Partisan league program," says William Lemke, attorney general. Lemke has returned from a tour of the leading cities in the United States, where he explained the North Dakota financial situation and arranged for sales to the people direct of parts of the state's $6,000,000 bond issue. The bonds were authorized by the 1212 legislative session here controlled by the Non-Partisan league. Since then the state has been unable to dispose of them, with the result no money has been available to carry out the league's industrial program enacted into law. Lemke predicts that the entire issue of $6,000,000 will be sold within ninety days, and that enough money will be on hand to resume work within a month on the state mill and elevator project at Grand Forks. He says the mill and elevator will be completed by Oct. 1, in time to handle the fall crop. "The interests combined against the league had us scared for a while last winter," says Lemke. "But now things are going differently and the shoe is pinching on the other foot. "The campaign I have carried on throughout the country has been educational in its nature and highly successful. I have gone directly to the people and told them the truth about North Dakota finances. "The bank of North Dakota is the state itself, and therefore cannot be wrecked. It is as strong as the state itself with $2,000,000,000 resources back of it. The bank made a net profit of $300,000 the first 18 months of its existence. "More than 25,000,000 people in the United States are solidly behind the industrial and labor program of North Dakota. Among those interested and who have subscribed for our bonds are leading statesmen and educators of the nation. "Our bonds are the best security in America. The total indebtedness of North Dakota, outside this bond issue, is 40 cents per capita, compared to $15 in New York. "North Dakota is assured of success in its new day industrial program." A DISPUTE Lace and mat crepe are about to dispute for first place in the dress vogue. Undoubtedly, the latter is gaining in popularity. The forests of Western Siberia are stated to be 200,000,000 acres in extent.

U. S. HEIRESS BECOMES VICOMTE'S BRIDE

Miss Violet Selfridge, daughter of the American merchant prince of London, is shown with her husband Vicomte Jacques de Sibour, of an old French family. They were married in London a few days ago.

The bride's father, J. Gordon Selfridge, formerly of Chicago, introduced the American department store to London. The picture was taken at Highcliff Castle, Hampshire, where the ex-kaiser stayed on his last visit to England. It is now the Selfridge country estate. Selfridge insisted his daughter wed a man who worked, so the vicomte took a job, for a while, in the Selfridge store.

GOV. MILLER'S AID WOULD FREE MRS. O'DELL.

NEW YORK, May 12.—In the coffin containing the body of James O'Dell, executed at Sing Sing, April 23, is the picture of his baby girl, Mildred Naomi O'Dell.

Pasted to a piece of cardboard and stained with his tears, the picture of the little one whom he had never seen, is pressed over his heart.

The mother of Mildred, and little Mildred herself, are locked in a cell at Auburn prison. The baby had been named Gloria, but just before her father went to the electric chair he asked that she be named Naomi, and his wife, complying with the request gave her the name of Mildred Naomi.

That had been the name of James O'Dell's mother.

On the desk of Governor Miller is a formal request from more than 10,000 persons, asking him to commute the sentence of Mrs. O'Dell so that she may take baby Mildred and start life anew.

The governor has given no indication of what he will do. But his chief adviser, Owen Potter, delegated to ascertain all the facts in the case and submit them with recommendations, has announced that he is strongly in favor of executive clemency.

James O'Dell and his wife were convicted of slaying Edward Knapp in Rochester, after Knapp had brazenly confessed to wrecking the life of Mrs. O'Dell.

O'Dell was arrested, charged with murder, convicted and sentenced to death. His wife, likewise convicted of complicity, was sentenced to Auburn prison for 20 years. Two weeks after she arrived there baby Mildred was born.

Just before his execution O'Dell wrote a tender note to his wife and a note to his little girl, which is to be held for her until she is able to read. Warden Lawes says that when these notes were read by veteran prison

ARRAIGNMENT OF LOUD POSTPONED

BOSTON, May 12.—The arraignment of Clarence W. Loud, who is charged with the murder of Police Officer James A. Preston of Wakefield on the night of April 9, will not take place today because of motions filed yesterday afternoon in the superior criminal court at East Cambridge by Judge Malcolm E. Sturtevant, counsel for Loud.

Three motions were filed by Judge Sturtevant, the first two asking that the indictment against Loud be quashed and the third asking that Loud's attorneys be allowed to examine all papers in connection with the case.

The first motion to quash the indictment alleges that the indictment as returned by the grand jury did not contain the necessary legal verbiage and did not contain the words "with malice aforethought" in connection with the crime, and that the indictment does not fully set forth any crime known to law.

The second motion to quash was in the form of a plea in abatement, and it alleges that the indictment does not state whether the crime was in the first or second degree. It also alleges that when the evidence was presented to the grand jury statements and declarations were made by the district attorney which were irrelevant.

The last motion says that the defense wants a transcript of all evidence presented to the grand jury, the names of all witnesses and a list of all exhibits; also the right to inspect and examine the transcript of the evidence and all exhibits.

Loud's arraignment which was to have taken place today, will probably not take place until these motions have been argued. The court will set the date on which the motions will be heard.

PAJAMAS
Sketchy landscapes, little men and scraggly trees find themselves totting queer umbrellas, old temples on Mirador's silk pajamas. They are quite colorful, too.

Keepers they brought tears to eyes long dry.

HAVE WAR EXPERIENCE OFF GOLDEN GATE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The war has been over for several years, but these two young winners recently had a taste of warfare that was never equalled even in France.

Sergeant Thomas J. Fowler and

SGT. THOMAS J. FOWLER
PVT. KENNETH H. LAWRENCE

Private Kenneth H. Lawrence were aerial observers during a recent target practice held off the Golden Gate.

Motor trouble began at an altitude of about 3,000 feet. Their engines stopped dead, and Sergeant Fowler started to vibrate.

They were headed directly for the floating target at which the huge guns from the land forts were firing, thirteen miles away.

While falling, they frantically wirelessly the fort to "cease firing," but without success, for just as the plane struck the water a shot ricocheted directly under the wings of the plane.

During the time they were in the water, shells continued to fall about them. They finally managed, however, to get out of range. A tug later picked them up, uninjured. Their plane sank and was lost.

TAFT URGES SUPPORT OF B. C. DRIVE

BOSTON, May 12.—Ex-President William Howard Taft was unable to speak at the Boston college fund meeting held in Faneuil hall yesterday, as he was obliged to leave on the 1 p. m. train. He recalled that he had not the time to make the address on behalf of the drive and gave the following statement to Hon. John F. Fitzgerald.

"Boston college is doing wonderful work and is a credit to New England. Its drive is deserving of great success. The influence an institution of this kind has upon American life cannot be estimated in dollars. I earnestly hope the business interests will show a proper appreciation by giving the drive the support it deserves."

BROWN WRAP
If you were asked to get a wrap of brown moire which gathered at the waist line you would probably tell your adviser that her knowledge of fashion was back of the right line, but they are to be seen—and often in the fashionable circles of Paris and Gotham.

ETON LINEN
Eton suits are quite in vogue, with the younger set in the fashion centers, and they are lavishly on the slender, youthful figure—but there only.

Healthy Young Womanhood

THE tendency to constipation begins with girls as they approach maturity, and that is the very reason mothers should watch that the important function of daily elimination is regular and normal.

Many thousands of mothers who have daughters will tell you they give only Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A responsible mother is sufficient to relieve constipation and its commoner symptoms such as headache, bad breath, biliousness, loss of appetite and restlessness.

Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics, and a stick-cent bottle is enough for many months. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale of the kind in the world. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market thirty years and there must be genuine merit behind it to develop so large and steady a sale. Buy a bottle today and you will quickly see why it is so popular.

IF JOURNEYING ALONE

Put Your Faith in the Pullman Porter and—Forget!

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING
Vacation days are near. And are you, little high school girl, looking forward to your first long trip—your initiation into the mysteries of the Pullman by night—with a "generous" portion of fear and trembling mixed with your pleasure?

For approached for the first time in the dark hours, down an aisle, where curtains are drawn and snoring, a Pullman berth is a fearsome thing!

But from the moment your bag is hauled up the car steps and put into the hands of the porter—regard him as your best friend until your journeying days are over.

First, if you are travelling with trunk and are to be on the train only one night, travel light; that is, take as little in your bag as possible. Your toilet accessories, a fresh blouse, if you are wearing a suit, fresh lingerie—that is all you will need.

If you board the train any time after 5:30, your berth will be made up. You will go immediately to the dressing room and prepare for sleeping. Possibly you could get only an upper berth and you're staggered at the thought of wandering into the fastnesses of the gloomy aisle and seeking out your own little bed.

But there again put yourself in the care of the porter. Before you leave the dressing room, push the little button you'll find there by the mirror, usually it is labelled "porter" and by the time you have gathered up your clothes and bag and opened the door that individual will be there, saying "Yes, yes, yes," and grinning joyously as he takes your precious burdens.

You are wearing your pumps when you walk down the aisle. Then, after the ceremonious person has assisted you to your perch on high, slip off your pumps and give them to him and if your travelling bag is a trifle bulky give him that and forget it until the next morning.

Your clothing which he will have laid on your berth, hang on the little pegs you find at the foot wall, usually there will be a large one for your hat and a hanger for your coat you'll find at the opening of the curtains—perhaps your thoughtful attendant has already put it there for you. There is a shelf also on which to put things which will not hang. Your pumps you might have put there if they would not soil your lighter clothing.

Then pull up the covers and push the little button just above your head, which will turn out your light.

In the morning, don't attempt, as so many women do, to dress in the berth, and run the risk of coming out looking as if you had slept in your clothes. Slip a dressing gown over your nightgown, slide into your stockings, gather your clothes on your arm, and touch the magic button again.

The dusky gentleman will appear with his smile and his ladder and your shoes and bag. As your feet venture over the edge of the berth to find his ladder he will slip the pumps on, and then will journey behind you, carrying your bag, to the dressing room.

There you can dress in comfort—for most Pullman dressing rooms are equipped with four complete sets of bowls and mirrors—and will look when you step off the train to meet your waiting friends, as if you had just come from the freshness of your own bedroom.

FATHER OF THREE CHILDREN WRITES FROM CANAL ZONE

Palmyra, Canal Zone. A father of three children writes: "Will you kindly send me by mail two bottles of your Dr. Elixir. I cannot buy it here in Panama. I have three children, and the Elixir is the best family remedy I ever used. When one of the children isn't feeling right, I give him a dose of Dr. Elixir and he comes out hale and hearty in the morning. Our children have showed no signs of worms since they have taken the Elixir." E. H. Burlington.

The prescription, Dr. Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has done wonders for sick people. No harmful drugs—works quickly and effectively.—Adv.

USE BORAX
If you would wash your brushes and have the bristles stiff, put a handful of borax in the water.

The borax will remove grease, but not soften the bristles as a strong soap or ammonia solution would. Use lukewarm water for washing, rinse in cold water.

Menu For Tomorrow
Breakfast—Baked tomatoes, broiled bacon, hashed brown potatoes, whole wheat muffins, coffee.
Lunch—Fish and macaroni, toasted muffins, radishes, tea.
Dinner—Broiled cod fish, potatoes, potatoes, kale, tomato salad, floating island, coffee.

My Own Recipes
Instead of buying chops for the braised veal get steak. There is less waste in this cut for there is only one small bone and no fat. Cut the steak in convenient pieces for serving, dip in crumbs, then egg and crumbs again. Brown quickly on both sides and then cook slowly in hot butter.

Fish and Macaroni
Two cups cooked fish, 1 cup macaroni, 1 tablespoon grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, salt and pepper, 2 cup white sauce.

Remove skin and bones from fish and break in small pieces. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for half an hour. Make white sauce and 2 tablespoons of the cheese and 2 cups of macaroni, season with salt and pepper and turn into a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining cheese, dot with bits of butter and put in a hot oven to brown.

Potato Marbles
Three cups potato balls, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 dessert-spoon minced parsley, salt and pepper.

Late potatoes and scoop with a vegetable scoop. To every 2 cups of potatoes use 4 tablespoons of butter. Melt butter in frying pan, add potatoes and fry until browned all over. Cover and cook slowly in the oven till tender. Season with salt and pepper, sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve.

TWO KILLED IN GALWAY BY DISGUISED PARTIES

DUBLIN, May 12.—A small party of armed and disguised men yesterday entered a laborer's house at Galway seeking one of the laborer's sons who was released from jail Tuesday after having served a court-martial sentence.

Falling to find the desired man the armed men shot and killed one of his brothers, Christopher Dolan, and wounded another brother.

Later another band of men, whose faces were blackened, raided a second house and shot and killed Herbert Cully, an employee of the railway. The occupant of still another house escaped from incursions by running out of a back door dressed only in his night-shirt.

Special Harbor Constable Craig was shot dead yesterday while performing his duties in Belfast.

Eight civilians were surprised by crown forces near Ballinacorney, Limerick. One of them was killed, one wounded and one captured, and a former soldier who was held prisoner was released.

Two Sinn Féiners yesterday fled from a lorry in Dublin, jumped on the pilot of an engine, compelled the engineer to drive away under full steam and escaped.

Manix Denounces British Rule

LONDON, May 12.—Archbishop Manix of Australia, who will leave for home in a few days, was tendered a farewell luncheon yesterday, at which he received a eulogistic address from the bishops and priests of Ireland and also valuable gifts.

The archbishop in replying to the address said he never would be proud of being an Irishman than on the day he was returning to tell the Australians that nothing stood in the way of peace between Great Britain and Ireland "but British crime and British aggression."

The Irish people should be granted the right to rule themselves, he declared. If Ireland wanted a republic that was her business, and until that right was acknowledged there would be no peace between England and Ireland.

The Irish people, he said, stood heart and soul behind Eamon DeValera. He was the only man capable of talking for all the Irish people, and the British government should negotiate with him if it really wanted peace.

DRY AGENTS LOSE "ILLEGAL STILL" CASE

BOSTON, May 12.—Because Attorney William R. Scharton produced evidence to prove that dry agents had forced their way illegally into the house of J. E. Leathman of Westwood, United States Commissioner Hayes discharged both defendants as a result of a hearing yesterday afternoon.

The officers who prosecuted the case are Louis Paplan and Samuel Borosack. They charged the illegal possession of a still.

The commissioner stated that he found that the agents had exceeded their authority and advised them to follow the law in the future.

Attorney Scharton stated that Kaplan was under indictment for running a still and when asked the question point blank by the attorney for the defense the witness and agents stated that he did not know.

Scharton then told him that an indictment was pending against him. The indictments referred to has been recently not prosed.

But Thanks to Taniac I'm Still on Job Feeling Fine, Says Lawrence Man.

"My health was so bad they told me I better quit my work and go to the country, but here I am on the job every day and feeling fine," said W. E. Davenport, Reading road, Lawrence, in relating his experience with Taniac, recently.

"I am now 63 years of age, and for the past 20 years I have had no end of trouble with my stomach. For five years I was continuously under treatment, but failed to get any relief. I work in a machine shop, painting machinery, and although I never did quit work, there were many times when I was so sick I felt like giving up work and everything else. At times my stomach was so disordered I couldn't keep anything down, and the way I suffered from indigestion was simply terrible.

"Finally I moved out into the country, but went ahead working at the shop and trying everything I thought might improve my health. I got worse right on, however, and some two months before I got Taniac I was so discouraged I left off taking any medicine of any kind. Then I began hearing about Taniac and eventually bought a bottle to try. This helped me so much that I got another supply, and kept on taking it until now I feel better than I have in a long time. My appetite is much better, and I have gained nearly 10 pounds in weight. After supper I work in my garden some before going to bed, then sleep like a top until morning and get up ready for a hearty breakfast and a big day's work. Taniac is simply wonderful, and I gladly praise it to everybody."

Taniac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Taniac representative; by Wright Drug Co., Haverhill, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.

APPROVE STAND AGAINST CONTRACT LABOR

At a regular meeting of the Trades & Labor council held last evening with President Timothy F. O'Rourke presiding, a vote of confidence was extended Commissioner Denis A. Murphy on his stand against contract labor on the paving of Chelmsford street. The organization expressed itself as strongly opposed to the plan presented by the chamber of commerce, as it feels that all such work should be done by the municipality. The strike at the gas works was discussed and the grievance committee was instructed to confer with the local trade union committee of the joint session of strikers. Routine business was transacted.

Lowell Post, 57, of the American Legion presented an amusing mock trial in Colonial hall last evening before a small but the audience. The trial had all the outward indications of a regular superior court case and there was fun galore as the "testimony" was being heard.

The case was one of breach of promise brought by Jeremia Rugg Perkins, played by Mrs. Paul Kittredge, against Joseph P. Donahue, who played the role of the faithless one. The witnesses included Messrs Esther and Madeline Conney, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Edward W. Gallagher and Dr. Clarence B. Livingston. The judge was James C. Kelly and the attorneys William A. Newton of Worcester and William J. White, Jr., of Lowell. John J. McCardle was the court officer and Edmund Kelley, the clerk.

The seven jurors in the case were Carroll Hewitt, John McCardle, Miss Helen Haggerty, Mrs. Edward McDermott, Margaret O'Shea, Mrs. Sarah Hammersley and William C. Kirk. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of guilty, awarded damages in the sum of $12.18, of which $3 was to go to the jury and 48 cents to the judge.

THREATENING FIRE IN HOWARD'S AVENUE

Fire originating in the cellar of the two-story building at 5-10 Howard's avenue, on Davidson street, shortly before 11:30 last night drove nine people into the street in scanty attire. The prompt arrival of the firemen confined the flames to the first floor of the building. The damage was not very great. The occupants of the building were Mrs. Mary Fox and her three children and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Broad and their three children. When they heard a crackling sound in the cellar and saw smoke coming through the floor, they rushed into the street and found refuge in the home of Mrs. Victoria Kiviat, next door. Patrolman Thomas Melony had an alarm sent in from box 3 and went through the house to rouse any other occupants who might have been there. The recall was sounded at midnight. The J. A. Nesmith estate owned the building.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED
Members of the Hervey temple, Pythian Sisters, observed the 25th anniversary of the founding of their organization in Pythian hall last evening. There was a large attendance and the program was most enjoyable. As a token of appreciation for services rendered the temple a past chief's jewel was presented Mrs. Gora Gilman, while past chief's pins were given to the following: Mrs. Ada Wannamaker, Miss Florence Gilman, Mrs. Mary Gilman, Mrs. Alice Jenkins, Mrs. Patricia E. Potter and Mrs. Alice Scherid, the presentations being made by Deputy Anna Smith of St. Louis. The temple of Lawrence, St. Lawrence, social committee, the evening was Frank Whipple of Wameo, judge, while the presiding officer was Most Excellent Chief E. George. The program was as follows: Song, "Home Sweet Home," by Gella Willmott; piano solo, Harry Virtue; remarks, Deputy Anna Smith; dancing specialties, the Pythian Sisters; song, "The Old Folks at Home," by Mrs. Elizabeth Young and a sketch, "A Lady to Call," by Alice Joy, Lillian Sturkey and Mabel Bumps. Refreshments were served by the social committee under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Bumps, chairman.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL
The Epworth League of the Highland Union church conducted a successful social in the church vestry last evening. There was a large attendance and the program was very pleasing. This organization, which is now planning a box party and entertainment for the near future, was formed four years ago and its officers are as follows: President, Stuart; vice president, Mrs. Leland Henderson; Helena Keeneston, Laura Desrosiers and Mollie Washburn, vice presidents; Harry Henderson, treasurer; Donald Hilton, secretary.

House Refers Bill to Next Session After Extended Debate

BOSTON, May 12.—The bill to increase the fees for registration of motor vehicles was referred to the next annual session by a standing vote of 102 to 64 by the Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday afternoon. The defeat of the measure came at the end of an extended debate.

Mr. Hayes of Brighton, later in the session, offered a motion to reconsider. He afterwards withdrew it but

During the discussion information prepared by the commissioner of public works, division of motor vehicle registration, was offered. Figures and facts compiled by the Automobile League association were also read showing that in the opinion of the association there was no need of an increase and suggesting it was not a proper time "to embark upon an extravagant scheme of road construction at the expense of the automobilists."

Would Exempt Pleasure Cars
Mr. Sawyer of Ware, the first speaker, moved an amendment to strike out everything relating to pleasure vehicles.

Mr. Lyman of Northampton, house chairman of the ways and means committee, urged the passage of the bill and said it was a question of finance. There are, he contended, thousands of automobile owners who do not own real estate, but who should be compelled to pay the tax which was proposed by the bill.

Mr. Rice of Newton moved to cut down from $15 to $12.50 the fee for vehicles of less than 30 horsepower.

Mr. Chase of Lynn spoke for the truck owners, saying their burdens are heavy and ought not to be increased. Mr. Clark of Brockton moved to substitute a new scale for larger trucks and pleasure cars.

Mr. Hayes of Brighton offered a substitute resolve to provide for the appointment of a special commission to consider the subject.

Mr. Hartshorn of Gardner favored the bill. Mr. Hawthorne of Lynn urged that it be referred to the next annual session.

Expense Very Little, He Says

Mr. Draper of Hopedale supported the bill. He said that last year there were 150,000 automobiles under 30 horsepower. The bill, he continued, increases their expenses only one cent a day and the expenses of trucks less than two cents.

Mr. Smith of Provincetown charged that automobile owners were trying to put their legitimate expenses upon other people.

Mr. Evans of Saugus opposed the bill. Mr. Bartlett of Brockton hoped it would be referred to the next annual session.

Mr. Harrington of Fall River, democratic floor leader, opposed the bill, saying the people are now overtaxed. He declared the bill to be "unreasonable."

Mr. Eaton of Brockton said there should be more economy in the public works department. Any increase on trucks, he added, would increase the cost of living.

Mr. Lyman closed for the bill. He told of the great increase in the cost of road construction and the demand for more state highways. He contended it was only fair for the automobilists to pay the bill.

All amendments were rejected, including the resolve for a special commission on the subject. The house then voted to refer the bill to the next annual session.

Hyde Park Bill Advanced

The bill to provide for the operation by the city of Boston of street railway lines in Hyde Park was ordered to a third reading by a voice vote. Mr. Thibault of Hyde Park, during the extended debate, said the measure was drawn by the law department of the city for the sole purpose of making the operation of the line less expensive.

Mr. Adlow of Boston condemned the road as "junk," and said "there is no limit to the sum the city will have to pay." He charged the bill "ignores the city council" and "does not regard public interests."

Mr. Lomasney of Boston said the city paid $50,000 required by the original public control act and the company accepted it. Later the company, he declared, "had the bill changed at the recent special session and never has constructed the new street railway required by the law." He said the proposition "is to pay $600,000 for the property and there is nothing to show

B. Montgomery Reilly, Kansas City, is the newly appointed governor of Porto Rico.

how much the property is worth." He asserted "the mortgagees, the bondholders and the city are not protected."

Mr. Gilman of Boston, for the bill, said that the city promised Hyde Park it should have one fare to Boston if the town would become part of the city. He said Hyde Park was annexed, but that the city had not kept its contract.

Mr. Adlow replied that he "did not see why anybody should pay attention to a promise made by John F. Fitzgerald." He declared no one would buy the road from the city at the end of the period of public control.

Mr. Hamberger of Boston said the bill offered the only way of giving relief to Hyde Park. Mr. Clark of Brockton favored the bill.

The bill was advanced by a voice

vote and Mr. Lomasney was unable to secure a roll call.

Hours for Newspapers

The house concurred, 74 to 27, with the senate amendment to the bill to regulate the sale and delivery of newspapers by boys of 12 years and over. As the bill now stands, the delivery and sale may begin at 6 a. m. and continue until 8 p. m.

Representative Coleman E. Kelley of Boston presented his petition that the state make contributions toward the expense of military funerals for deceased members of the American Legion. It was referred to the committee on rules.

$10,000 LOSS

Sawmill at West Fairlee, Vt., Destroyed

WEST FAIRLEE, Vt., May 12.—Sparks from the Sibley Bros' sawmill here, blown across a brook by the high wind, set fire to the Southworth Company's sawmill yesterday and burning brands in turn were blown back and fired the Sibley mill. Both were destroyed, together with the dwelling of Arthur Dushan and a large quantity of lumber. The loss is estimated at about $10,000.

Judge Martin Hawkins

JUDGE'S DOUBLE IS BAD CHECK ARTIST

PORTLAND, Ore., May 12.—District Judge Martin Hawkins, of this city, was under arrest for five minutes. Here's how it happened:
Judge Hawkins has a double. The double, a forger, hiding from eastern police, fled to Portland.
A sleuth hurried out to Portland to catch the bad check artist. He saw the judge in a restaurant and proceeded to arrest him.
Only the timely interference of Portland detectives who knew Hawkins saved him from a trip to the police station.

THE MOVIE FEED-BOX

Now comes the season of the air-dances.

"Christine of the Young Heart," Gladys Walton's next.

Marjorie Daw plays mother and daughter in "The Lying Truth."

Screen rights to Gene Stratton Porter's novels have been purchased.

Mahlon Hamilton and John Bowers are to support Louise Glbaum in "Daughters of Joy."

A studio accommodating ten companies is to be erected in Tampa, Fla.

BEHOLD THE FIRST BABY DINOSAUR!

BY C. W. GILMORE
Of the U. S. National Museum

The fossil skeleton of a baby dinosaur, the very smallest specimen of its kind, has recently been placed on exhibition in the United States National Museum.

Brachyceratops, as this infant prodigy has been christened in scientific circles, is some few inches less than six feet long from the tip of his baby nose to the end of his tail, and stands about two feet high at the hips, with a head that is 22 inches in length.

These dimensions would indicate quite a sizable youngster, but when placed by the side of the skeleton of the largest member of the race, a relative which is 50 feet in length, 5 feet high and with a head 6' or more feet long, the small size of Brachyceratops becomes clearly apparent.

How Youth Is Shown

The youth of this particular animal is indicated not so much by its small size, for when fully grown it is a relatively small species, as by the open sutures of the skull.

Norman Ross, preparator in the section of Vertebrate Paleontology, spent 345 days in preparing this unique specimen for exhibition to the public.

The fossil bones of Brachyceratops were found on the Blackfoot Indian reservation in northwestern Montana by an expedition sent out in search of fossils by the United States Geological Survey in 1913.

It was one of five partial skeletons all uncovered at the same time, and these so supplement one another as to give a clear idea of the entire skeletal structure.

The authorities of the museum are particularly proud of the specimen because of it being the first one of its kind to be found.

Region of Swamps

At the time Brachyceratops lived the part of Montana where the bones were found was a region of vast swamps with wide water-courses, with an abundant vegetation, and was inhabited by a great variety of dinosaurs as well as by the smaller crocodiles, turtles, and small mammals, all of whose fossil remains are now found embedded in the rocks of this area.

Brachyceratops belongs to a group of extinct reptiles that are popularly referred to as Horned Dinosaurs, because of the horns which adorn their heads. This species has a large horn on the nose and two very small horns, one above each eye, whereas the large Triceratops, the last of the race, has these conditions reversed.

In the picture is shown a modelled restoration of Brachyceratops based on the mounted skeleton and which gives an idea of the appearance of the animal in life. It is the first attempt to depict the scaled skin.

Bigamy Wave Hits New York—Manhattan

Stirred by Citizens' Proclivity To Take Two Wives or More

For the sin ye do, by two and two,
—Ye must pay for, one by one.

—KIPPLING

BY R. H. WHITNEY.

NEW YORK, May 12.—New York has suffered from crime waves, holiday waves, and suicide waves. Now comes the so-called bigamy wave.

John William Murray, a publisher of 33, is the central figure in the latest plural marriage case. He is being sued by Wife No. 3 for separation. She charges him with "cruel and inhuman treatment." It develops, as a consequence of this action, that he has two other wives—all married within seven years—though he says he didn't intend to be a bigamist and doesn't believe two of the marriages are legal.

Manhattan Jack, still in possession of his meteoric Broadway career, rushed from New York to Los Angeles, where dwells Yvonne Pavis Murray, Wife No. 1, a motion picture actress.

He announced there that they had effected a reconciliation and that he is ready to return to New York and "face the music."

Wife No. 2 was Marie Dougherty Murray, war worker, whom he married when he enlisted in the Marine Corps. Wife No. 3 was lovely Ann Warwick Murray, actress and daughter of an Illinois merchant.

The story of Murray is the story of others. Recently Herbert Thornton Andrews, wealthy young stock broker and bon vivant, tired of Maud Augusta Maynes, whom he married in Portland, Me., on April 2, 1911.

Without divorcing her, he hurried to Pittsburgh, where he met Edith Marie Hainall, stenographer, into his automobile and fled to Greenwich, Conn., where the laws on bigamy are toothless.

There he made her his bride and returned with her to his home, where he introduced her to Wife No. 1. He compelled both women to live together in the same house until the scandal caused Esther to flee and Maud to commence a divorce action.

Just before Andrews caused a sensation, New York was stirred by the news that Vice-Chancellor Joseph Merritt Lane of New Jersey had found the Connecticut law favorable to his polygamous purposes.

On Jan. 30, 1919, he married Gertrude Garrison-Kerr, daughter of Supreme Court Justice Garrison and a niece of Lindley M. Garrison, former secretary of war.

On April 4, just 64 days later, spring fever caused him to hurry to Stamford, Conn., where he was united in wedlock to Grace Herch.

Bringing her back, he installed her in a palatial home in northern New York.

He resided, however, as vice-chancellor of New Jersey, a few days later when wife No. 2 entered his court and publicly horsewhipped him.

Then there is Arthur David Stevens, of Brooklyn, the Bronx, and points west. Early, of New York, testified she married him in 1920, believing fondly he was a bachelor.

But Ciddy, of Darien, stepped forth sheik rule. He expressed the hope that some day England and the United States would unite in an effort to bring about happier conditions in Russia.

preciated than the gift itself. In his letter President Lowell wished all possible success to Boston college in this campaign and said it gave him pleasure to send the check.

Dr. M. A. Tighe, division chairman, was in Boston yesterday and was in consultation with the executive committee. The reason for the extension of the drive, Dr. Tighe said today, is that more than 40 per cent of the members of the churches have not yet reported their receipts. This is said to be due to the fact that the parishes have been within the past few days concluding their drives for other worthy purposes, and full work on the Boston college campaign has not been done.

BYSTANDERS' JURY TRIES CHICKEN CASE

"The Great Chicken Case" was given a mock trial before a jury picked from "bystanders" in the Highland Congregational church last night. The trial was conducted under the auspices of the Men's club of the church. An interlude in the trial was the arraignment of Dr. Brown Gilman on the charge of playing cards in church on Sunday.

Those participating in the trial were as follows:
Chicken Thief..... Royal C. Hope
Another Prisoner..... George S. Gilman
His Honor, the Judge..... Dr. Roy S. Perkins
Lawyer for the Defense..... John McAdams
Lawyer for the Prosecution..... Frederick Reed

Clerk of Court..... James Alister
Sheriff..... Harrison
Foreman of the Jury..... Fred Ingram
Witnesses for the prosecution: "I. M. A. Scribbler," Robert McMaster, Mr. Alphabet Johnson, William "Ed," Mrs. R. U. Content, Winthrop Bean.

Witnesses for the defense, "Professor J. P. Puff," Arthur Stewart, Messrs. Hester, Gilman and Perkins had general charge of the affair.

and testified that he had married her in 1911.

Stevens is the manager of a chain of mid-west restaurants, though that fact was given no significance in court. Both wives protested extreme friendship for him. He was sweet and nice, they agreed, as they left court arm in arm, refusing to go ahead with prosecution.

Another charge of real bigamy where three wives are concerned came following a kiss. Harry A. Newton, a handsome actor, was put in the Tombs prison because he kissed his wife. He did this in Grand Central station, where his three wives had gone to meet him.

The loves of Newton, so far as they are recorded by the court, began 19 years ago in Monticello, Ill., where he married Florence Madiera, an actress. She was at the time playing in "Fair and Warm" and "Up in Mabel's Room" productions of a stock company.

For seven years they lived happily, then Harry, after a whirlwind courtship, won for his helpmate Glenn Argue, of vaudeville fame. She it was who gave him the betrayal kiss.

Not only is she wife No. 2, but Harry married her twice. They married in Rochester, Minn., came to New York, and promptly lost the certificate, hence the second wedding as he sailed away to be a soldier.

Happiness blessed the match until September, 1919, when Harry passed out of Glenn's life. Two days later in Fort Huron, Mich., he married Eva Edmonson, the widow of a man who was playing ingenue parts in "regular attractions."

Recently all three wives met in a theatrical booking office, compared notes, sent for Harry, and then placed him in jail.

Manhattan Jack Murray's case is slightly different in that he made no attempt to conceal from his wives after marriage the facts of his marriages to others.

Murray's wifings were of the rapid-fire type, as is he himself. In 1911, Murray was 26. He was of medium height, sandy-haired, blue-eyed, fluent of speech.

He was then a commercial photographer, a lavish spender, "dressed to kill" and all in all was thought much of.

So, on Feb. 23, 1914, he engaged in a tete-a-tete in a Broadway theatre box with a girl he had never before seen. Within an hour they went to Brooklyn, Conn., where Mr. C. G. Maher made them husband and wife.

In 1917, Murray sued his actress bride for divorce, but dropped the case when she counter-sued in Los Angeles, charging him with cruelty. The California courts, however, refused her a decree.

Murray came east again. He entered the Liberty Loan organization and there met pretty and winsome Marie Elizabeth Dougherty, a worker for the National Security league.

Following their meeting he enlisted in the Marine Corps, and two days later, on July 15, both hurried to the hall of Records, New York, where the Rev. R. H. Lewis made them man and wife. In his marriage license he swore but not much about what is being done here. Why has Massachusetts been dropping backward in such matters?"

Mr. Delaney said that he expected a roasting from educators as a result of his attitude on school matters. "I know of children in the sixth and seventh grades," he continued, "who cannot write so that you can read what they have written and they cannot read themselves. There are more failures, the authorities tell us, in the civil service examinations among graduates of high schools than among those who have not been through the schools."

Thought Himself Savior
The speaker said, in opening his address, that he had taken up his duties as a member of the school committee feeling that he was "the self-appointed savior of the city." He spoke of what he said the newspapers called a "jungle" made by the committee, shortly after he became a member of it, to other cities in search of information.

He learned on the trip. He reached the conclusion, however, that other cities were doing considerable boasting about their educational systems and that the "fields far away are always green."

After looking over the field he was satisfied that the schools of Lowell are as good, if not a little better, than any others. The personnel of the teaching staff, he said, is equal to any. The school houses, so far as the inside of the buildings is concerned, is better than in most places.

Gives Address on Russia

In the audience the suffering and privations which many of the poorer classes of Russia are enduring. He also brought with him the phonograph records of speeches by Lenin and Trotsky, a feature of his appearance at the Middlesex Women's club a few weeks ago. The voices of these two leaders could be heard clearly and distinctly.

The speaker said that he went to Russia disguised, but said that the disguise did not help him to avoid getting into many dangerous situations. Luckily, however, he managed to extricate himself from them all.

He said that the Russian revolution of which so much has been heard lately really dates back to 1913 and had its culmination in the downfall of the czar. The Bolshevik regime is now in power, he said, but many of the peasants still cling to their faith in the old rule.

As an example of this, he illustrated the case of a traveler wishing to purchase butter. He approached a peasant on the subject and the latter said the amount of butter the peasant wanted would cost 1000 rubles. The traveler said he had the rubles of the old czar regime as well as those of the new Bolshevik government. The peasant then said that he would much rather have 100 rubles of the czar's government than 1000 of the new ones, and, in fact, he gave in exchange for the 100 rubles not only the butter but a number of the Bolshevik rubles as well. This, said the speaker, gives an idea of the comparative value of the two kinds of money.

Mr. Paul said that the Bolsheviks were making every attempt to stop trading in food products among the peasants but despite their efforts the peasants were continuing to carry on their usual exchange of goods. He described general economic conditions there and said that the Bolsheviks labored under the false delusion that all people could be divided into two classes, the proletariat and the non-proletariat. Only a half million people out of Russia's immense population had subscribed to Bolshevik beliefs, he said.

His stereoscopic slides pictured many of the large cities of Russia, including Petrograd, Warsaw, Moscow, etc. They also pictured the huts in which peasants lived, the conditions brought about by scarcity of food and fuel and the general unpopularity of the Bol-

YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers! Watch Your Daughters' Health

Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established she needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give.

The condition that the girl is then passing through is so critical and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health that it is almost criminal for a mother or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period.

Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her. She needs thoughtful care for a few years.

In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in perfect safety.

Read how Mrs. Elcher helped her daughter. She says: "At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had pains across her back and in her sides. Every month her back would pain her so she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I read the books which were left at my door. She took it faithfully and is now regular, and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers." Mrs. KATIE EICHER, 4034 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Williams will profit by her own experience. She says: "When I was thirteen years old I had sick spells each month and as I was very backward I would hear the pain and my mother knew nothing about it. I read in the daily paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took my own spending money and bought a bottle. It helped me so much that I took it regularly after that until I had taken two bottles and I did not have any more pain or backache and have been a healthy, strong woman. I am now 39 years old and have a little girl of my own, and when she gets old enough I shall give her none other than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. C. E. WILLIAMS, 2437 W. Toronto St., Philadelphia, Pa.

For almost fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been relieving women, young and old, of ailments peculiar to their sex. Ask your neighbor about it, for in every neighborhood there are women who know of its merits.

Thousands of letters similar to the above are in the files of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., and for years such letters have been published. Surely it is worth your while to make a fair trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Unknown Schooner Drifts Ashore

CHATHAM, May 12.—An unidentified three masted schooner drifted ashore on Stonehorse Shoal at the eastern entrance to Nantucket sound at low water this morning. The wind was moderate and shore observers considered her in no immediate danger. Captain Robert Ellis and a crew from the Monomoy Point coast guard station went out to assist the vessel which it was believed would be floated at high tide. The schooner, loaded and bound north, anchored off the shoals last night.

SENSATIONAL ESCAPE FROM STATE PRISON

BOSTON, May 12.—Victor F. Nelson, 22 years old, serving a 3 to 5-year sentence in the state prison at Charlestown, made a sensational escape at 7.45 last evening. He broke out of a line of 13 prisoners on their way to their rooms in the Cherry Hill section of the prison, and climbing up the heavy barred trestle work of a window 25 feet in height, threw himself eight feet to the coping of a brick wall and made his escape across the roof of a schoolroom to a storehouse, which led to the outside wall. Upon reaching the wall he hung over the side and dropped 20 feet to the Boston and Maine railroad yard and escaped.

Nelson was last seen by railroad men running across the tracks in the direction of East Somerville.

There was a rumor throughout last night that Manster and Samarco, life prisoners, had also escaped, but this was not true.

To get applause it will be "soft" for ordinary ginks.

Experts' Tests Not Reliable

She has had the rickets which has stunted her physical growth, but she is sound mentally. The witness told of examining her in the hospital in company with Mr. Boydeau. "Not an imbecile!" The next witness called to the stand was Dr. George L. Walton, 67 years old, of Boston, a specialist in nervous and mental diseases. He testified that he had been connected with the department of nervous diseases of the Massachusetts General Hospital since his graduation from medical school. He said that from his observations of Fortier he had reached the opinion that he is not insane and is not an imbecile. Replying to questions by District Attorney Tufts, the witness said that assuming that Fortier's behavior had been such as had been testified to, his opinion was that the defendant knew what he was doing at the time the alleged murder was committed and that he knew what he was doing was wrong. He also said that he thought the prisoner had the power to refrain from his acts.

Questioned by Tufts about the Stanford university modification of the Binet-Simons test for determining mental development, the witness said that even intelligent people are apt to fall short when subjected to such tests, especially if they are adults who have been away from their books for a considerable time. The witness said that the Binet-Simons test is not the most important factor in determining mental ability, and he gave a list of a number of ways to determine a person's mental condition. He said the first thing to do was to look at a subject's physical appearance to ascertain if he had badly shaped or deformed face, eyes, etc. Then, he said, one should inquire into the family history of the subject, also the history of that subject's development in childhood and his progress in school studies.

Ability to Earn Living The economic efficiency, or in other words, ability to earn a living, is another important point to consider in examining a subject, the witness stated. He mentioned, as being very important, the subject's social situation and his reaction to it, that is, his ability to associate on equal terms with others of his own age and social condition. He said that he had seen no evidence that Fortier could not associate on equal terms with those he did associate with. The witness asserted that the Binet-Simons test, even though a patient co-operates when it is made, is not the most important thing to be considered, but "the test becomes of the least importance certainly, when one is not sure the patient is co-operating."

Enumerates "Fluent Answers" Dr. Walton said he did not think that Fortier's answers were reliable. The first reason, he said, was the fundamental contradiction. He declared that the prisoner answered some questions very slowly and sometimes incorrectly. But other questions, according to the witness, were answered "as fluently as anyone ever answers."

The witness enumerated as being among such fluent answers, Fortier's telling about having headaches for a week after being arrested and about his nose bleeding. The witness then described Fortier's inability to count from 1 to 5 either in French or in English. This test, he said, was a four-year-old test. Fortier left out the number 4 when counting from 1 to 5 in either language. Another reason, he said, was that he thought Fortier's answers unreliable, because of the prisoner's "progressive inability." This, he explained to mean that as the trial progresses, the defendant seems to become less and less able to answer questions correctly.

Questioning Halted An objection at this point halted this line of questions. Witness then said that another reason why he doubted the reliability of Fortier's answers was because of the regularity with which he answered certain questions wrong. He told of Fortier getting puzzle pictures together and getting them all completely wrong. The witness' view was that Fortier tried to put the pieces of the puzzle picture in wrong.

Cross-examined by Attorney Tierney, witness said that he holds himself out to the world as a neurologist. He said he has not been in a position for some years. He said that he did not believe Dubouche would have used Fortier, if the latter was a "tool and a fool," to take an important part in a hold-up unless he was a fool himself. He agreed that he might use Fortier in an inferior capacity. He Fortier in an inferior capacity. He directly questioned by District Attorney Tufts he said that characteristics found in normal people.

Dr. John F. Krasny, a defense expert witness, was called by the state to the stand in rebuttal.

Government Rests Case Dr. Edward R. Utley, jail physician at East Cambridge, was the final witness in the government's rebuttal. As he was called, not as an expert on mental diseases, he did not give a pro-positional opinion relative to the sanity of the defendant, Fortier. He told of talking to the prisoner concerning the latter's experiences while serving as an enlisted man in the army during the world war. Fortier declared the witness said nothing to him relative to insulating the Kaiser or the German army.

When Dr. Utley left the witness stand Dist. Atty. Tufts arose and said: "The Commonwealth rests." This was shortly after mid-day.

Atty. Tierney now stated that the defense would offer no rebuttal. Atty. O'Neill rose and stated that the defendant, Lionel Theberge, rested. His statement was followed by that of Attorney Donahue to the effect that the defendant, Emile Theberge, also rested.

After a brief conference in connection with some of the evidence, Atty. O'Neill opened his argument for the defendant, Lionel Theberge. He referred to the fourth man in the case as "a mysterious master mind." "The mysterious stranger."

He scouted the Commonwealth's contention relative to the culpability of the Theberge brothers. He spoke of the bankbook as evidence that the brothers did not need money on the night of Jan. 25.

When the noon recess was taken, Atty. O'Neill had progressed through the first part of his argument, which was resumed when the afternoon session opened.

YESTERDAY'S LATE SESSION A few moments after 2 o'clock, the afternoon session opened. The roll-call of jurors and defendants was taken by the clerk of court, and then Dr. Krasny resumed the stand for further cross-examination by the district attorney. This related to the notes taken by the witness during his examination of the defendant, and was resumed when the afternoon session opened.

Dr. W. A. Thom, a specialist in nervous and mental diseases, and connected with the Boston Psychopathic hospital, off and on, he said, since 1913.

WAS UNABLE TO SLEEP THE NIGHT THROUGH ON ACCOUNT OF KIDNEY TROUBLE, HE SAID

Mr. Louis Trehan of 194 Suffolk Street, Lowell, Says CINOOT Gave Him Wonderful Relief and He Was in Deplorable Condition When He Tried It.

Mr. Trehan says: "I had very weak kidneys and pain in the back and my bladder was in such bad shape that I did not dare leave home for more than two hours at a time and as for sleeping nights it was impossible and only had short stretches of rest. I felt tired and drowsy, especially after eating and could hardly drag myself through the day and I had given up in despair when I heard of CINOOT and started to take it."

I have taken three bottles and sleep the night through and have no trouble with my kidneys or bladder and I feel strong and healthy and I seem to get tired. I am endorsing CINOOT and I want the people to believe it as it is to their own interest to do so. CINOOT is being demonstrated in Lowell by an expert at Deane's drug store, Merrimack square, and is for sale at all good druggists everywhere.—JL

RIGA, May 12.—The Russian government in fixing a tariff for foreign telegrams sent from Moscow estimated that 4000 rubles were worth one gold franc, and that this should be the basis for international cable payments. This decision fixes the exchange rate at 20,000 soviet rubles to the dollar.

GOOD CEREAL CROP IN ITALY

NEUTRALITY PROCLAIMED MOB INVADERS SHIP

Allies Put Constantinople, Bosphorus and Dardanelles In Neutral Zone Reserves Called to Prevent New Outbreaks Along Wharves at Galveston

PARIS, May 12.—The allied high commissioners, generals and admirals, have decided to proclaim the neutrality of Constantinople, the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles while the war between Turkey and Greece continues, despatches say from the Turkish capital. As a consequence, Greece will be unable to use Constantinople as a base any longer, and will be invited to reduce her effective force to a minimum which will be fixed by the allies. She will also be asked to send her warships outside of territorial waters. As a result of this step, Greece will be able to supply her troops on the Ismid and Brusa fronts only by way of Redoto.

SAFETY DEVICES FOR ONE-MAN CARS

All the one-man cars in the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. have been equipped recently with safety devices whereby any passenger can stop the car at any time and open the rear door by simply pulling a cord. The cord hangs from the side of the car about half-way from the entrance and near it is a conspicuous card, telling of its purpose. These devices were installed in all the one-man cars in accordance with a second ruling of the public utilities commission. The railroad contended at the time that the operator of the car could do anything that the person pulling the cord could accomplish, but nevertheless, it was ordered that the devices be installed. The safety device is on the same principle as the cord running through the coaches of a railroad train whereby a passenger is able to apply the air brakes and bring the train to a stop.

Mr. Louis Hordelau, manager and owner of the Lowell Metal Ceiling Co., has been doing business in this city for the past nine years, erecting steel ceilings and sidewalks. Owing to the large demand for steel ceilings, his company has opened a new office at 513 Middlesex street, for the convenience of their many customers. Some of the large contracts done by the firm are St. Mary's church, South Lowell, Notre Dame academy, St. Patrick's Home, Chapel, Colville school, and many of the large stores of this city and elsewhere. Mr. Hordelau is familiarly known among the contractors as "Lolo," the hustler, owing to the fact that he is always on the job and renders such prompt service.

The New Laws on teeth cleaning—five of them

Dental science has adopted new laws on teeth cleaning. They mean whiter, cleaner, safer teeth to those who follow them.

Millions employ these new methods, largely by dental advice. Now this ten-day test is offered to show every home the results.

1—Fight the film

The first law is to fight film—that viscus coat you feel. It clings the teeth and causes most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Old ways of brushing do not end it. So few have escaped some form of film attack.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dirty. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Two methods now

Two ways are now known to fight film. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now advise their daily use.

Both are embodied in Pepsodent—a scientific tooth-paste. They keep the teeth uniquely clean and also highly polished.

Three other laws

Modern starch diet also calls for other helps to Nature. So every use of Pepsodent brings these three desired results.

1—A multiplied salivary flow.

No Charge for a 10-day test. Simply mail the coupon and watch the delightful results.

2—Multiplied starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. 3—Multiplied alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize mouth acids which cause tooth decay.

Thus Pepsodent fights two deposits—film and starch—which may do great harm to teeth. Also the destroying acids, and in Nature's way.

Brings a new era

These mean vast improvements on old methods. In fact, old methods, brought the opposite effects. Pepsodent has introduced a new era in teeth cleaning, and millions now enjoy it.

Now we urge that you send for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscus film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Feel the other good effects.

Then decide by what you see and feel. Do this for your own sake. Cut out the coupon now.

A scientific film combatant, whose every application brings five desired effects. Approved by highest authorities, and now advised by leading dentists everywhere. All druggists supply the large tubes.

ZIPPY ZEBRA

"SAY, MRS. OSTRICH, IS MY EAR BLOUSING?"

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
Now then, Zippy Zebra, who lived way off in the Land-That-Was-Far-ther-Away-Of-Ali, was kicking up his heels and cavorting around in a care-free manner at the very minute he was being talked about.

On one side of him was Mr. Ostrich and on the other was Mrs. Ostrich, busily eating stones. Suddenly Zippy stopped with a worried look and began fapping his right ear.

"Say, Mrs. Ostrich, is my ear blousing?" he asked anxiously.

Mrs. Ostrich stopped eating stones and squinted sideways. "Merely me on us! How can I tell when it's as striped as an awning? What are you asking for?"

"It's burning hot," Zippy explained, "and they used to say in the circus that when your ear burned like a hot coal somebody was saying something about you. My ear is as hot as a whole kitchen stove, so I feel sure that my name must be being mentioned somewhere. Now what's your pose?"

"Oh, shucks!" answered Mrs. Ostrich, disgustedly. "Don't be so suspicious!"

Mr. Ostrich snorted, at least he made as nearly that kind of a noise as a bird can, and he said, "My dear, your English is shocking. You don't mean suspicious, you mean superstitious. Believing in signs is called superstitious, and anyway it's very silly."

"That's what I'm trying to tell him," answered Mrs. Ostrich, "and I think my word sounds quite as well as yours. Do tell us, Zippy, won't you, why you left the circus?"

"The gnomes untied my ropes and I bolted," nodded Zippy. "When I got out of my tent, you couldn't see me going for dust. I simply beat it."

"My, my!" said Mrs. Ostrich. "Talking about grammar, I think it is time you were getting among refined folks and learning to speak something besides slang."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatrical Press Agents

RIALTO THEATRE:

"Jim the Penman," the feature story of the Rialto theatre for the last three days of the week, is the greatest screen triumph in which Lionel Barrymore has yet appeared. That well-known character of the screen fairly outdoes himself in the role offered. The production is the fourth of a series in which the well-known actor has appeared for distribution by the Associated First National Pictures. "Jim the Penman" is entirely different from any picture in which Mr. Barrymore has appeared in date. The program also carries Debe Danneberg in "She Couldn't Help It," an Educational comedy, a serial of "Fighting Fate" and the Fox News.

OPERA HOUSE:

The funny antics of Milton Byron in the role of "Billy" in the comedy by the same name, which the Lowell Players are presenting this week at the Opera House, are unusually amusing and mirth-provoking. To hear him trying to pronounce the name of his girl, "Hatrice," with his four front teeth missing, is as funny as can be.

His tongue is uncontrollable and his efforts are wonderfully amusing. Don't miss it. Next week is farewell week for the players and their production will be the merry musical comedy, "The Circus Girl." Some novelties are promised.

THE STRAND

The story of "A Message from Mars," in which Bert Lytell appears in the stellar role, and which is to appear for the first time locally on The Strand screen today, is brilliant and decked with the fantasy in sufficient measure to insure the attention of all audiences without a pause. The mixture of romance and reality go to make it a really exceptional picture. Briefly, it concerns Horace Parker, a wealthy young Englishman, who is so wrapped up in himself that he imagines the world revolves around him and that he is a minor god. A series of lessons at the hands of a messenger from Mars, despatched to haunt the most selfish man on earth and condemned to remain with him until regeneration is effected, soon takes the self-esteem out of him, and he re-wins the love of the girl he lost. Lytell is wonderfully interesting in the principal role, and the support accorded him by the engaging cast is also meritorious.

Edith Roberts in "The Fire Cat" is the other feature on the bill and this too, richly deserves favorable consideration from the patrons, for it is a high grade photoplay and presented in a most artistic and finished manner. It's the story of a girl who frequents a village dance hall section of a South American city and there meets a young American engineer whom she at first turns aside, but who later wins her love and esteem through a queer and interesting series of adventures. To indicate just what caused the change and detail the happenings would be depriving a deal of pleasure for those who plan to see it. Don't miss seeing both pictures.

The usual comedy and Weekly, as well as new musical features help to make the bill exceptionally good.

R. F. KUFF'S THEATRE:

Oh, but there's speed and skableness to the present week's bill at the R. F. Kuff theatre. Ask anybody who has been there, and if he doesn't admit that it is a peppy bill then he's grouchy. Take the delightful little comedy called "Shoes" or "As played by Huston & Whipple. It is delightfully done. Then there is Tom Patricola with a dancing bit that's a corker. Irene Delroy, who assists him, gets into the picture a lot. Denno and Dan offer very classy comedy and some good dancing, and Vincent O'Donnell, the "Kid McCormack," can put over a song in a manner beyond reproach. The dancing of "Coner" and "Lacey" with the imitations of the latter, makes 15 minutes of real speedy entertainment, while the acrobatics of Sankur and Salzer, are in a class by themselves. Suttler & Dell, cyclists, are different from the usual run.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE:

Betty Compton, the pretty star, who electrified all who saw her in the part of "Rose" in "The Miracle Man," has an even more appealing role in "Prisoners of Love," the feature production of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. Miss Compton plays the role of a girl who is beautiful and physically magnificent swept her beyond the brink of life's deepest pitfall. The other big feature for the second part of the week is "One Man in a Million," a corking story of modern life, starring George Boban, who has been hailed as the greatest interpreter of foreign characters on the American stage or screen today. A comedy and the International News round out the bill. Don't forget the anniversary week cake contest, an evening and the souvenir music to be given the ladies attending tomorrow's matinee.

LOWELL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Silas R. Coburn of Dracut read an interesting paper on the history of that town at the quarterly meeting of the Lowell Historical society last evening at the society's rooms in the Memorial building. The reading of the paper was followed by an informal discussion of general historical matters. The committee appointed on the project to preserve the old Durkee house on Varnum avenue asked for more time. It is hoped that the public interest can be aroused in the project to save the house from going into complete decay.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK

BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of calomine powder from your druggist, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The calomine powder and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out while the simple application of calomine powder and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get calomine powder at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

ESCAPE OF BERGDOLL

Sergt. O'Hare Declares He Was Not Told of Buried Pot of Gold

WASHINGTON, May 12.—In giving a first-hand account of the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the Philadelphia draft dodger, Sergt. John O'Hare, who was in command of the escort which started out with Bergdoll from Governor's Island for the mountains of Maryland told the house investigating committee yesterday that he had never heard a word about the buried pot of gold until long after the prisoner had fled.

O'Hare was positive in the assertion that when he started out for the mountains the only instructions he received from Col. John E. Hunt, his superior officer, was to proceed with the prisoner to Hagerstown, Md., get some money from a bank, take it to another bank at Philadelphia and return to the barracks.

There were no written orders except to stop off at North Philadelphia, meet the late D. Clarence Giboney, Bergdoll's lawyer, and thereafter be guided by what Giboney said, the witness declared. O'Hare said he wanted to handcuff his prisoner, but that Hunt had refused.

It was at Giboney's order, he said, that the party halted at Philadelphia, went for a long automobile ride with Bergdoll at the wheel, visited a burlesque show and stopped at the Bergdoll home, from which the prisoner escaped.

The sergeant told how Bergdoll, who had evaded the draft for a couple of years, was sent from the island in the full uniform of an enlisted man, with a hat cord indicating that he belonged to the infantry branch of the service, how he had sat in the train from New York to Philadelphia without uttering a word and chewing tobacco all the while.

Step by step he told of various moves up to the moment when Bergdoll walked into the bathroom to answer the telephone. He was never seen after that and to this day the sergeant said, he does not know how he got out. Except for that single moment, he declared, the prisoner was never out of his sight.

No amount of cross-examination could budge the witness from his statement that he was in entire ignorance of any plan to go out and dig up the buried gold, the object for which the prisoner was released in custody of O'Hare and York, another sergeant.

Paper money, called "dyine money," was first used by the Chinese 2637 B.C.

FRATERNAL NEWS

Lowell lodge, 618, Loyal Order of Moose, met last evening at its quarters in Odd Fellows building with Dictator Edward St. Leger in the chair. The anniversary committee, reported that plans were completed for the concert and dance to be held this evening in Associate hall. The auditor's report for the last quarters showed the lodge to be in good financial condition. A class initiation will be held at the next meeting on May 25.

Camp 4, Uniform Rank

Camp 4, I.O.O.F., M.U., met Tuesday evening in Hamilton hall, Odd Fellows building, with Capt. Phillips Brooksadden in command. A non-committed officers' school was held under the direction of the captain. At the next meeting, May 24, final plans will be made for the annual Maynard trip on June 5.

The committee in charge of the various departments are as follows: Fancy work, Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Haskell; domestic table, Mrs. Wallace Adams; apron, Mrs. Annie Rowden and Mrs. Choate; candy, Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Gregoire; ice cream, Miss Alice Rice and Orris Phelps; dining room, Mrs. Hamblett, Mrs. Treble, Miss Rice and Orris Phelps; kitchen, Mrs. Choate, Mrs. Phelps and Mrs. Sousa. The chairman of the general committee was Mrs. E. N. Rice.

"HOSPITAL DAY"

Birthday of Florence Nightingale Celebrated

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The birthday of Florence Nightingale, pioneer in modern nursing, was celebrated today for the first time as a "national hospital day" in nearly 3000 hospitals throughout the United States. The public health service issued instructions that every institution under its supervision keep "open house" and explain to visitors the work of an up-to-date "health factory." Those who cannot visit their disabled soldier relatives or friends in these hospitals today might "say it with flowers or smokes," the service bulletin suggested.

LAWRENCE WINS DEBATE

A team representing the Greenhalse Debating society of the Lowell high school met defeat at the hands of a Lawrence high debating team in the Lawrence city hall last evening. The Lowell team upheld the affirmative side of the question: Resolved: That all labor disputes between labor organizations and employers should be submitted to a federal compulsory board of arbitration. The judges voted 2 to 1 in favor of the negative. The Lowell team was composed of David Connors, William Thompson and Myer Arlosky. The Lawrence team included Lewis B. Carey, Thomas McCarthy and Ernest J. Simmes. The judges were Prof. G. F. French and Prof. F. W. H. Stott, both of Andover, and Judge Albio G. Pierce of Methuen.

A special town meeting of the voters of Chelmsford will be held in the town hall at Chelmsford Centre Friday evening, May 27.

RAIL RATES MAY BE CUT FOR TEST

By H. N. RICEY
WASHINGTON, May 12.—The railway problem is no nearer solution today than at any time during the many months that it has been recognized by all of official Washington as the most vital and perplexing of all national problems.

This is admitted by practically every man whose knowledge of the situation qualifies him to discuss it.

There is no doubt that from the standpoint of the owners and managers, the plight of the railways is becoming more desperate each day. Neither is there any doubt that from the standpoint of the shippers and travelers, victims of the extortionate rates, the situation is equally desperate.

That failure to find a constructive answer to the problem, and break the vicious circle of high rates to the public and diminishing returns to the railway stockholders, retarding the return of the country to industrial and financial health, is another point on which Washington officials agree.

Working on Problem

It is not that the railway problem is being neglected by those responsible for finding an answer to it. Far from it.

If work and thought and worry would have straightened out the railway tangle it would have been straightened out long ago.

But the right formula has not yet been found.

If one of President Harding's advisers would walk into the White House tomorrow and present a plan which gave even reasonable promise of heading the railways toward normalcy, the president would be happier than at any time since he was inaugurated.

Eventually there must be great modifications of the Esch-Cummins law, which is the medium through which the government exercises railway control. It is generally admitted that this law has proven inadequate, even under normal conditions.

But there are so many divergent ideas in congress as to what these changes should be that relief cannot be expected for months.

What is being sought so earnestly is some plan that will afford immediate if but temporary relief.

What is considered

The suggestion recently made that the interstate commerce commission and the railways agree to a drastic reduction in the rates of basic commodities, for a trial period of 30 days, is being seriously considered.

The theory is that the movement of freight affected by the cut would be so stimulated that the railways would gain more through volume of freight movement than they would lose by the cut and that the stimulation would accelerate the whole industrial machine.

In the meantime the railway managers are vigorously pressing their campaign for wage reductions of railway employees, claiming that this is the key to the situation.

That there will be reductions goes without saying. There already have been many.

But nobody seems to agree with the railway managers that there is enough margin between present wages and living wages, below which the workers cannot be pushed, to re-establish the financial integrity of the American transportation system.

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful remedy that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces swollen, enlarged glands and wens.

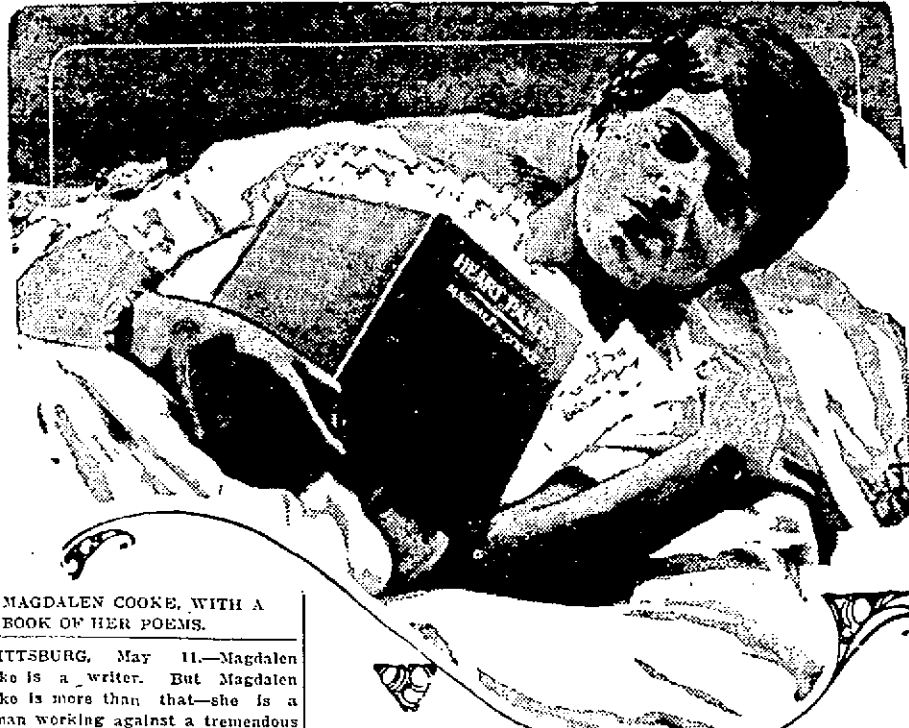

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directed and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. HELPLESS—SUPPORTS SELF AND SON

MAGDALEN COOKE, WITH A BOOK OF HER POEMS.

PITTSBURGH, May 11.—Magdalen Cooke is a writer. But Magdalen Cooke is more than that—she is a woman working against a tremendous handicap—something that would probably founder you and me—and might have floundered her, if somewhere she had not caught the gleam of a divine inspiration and harnessed to her will to be, in spite of everything, mother and father to her son.

Magdalen was seventeen years old when her son was born.

And for that new life was exacted her own health and her sight—it left her a body paralyzed, with the exception of her arms. A year later Magdalen's husband died. She was alone, blind and helpless with a child one year old.

"But you know," says Magdalen, "I believe that if you think things hard enough they eventually become realities—we can make them so, and that is what I did with my eyes. Why, I couldn't go through the rest of my life blind."

Three years passed and Mrs. Cooke's blindness was at an end. Her sight returned.

"Just how Orville (her son) and I put through those first few years, I don't know—have you ever noticed how time erases the hard things from your memory?—but I read everything I could get my hands on. My education had been limited and I knew I must make Orville's and my living with my brain.

"And I have; anyone can do the things they have to do," said Mrs. Cooke. "I began to write, to write with a purpose—a definite knowledge

Orville is now in high school. Mrs. Cooke is 22. She lives in a little home, with a purpose—a definite knowledge that I must sell my things. Eventually they did sell and Orville and I were no longer subjects of charity."

TO CONTINUE EDUCATION

Over 100 High School Students Plan to Enter College Next Fall

Sixty-three boys and 49 girls, members of this year's graduating class at the Lowell high school, are planning to attend institutions of higher education next fall, according to records available at the school office.

Headmaster Henry H. Harris has forwarded to the college entrance examination board transcripts of the records of 35 boys and eight girls who intend to take the examination to be conducted by this board in June for those wishing to enter any of the colleges which come under its jurisdiction.

Many of the larger colleges of the country have united in their entrance examination requirements and have turned the details of one general examination over to the college entrance examination board.

With the transcripts of the students' records at the high school, Mr. Harris has also sent a check for $258 cover-

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged Up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so that you don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 127, known as Marshroot, is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water, night and day, with smarting or irritation, blood, sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with untiring certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease. Don't lose a single day for Fred Howard, 187 Central Street and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit.—Adv.

A number of other colleges require an entrance examination providing the student's record shows that he or she has done the proper grade of work during the high school course. Boston college and Amherst are among the colleges that accept students on certification. Principal Harris has certified the names of 13 boys and 15 girls as eligible for entrance to college without examination. The names of 23 girls have been forwarded to the Normal school as those of young women intending to enter that institution next fall. Fifteen boys and one girl intend to enter the Lowell Textile school.

Jewelled collars have again become an important part of dress apparel. This probably came from the fact that Mrs. Harding has been wearing one her husband gave her.

Hopes to win the British amateur golf championship are pinned in the "Big Three" of the American team—Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet and Bobby Jones.

They represent the strongest layout of talent ever sent in quest of a cup on foreign links.

Evans and Ouimet went to England in 1914 and 1915.

Jones will be the only member of the trio to be handicapped by strange surroundings. Yet he is much further developed in his game than either Evans or Ouimet were when they first played abroad.

The trio represents the golf strength of east, west and south.

Evans hails from Chicago, Ouimet is from Boston and Jones from Atlanta.

CHICK EVANS

FRANCIS OUIMET

Ouimet played hockey from school when he was a kid to ramble over the links. He had the bug so bad he often got up in the middle of the night to practice new swings.

Jones grew up with the golf links as his playground.

Ted Ray, during his visit here last summer, saw the Atlanta boy wonder play and remarked that he could beat any amateur in England.

The other members of the invading team are J. Wood Platt, Freddie Wright, Paul Hunter and William C. Fowner, all strong golfers.

In the American team the Britons will be called on to face a national champion, two former national champions, two state title holders, a southern champion and a former finalist and a district finalist, who reached the national semi-finals in 1919.

Milwaukee Produces a New "Dicky Kerr"

MILWAUKEE, May 12.—Manager Jack Eagan of the Milwaukee club has a new Dicky Kerr.

His name is Denny Gearin. In every detail he is a dead ringer for the star Chicago White Sox southpaw.

Kerr played on the Milwaukee club in 1911 and 1915. He was sold up to the Sox where he is rated as one of the best left-handers in baseball.

Gearin's home is in Providence, R. I. Manager Eagan saw him playing there and noticed the striking similarity between the kid southpaw and the star he had traded to the Sox in 1918.

He signed him up, then sold him to the Oakland Cal. club.

When he reported at Oakland Manager Del Howard thought Eagan had sold him his bat boy.

Gearin is now back at Milwaukee and a star lefty.

Seven of the other American Association clubs have tried to get him. But the new Dicky Kerr isn't for sale.

When Milwaukee sells him it will be to some big league club.

"The kid will live to see the day when he can beat Kerr in a pitcher's duel," says Manager Eagan.

DENNY GEARIN. INSET IS DICKY KERR

Man, Sheriff Forgot to Hang, Transferred

SHERBOURNE, La., May 12.—Lonnie Eaton, negro murderer, whom a sheriff forgot to hang, was taken from the Caddo Parish jail today and delivered to the state penitentiary at Baton Rouge, to begin a life sentence. Sheriff Grant of Ouachita parish forgot to hang Eaton on the date set, and his sentence later was commuted by Governor Parker to a life term. He was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a white man more than a year ago.

Mrs. Werner Acquitted of Murder

HERKIMER, N. Y., May 12.—Mrs. Jennie Werner was acquitted today of murder in the first degree. The jury was out all night. She had been on trial since April 18 for complicity in the killing of her husband, Henry Werner, an lion farmer. Rudger B. Warder, confessed slayer of Werner, who was brought back from the death house at Sing Sing prison to testify against the widow, was returned to prison today. Mrs. Werner's mother, Minnie Woodbridge, is under indictment of charge of plotting the crime, but it is expected that she will not be brought to trial.

Return to Work at Reduced Wages

CINCINNATI, May 12.—Structural iron workers and rodmen, who have been on strike here since last November, have agreed to become members of the Cincinnati Wage Adjustment board and return to work at reduced wages. The Cincinnati plan was endorsed last week by the executive council of the building trade department of the American Federation of Labor as a model for other cities. Under this new scale the rodmen will receive 80 cents an hour, and the ironworkers 90 cents. When the wage adjustment board was formed it reduced the scale of these workers from $1.25 to 90 cents. A strike followed.

Sold League of Nations Stock

CHICAGO, May 12.—Stock in the League of Nations at $10 a share is the latest bargain to be offered to the Chicago investing public. Department of justice agents today began searching for the men who have victimized numerous persons by selling the stock, collecting 25 per cent of the price in advance of delivery. The League of Nations was represented as the greatest organization in the world, and prospective purchasers were told dividends would be large because of the great value of the league to humanity.

Reply From Netherlands To U. S.

THE HAGUE, May 12.—Belief exists that the answer of The Netherlands government to proposals advanced by the American state department relative to the Djambi oil fields in the East Indies, will be that the American note arrived too late for the government to take any action regarding it. The text of the government's answer to Washington has not been published as yet.

Worcester Man, Rundown at 50, Reports Splendid Results After Taking Gland Tablets

"After suffering for some time with general run-down condition today, thanks to Gland Compound, I feel like a new man. All my distressing symptoms having left me," said Mr. George E. Marks, of 11 1/2 Charlton st., Worcester, Mass.

"I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism and headaches. Sometimes I had such headaches that I could hardly see. My rheumatic pains would almost take my breath away. And no matter how much sleep I had I felt tired out all the time.

"Since taking Gland Compound, however, my rheumatism and headaches have left me, and I no longer suffer that tired feeling. I feel just full of ambition and am ready for hard work all the time. I once more feel as young as any man in his prime."

Mr. Marks' experience with Gland Compound is typical of the experience of hundreds of others who have derived decided benefits from this great new tonic. From everywhere are reported the same remarkable results.

The reason Gland Compound brings such amazing results in so many cases is because it helps build up run-down glands—which science now says is the cause of many run-down conditions. Gland Compound takes run-down human glands with extracts taken from the glands of vigorous sheep and cattle. It practically on the same principle as recharging a storage battery. Also contains iron and other well known health builders.

If weak, pale, thin or generally run-down try this remarkable tonic. Brings results—or your money back. Has helped thousands to regain health and strength. Try a bottle! sold at good druggists everywhere—A.C.

man and patron of art and music. Miss Smith is the door through which all important business with the Philharmonic Auditorium theatre of this city is conducted.

Back of her ready smile and silver laugh reposes one of the most active brains belonging to any woman in the west; she thinks like lightning and renders decisions with the snap of a steel trap; and she has the reputation of seldom resembling an order once given.

She started as a third grade teacher at $40 a month just a few years ago; today her salary is $10,000 a year.

Caroline Smith has one motto which she claims brought her success:

"Speed combined with accuracy compel recognition."

The breeding season for wild birds is at hand and Lowell people are asked by William C. Adams, director of the division of fisheries and game of the state department of conservation, to co-operate with the department in keeping the mortality of birds at a minimum during the next few months. From the middle of May to the middle of August is a time of great destruction to bird life, the mother birds being confined to the nests and the nestlings being unable to care for themselves.

While some of the mortality is due to injurious birds and animals and exposure to unfavorable weather conditions, the greatest single living agency in the destruction is the roaming, unrestrained house cat. The owner of every cat in Lowell and surrounding towns is asked to keep it under such control that it will be impossible for it to catch ground nesting birds or the young birds leaving the nests.

TWO DESERTERS RECAPTURED

Shots Across Bow Halt Skiff Off Coast of New Bedford

Boat With Two Escaping Soldier Prisoners Forced to Return to Port

NEW BEDFORD, May 11.—Ride first from the provost guard at Fort Rodman at 4 a. m. today halted a skiff 400 yards from the reservation shore, in which two civilians, residents of New Bedford, were aiding two guardsman prisoners, both charged with deserting from the army, to escape.

Sharp orders from Lieut. Miller, in charge of the guard, to row in shore were obeyed and the two deserters were recaptured, lying in the bottom of the boat.

The sentry on duty first noticed the boat in shore. When the two fishermen, Joseph Perre and Antonio Gabriel, refused to heed his command to row in, he first fired across their bows. He then brought the provost guard, which fired four rounds at the skiff, when the fishermen threw up their hands. They then rowed in to the guardshouse.

The two escaping soldier prisoners were John Mello of New Bedford and Charles Hahn of Wisconsin. They were returned to the guardshouse.

The two civilians were arraigned before United States Commissioner Goodspeed at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They said they were fishing close in to shore when halted by the two soldiers, who threatened them with bodily harm unless they took them aboard.

RAID SECRET TEMPLE

Leaders of Radical Omotokyo
Cult Placed Under Arrest
at Kyoto, Japan

KYOTO, Japan, May 11.—Leaders of the radical Omotokyo cult have been placed under arrest, with many of their followers after a police raid on the headquarters of the organization at Ayabe near here. They are charged with distributing alarmist reports calculated to disturb the public.

Police broke into a secret temple at Ayabe and found 2,000,000 yen in specie and several swords. An investigation is declared to have shown that the famed deity of Omotokyo, who is believed to reside in a cave in the mountains, was found leading to the residence of Watanabe Deguchi, adopted son of the woman who was the founder of the cult, and in his home were found chests laden with diamonds and rubies valued at $100,000. Firearms were found in the building.

EXPERTS EXAMINE CONTENTS OF CAPSULE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 11.—Five experts today were verifying their analysis of the glowing substance found in a capsule by one of Mrs. Murray's daughters in a Chicago Elevated train several days ago to establish it as the missing tube of radium for which a reward of $500 has been offered.

A chemist pronounced the substance a phosphorescent material of scant value, flashing the previous hopes of Mrs. Murray, who had read in the newspapers of the missing tube and the reward.

UNION HEAD CHARGES PLOT

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, declared today that he would prove to congress, if granted a hearing, that the standard set by the shipping board and the American ship owners in the present wage dispute with marine workers, was a part of an international plot to destroy American shipping.

"I have tried to get an official hearing on this international plot," he said, "and have been shut out. I tried to tell a committee of congress yesterday, and was not permitted to be heard. I have been informed by the press that the whole matter was referred by the president to Secretary Davis to make the statement. I and Hoover. That is the reason I am presenting a printed statement of facts to members of the cabinet and other officials."

"I have proofs that the terms which the shipping board told us to sign without granting us an opportunity to be heard, were agreed upon by the board and the ship owners until just before our agreement on April 1, while we were not called upon to sign it. A similar proposition was put to the Swedish and Norwegian seamen last winter."

"EVERYBODY DOING IT"

Statement Alleged to Have Been Made by Prof. Shaw to Dry Agent

BOSTON, May 11.—Louis Agassiz Shaw, instructor in the Harvard medical school, in whose Back Bay home prohibition enforcement officers reported finding an elaborate still in operation recently, was before United States Commissioner Hayes today charged with manufacturing liquor. Statements that "everybody was doing it," and that he saw no more harm in making liquor than in buying it, were attributed to Shaw by Richard A. Kelly, the agent who was in charge of the raiding party. Shaw told him, he said, that the results obtained from different kinds of mash were discussed among his social acquaintances and that there was much rivalry among them to see who could produce the best liquor.

Commissioner Hayes today announced he would hear further arguments tomorrow.

This statement was drawn out by the persistent reports from New York that an arrangement of this sort was under consideration.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

First Reports of Campaign

Made at Meeting Held

Yesterday

First reports in the Salvation Army campaign which opened here last Sunday for the purpose of raising $100,000 for the support of the local corps, were made at a luncheon of the corps at the rooms of the chairman of the committee, yesterday.

Three teams out of the ten organized were today to make a report and their total was $100. The other teams have not started to work efficiently but promised to have reports ready by the end of the week.

The feature of the meeting was the announcement of a study that the corps are preparing to put a strong team in the field and hope to do work similar to that which they did in the campaign a year ago, when the study survey organization raised $12,000 out of a total of $100,000 obtained in the Salvation Army drive at that time.

The lines have started their work with a contribution of $100 and hope to have a hustling team in the field tomorrow, to bring in more donations.

Dudley L. Page, chairman of the general committee, presided at the luncheon. The business session was preceded by a luncheon.

Secretary George F. Wells submitted figures showing the progress of the drive to date and said that the canvassers had that the public is responding as well as can be expected under present conditions, but that there are still many people who have not been approached. He said that the Rotary club had just started its efforts in the drive but was not yet ready to make a report. It hoped, however, to make an excellent showing. The police department also had a team at work which will report later.

It was the general opinion of the committee members that the public has not been aroused to the necessity of contributing at once in order that the campaign may be a brief and effective one. The committee will meet again either Friday or Saturday, at the call of the chairman.

Army's Annual Appeal

In more than 100 communities this week the army's annual appeal for funds with which to carry on its work for the coming year is being made by committees of leading business men. Instead of following the custom of past three years and making an appeal all over the country at a certain time, the Salvation Army this year is leaving it to each community to decide what date will be the most suitable for raising the quota.

The governors of all the New England states have individually endorsed the army's appeal. President Harding accompanied his endorsement with a check for $5000 and in every state and city throughout the east the most public spirited men and women have banded together to supply the funds that the Salvation Army might continue to prove, among other things, that "a man may be down, but he's never out."

"In asking the public of New England to supply us with funds to 'carry on' for another year, the Salvation Army can point with pride to its achievements during the past twelve months," said Col. William A. McIntyre, provincial officer of the New England states.

"Our records show that we have helped thousands of men and women through our industrial homes, maternity hospitals and rescue homes, slum posts, day nurseries, free hospitals and dispensaries and clinics, and in addition we have preached righteousness and true Americanism for hundreds of thousands from the street corners."

Colonel McIntyre also points out that the Salvation Army through its outdoor meetings reaches a class of people that are not touched by other churches or sects and who ordinarily would not enter a building to hear a sermon or lecture.

Commander Evangeline Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army in the United States, will visit the New England province during the middle of May to look over conditions and address meetings in Boston.

TO COMPEL JUDGE TO PAY $500 FINE

DENVER, Colo., May 11.—A writ of execution to compel Judge Ben B. Lindsey to pay a $500 fine assessed against him five years ago, was issued to the county clerk by District Attorney Van Cise's office today. The fine was imposed when Judge Lindsey refused to testify as to what a boy ward of his court had told him about a murder.

AVERAGE SALARY OF M. E. MINISTERS $1154

CHICAGO, May 11.—The average salary the Methodist Episcopal church pays its ministers is $1154, according to a statement made today by Dr. Joseph H. Hingley, corresponding secretary, at the annual meeting of the board of conference claimants of the church. Three years ago the average was $885.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF CHILD EMPLOYES

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Increase in the number of child employees in the United States has been almost proportionate to the increase in total population in the last eight years, according to the department of labor. Statistics compiled by the children's bureau show that 75,194 minors took out permits in 1920. The comparison with 67,165 in 1913, an increase of 12 per cent. The population of the 12 states increased 14 per cent in the same period.

EXPLAINS STAGNATION IN R. R. BUILDING

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Stagnation in railroad building in the United States must be attributed to the disparity between the cost of construction and the return to the investor, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific declared today in resuming his testimony before the state interstate commerce committee which is inquiring into the railroad situation.

"In 1920, only $2,284,000 went as a return to those who paid for the property while 60 times as much went to those employed on the railroads," he said. "This answers the question why don't we build more railroads?"

Efficient management, he insisted, was left but narrow limits within which to attempt a control of operating expenses in 1920 because of the many elements entering into costs over which it had no influence. Among these elements he included increases in wholesale prices of materials, the "outlaw" strike in April, 1920, restoration of adequate passenger service demanded by the public and a location of freight cars to oceanic rails. "The last item alone," he declared involved an increase of $25,000,000 empty car miles.

TULSA, Okla., May 11.—Two women were held here today in connection with the shooting and seriously wounding of Judge John Beveraux, former justice of the Oklahoma supreme court.

150,000 WILL BE FORCED OUT

LONDON, May 11.—Further indications of the seriousness of the coal shortage caused by the strike of the miners, which has been in progress since April 1, is furnished by the announcement that the Vickers Shipbuilding and Engineering works at Barrow, the largest concern in the United Kingdom, employing 150,000 men, will be forced to close at the end of next week, unless coal mining is resumed by that time. The iron and steel works of the plant already are shut down.

Complete closing of the Vickers plants would accentuate the unemployment situation notably and swell appreciably the total of unemployed men, women, boys and girls on the register of the labor exchanges, which at the end of April totalled 1,865,000, with the number working on short time, 1,671,000. These figures are exclusive of the 1,200,000 idle miners.

WERE HELD FOR BOARD BILL

SEATTLE, Wash., May 12.—Tommy Bradford, 9, and his sister Margie, 5, were prisoners of a landlady here for several weeks. She held them because their parents hadn't paid a board bill.

SISTER MARY SAYS

"DON'T CRUSH"

If strawberries are hulled and put into a colander, in the washed there is no danger of crushing them. Fill a big, deep pan half full of water and set the colander of berries into it. The berries will be lifted up by the water and float. Even very ripe berries may be washed this way and not be crushed. When clean skin them off of the water and drain.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Toasted pineapple, salt cod cakes with bacon, corn muffins, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Carrot fritters, white sauce, lettuce sandwiches, tea.
DINNER—Veal chops, twice baked potatoes, new beans with orange sauce, marshmallow pudding, devil's food cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes
Offer there are a few leaves of lettuce that are too scraggly to use in salad. These leaves, carefully washed and picked over, may be shredded and used in sandwiches to take the place of a salad for luncheon.

CORN MUFFINS
Two cups cornmeal, 2 cup white flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons lard, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups milk. Mix dry ingredients and rub in lard. Add eggs well beaten and milk. Bake in gem pans in a hot oven.

CARROT FRITTERS
Two tablespoons melted butter, 2 cup water, 2 eggs, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add milk slowly, beating to keep a smooth batter. Add yolks of eggs beaten thick and lemon colored. Add melted

LEGAL NOTICES
Chelmsford, Mass., April 9, 1921.
To the Middlesex County Commissioners:

I respectfully represent the undersigned inhabitants of the town of Chelmsford, in said County, that the River Neck Road, so-called in Chelmsford, which leads from Chelmsford Centre towards Billerica, is in need of relocation.

Wherefore, we pray that you will relocate said road.

JAMES LEO DOLLARD and four others.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Middlesex, ss.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners for the County of Middlesex, at Cambridge, in said County, on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, to wit, by adjournment at said Cambridge, on the twenty-seventh day of April, A. D. 1921.

On the foregoing petition, Ordered, that the Sheriff of said County, or his Deputy give notice to all persons and corporations interested therein, that said Commissioners will meet for the purpose of viewing the premises and hearing the parties at the Court House in Lowell in the County of Middlesex, on Monday the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1921, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, by serving the Clerk of said town of Chelmsford, with a copy of said petition and of this order thereof, thirty days at least before said view, and by publishing the same in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper printed at Lowell, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and also by posting the same in two public places in the said town of Chelmsford, fourteen days before said view, and that he make return of his doings herein, to said Commissioners at the time and place fixed for said view and hearing.

Wm. C. DILLINGHAM, Clerk.
Copy of petition and order thereon.
Attest: George H. Stevens,
A true Deputy Sheriff.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

ANNOUNCEMENT—
THE MEMBERS OF THE LADIES BRIDGE CLUB ARE GOING TO PRESENT AN OPERETTA BY LOCAL TALENT ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

AT GLENN HALL—THE DUFF FAMILY WILL BE PART OF THE CAST.

THE DIRECTOR CALLS AT THE DUFF HOME TO REHEARSE THEM IN THEIR LINES.

OWING TO THE FACT THAT IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO GET THE ENTIRE COMPANY TOGETHER AT ONE TIME I AM USING THIS METHOD OF REHEARSAL—GO PUT YOUR COSTUMES ON WHILE I CLEAR THE ROOM!

ARE YOU FOND OF AUTOMOBILES?

YOU SHOULD SEE THE TRUCK I'VE FOR LUNCH!

I HAD SOME OXTAIL SOUP AND I FEEL QUITE BULLY!

MY LUNCH WAS ONLY HASH AND I FEEL LIKE EVERYTHING PERFECT!
